

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

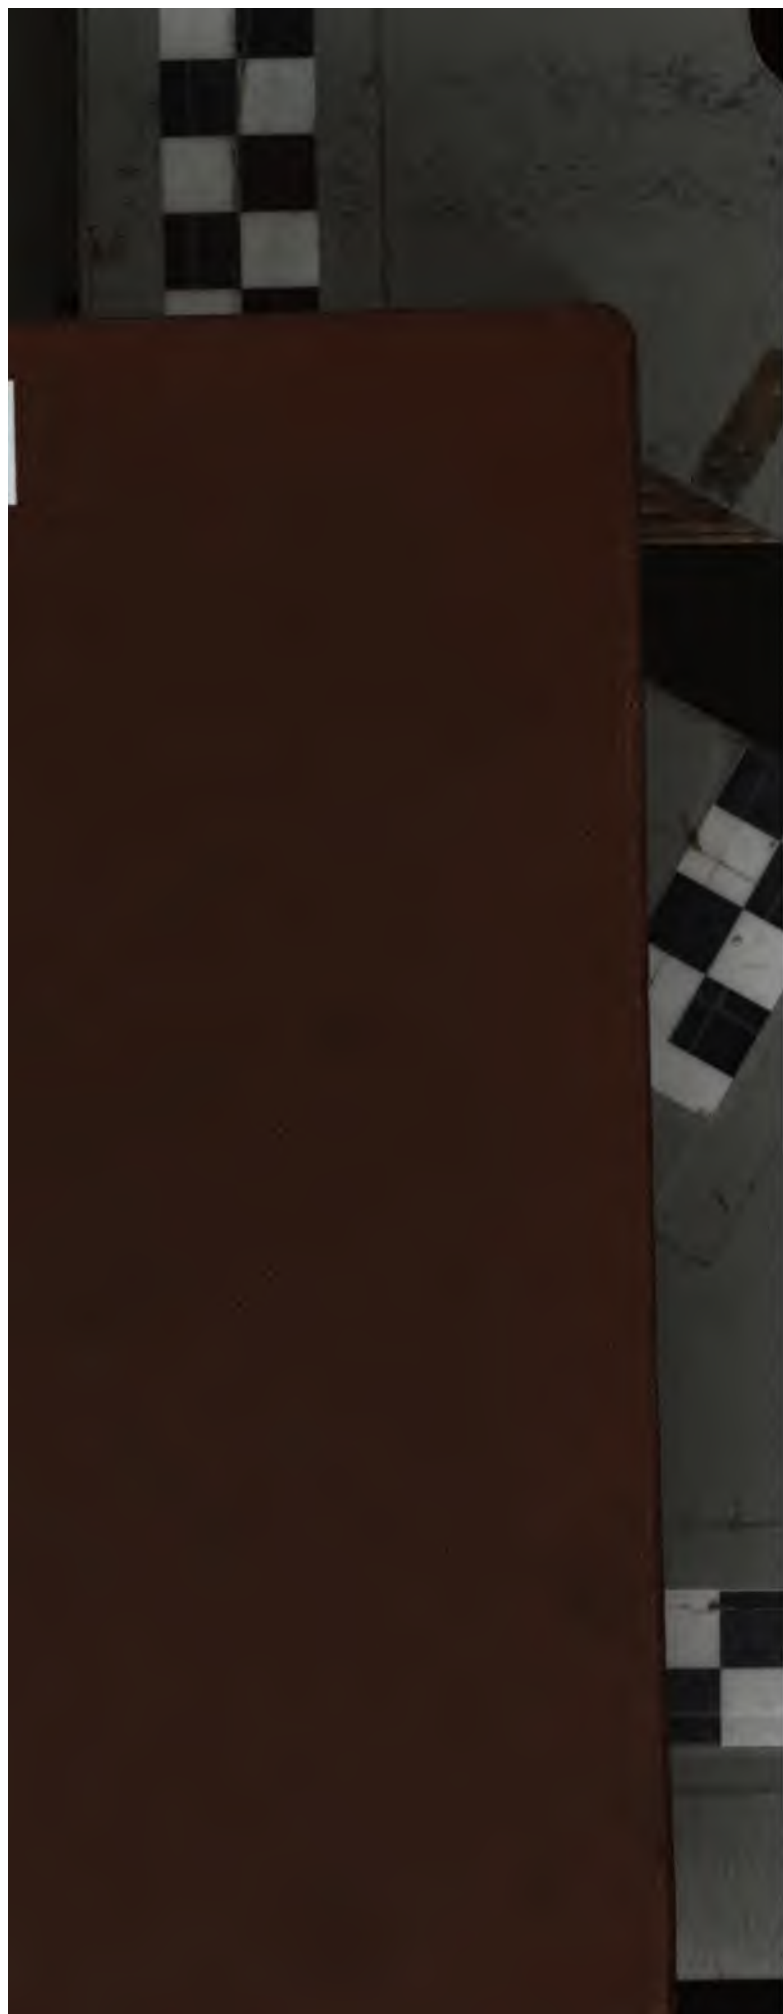

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

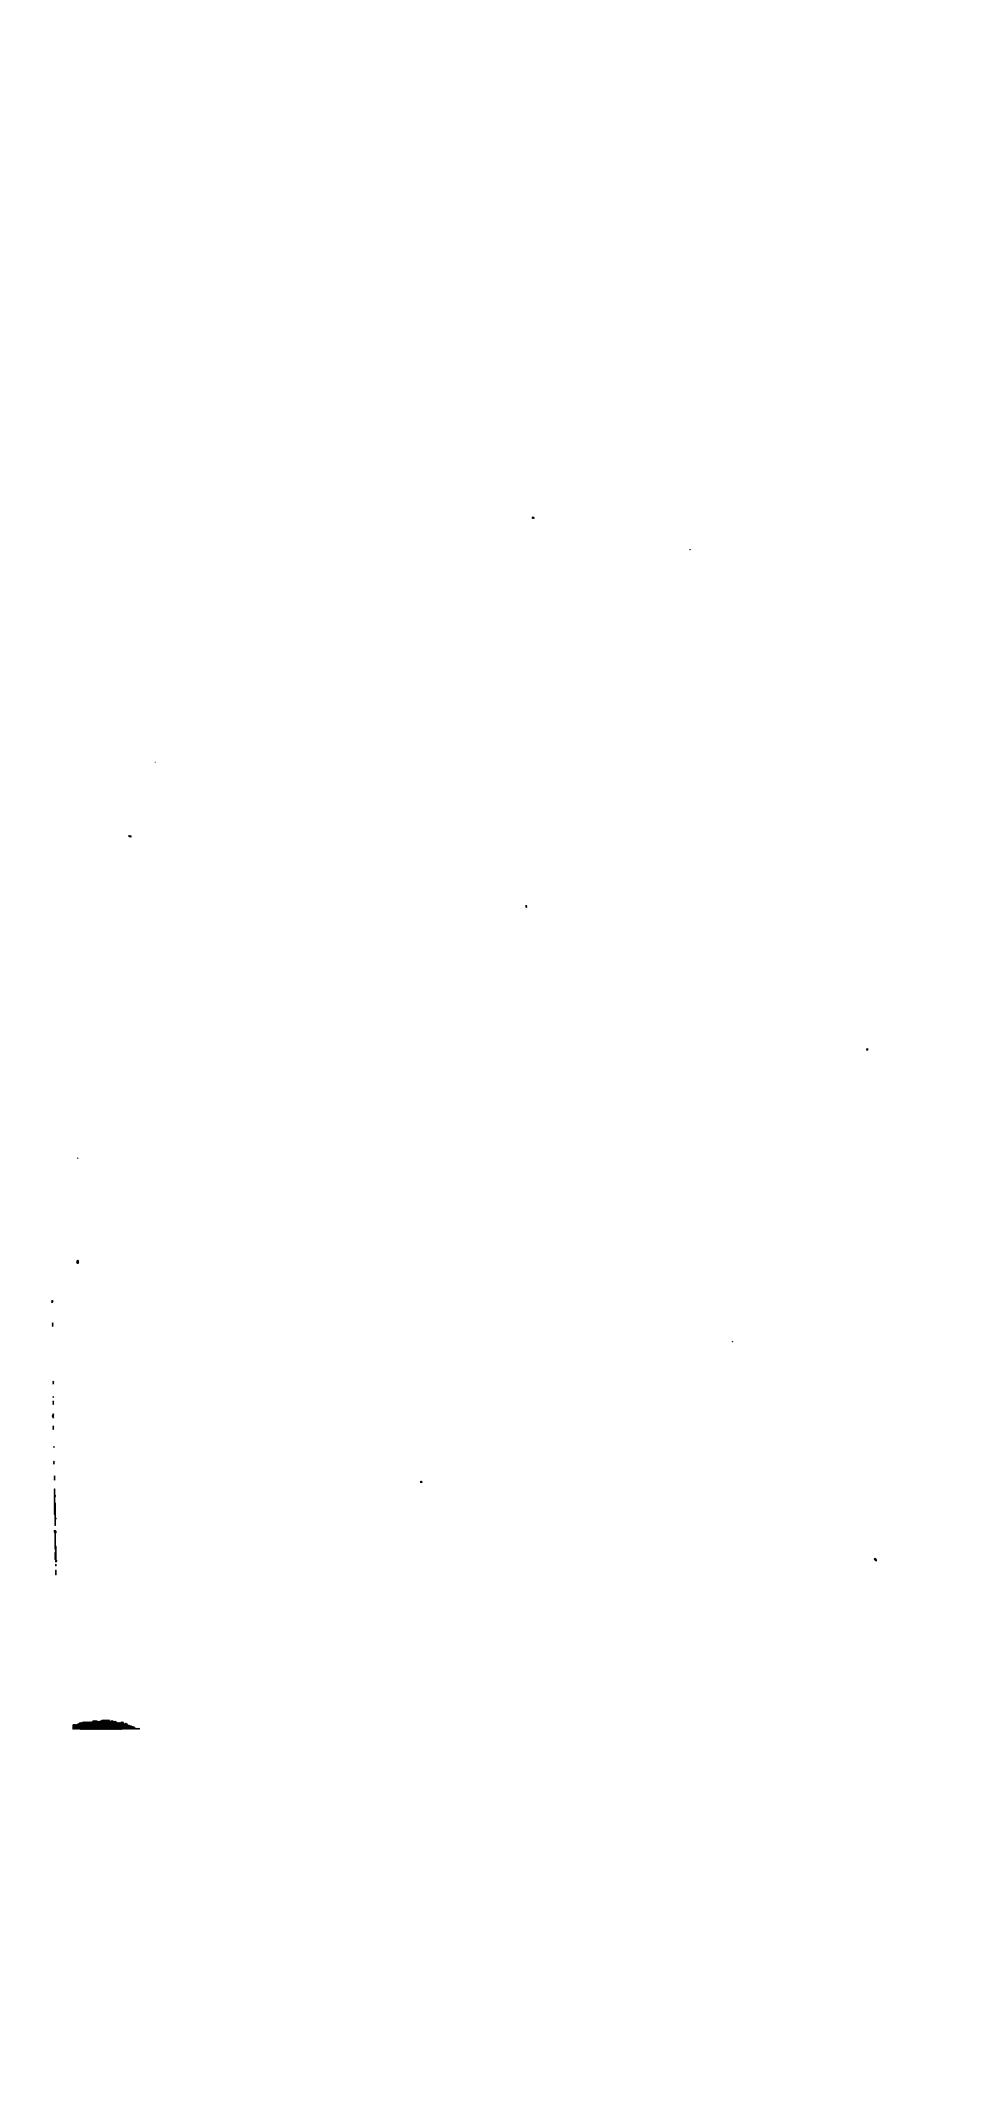

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. Camden, Tuesday, May 4, 1886.

This being the time and place designated by the Constitution of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of New Jersey for the meeting of the Annual Convention of said Church, the Bishop and a number of the Clergy and Laity assembled in St. John's Church, Camden: when, Morning Prayer having been said at nine o'clock, at half past ten the Bishop began the Order for the Administration of the Holy Communion, in which he was assisted by the Deans of the two Convocations and the Rector of St. John's Church.

The Secretary then proceeded, under the direction of the Bishop, to call the names of the Clergy entitled to seats in the Convention.* He also called the names of the Lay

* For the names of the Clergy present at this Convention, see List of Clergy, p. 10.

Deputies from parishes which had sent in certificates of election in accordance with the requirements of the Canon, and which, in accordance with the requirements of the Constitution, had not failed for two successive years to pay their conventional assessments;* and reported that there was present a constitutional quorum, both of the Clergy and of the Laity.

The Convention at one o'clock took a recess till 2.30 p. m.

ST. JOHN'S GUILD HALL,
Tuesday, 2.30 P. M.

The Convention re-assembled, the Rt. Rev. the Bishop in the Chair.

Mr. James Parker, Chairman of Committee on Testimonials of Lay Deputies, reported as in due form, the certificates of St. Stephen's, Beverly ; Grace, Crosswicks ; Grace, Westfield ; St. Mary's, Colestown ; and the Deputies of these Churches were, upon his motion, admitted to seats in the Convention.

On motion of the Rev. C. M. Perkins, the Rules of Order were suspended, that he might present, on behalf of the Committee on Proposed Canons in reference to Trust Funds, their Report, which was read as follows ; and upon his motion the proposed new Canons were referred to the Committee on Constitution and Canons.

REPORT.

The Committee to whom was referred the whole subject of the Trust Funds of the Diocese, beg leave to present the following report :

The Trust Funds of the Diocese are of two kinds and held in two different ways. The Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund, and the Widows and Orphans Fund are held by trustees appointed by the Convention but not incorporated. The Episcopal Fund is held by Trustees who are incorporated. With this we have nothing to do. The Missionary Fund, amounting to $23,734.81, is in the hands of the Treasurer of the Diocese. (See Journal, 1885.) With these three funds it is our business to deal as wisely as possible. For over a year now it has been possible for the Convention to have boards of trustees incorporated to hold these trust funds, and administer them subject to the direction of the Convention. It is a question whether the Convention prefers to have a separate board of trustees for every trust fund, or whether it shall choose to have one board hold the different funds. Your committee do not feel competent to do more than recommend that the different funds shall be held by trustees who shall represent each of the funds, in such a way that they may have a corporate body to be their custodians. It may be even thought desirable that one set of trustees shall be elected to hold two separate funds, until such time as the Convention shall be ready to elect new persons into the office of trustees. If we adopt this plan, then it will be wise to have the Trustees of the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund act as trustees of the Widows and Orphans Fund, for the present, but to be incorporated under two separate titles. The Missionary Fund should have a separate board of trustees who shall administer the trust according to the intention of the donors of the fund.

There is needed also a Board of Trustees of Church Property who shall be able to receive and administer certain trusts which may be given to them. This Board ought to take charge of all funds belonging to charitable or educational institutions, or of defunct institutions or parishes that may have lapsed by removals, or death, or otherwise, and such like trusts. For the government of these different boards of trustees, it is necessary to have canons; and the following canons are proposed for the government of them. They consist of a Canon for the general government of all the trustees, and then each board has a Canon for its special guidance. In this way, we are able to know the mind of the Convention. Your Committee would recommend the passage of resolutions authorizing the incorporation of the different boards of trustees after the Canons have been adopted for their government. They would recommend the passage of the following resolutions :

Resolved, That the following proposed Canons, to constitute Title VI. of Diocesan Canons, be referred to the Committee on Constitution and Canons, and that the Convention choose one Board of Trustees each for the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund, for the Widows and Orphans Fund, for the Missionary Fund, and to be the Trustees of Church Property.

Resolved, That for the present the Trustees of the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund be incorporated and act as Trustees of the Widows and Orphans Fund.

J. F. GARRISON,
C. M. PERKINS,
JAMES PARKER,
R. S. CONOVER,
C. G. GARRISON, Chancellor.

HOWARD RICHARDS,
Treasurer,
Elizabeth, N. J.

The Secretary of the Convention presented and read his report as follows :

REPORT OF THE SECRETARY.

The Secretary respectfully reports, that, as directed by the last Convention, he caused to be printed and distributed 750 copies of the Journal. These were sent to the Bishops, Registrars and Secretaries of other Dioceses; to the Librarians of various institutions of learning applying for them, or to whom they had hitherto been sent; to editors of Church periodicals ; and to the several Parishes and Mission Stations in New Jersey.

In the case of some parishes, the number furnished fell short of the requirement ; and the Convention will perhaps think it expedient to increase the edition in future.

One thousand copies of the Centenary Memorial having been sent by the Committee to the Secretary, he had 750 of them bound up with the Journal.

Of the remainder he gave so many copies as were requested, respectively, to the Bishop, the Preacher, and the Rector of Christ Church, New Brunswick, and single copies to numerous other applicants, and has still on hand 135 copies, subject to the order of the Convention.

Of the edition of the Constitution and Canons printed in 1884, there is a large balance in the Secretary's possession, and copies will be furnished, on application, to any of the clergy or lay-deputies.

Through the kindness of two clerical brethren, the Secretary was able to complete a file of Diocesan Journals from 1872 to 1885 ; and these numbers have been bound in three volumes, thus completing the set belonging to the Convention. Several urgent requests have been received from prominent members of the Church for back Journals, to complete their sets : especially those of 1848, 1852, 1858, 1869, 1872, are wanted. These, or any of years earlier than 1878, the Secretary would be glad to receive from any of the Clergy or Laity who may have them to spare.

The Secretary has furnished the Registrar of this Diocese such copies of Journals of other Dioceses as have been sent to him during the year.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

E. K. SMITH.

Camden, May 4, 1886.

On motion of Mr. B. F. Levis it was Resolved, That the thanks of this Convention be tendered to the Finance Committee of the Centenary, held last year in Christ Church, New Brunswick, for the able manner in which they discharged their duty, and that they be requested to pay over to the Bishop the unexpended balance in their hands.

Mr. Woodward Warrick presented, and the Secretary read, the following Report of the Committee appointed to sell the Baynes property. [See Journals of 1883, pp. 49-51, and 1884, p. 62.]

To the Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of New Jersey.

The subscribers, a committee appointed to sell the Baynes property, beg leave to report as follows :

Shortly after the last session of this body your committee made an agreement with one Hiram E. Langrehr to sell to him the said property provided a decree of the Court of Chancery could be obtained authorizing the same ; the said Langrehr agreeing to pay the sum of fifteen hundred dollars, part cash and part mortgage, provided your committee would cause a clear and marketable title to be conveyed to him.

Upon opening the question of title it was found from an examination of the several deeds from John Baynes to the late Bishop Doane upon which the title of the Diocese to said premises rests, that they had all been defectively drawn, and that they each conveyed to said Doane trustee only a life estate and not a fee simple—so that in law the title of the Diocese to said premises ended with the death of Bishop Doane. This was the opinion of Chancellor Runyon communicated to your Committee.

Your Committee, after consultation with Bishop Scarborough, and after obtaining the necessary resolution from the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund, filed a bill in Chancery to effect if possible the reformation and amendment of said deeds of conveyance. To the suit thus begun the heirs and personal representatives of John Baynes were made parties, and by the order of the Chancellor were advertised to defend the suit. No appearance was entered by or for any of them and on the third day of March last a decree was entered reforming said deeds and vesting in the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund, said lands in trust for this Diocese.

The title to said lands having been perfected, your Committee applied to the Chancellor for permission to sell and convey the same pursuant to said agreement ; fortunately a statute on our books, but a few years old, was construed to cover the case and after the adduction of testimony and the presentation of the matter to the Court of Chancery a decree was finally made authorizing said sale to be made and regulating the mode of payment and providing that the fees and costs taxed in both suits and ordered by the Chancellor to be paid in the Court of Chancery, be paid out of the fund by the undersigned, Woodward Warrick, the trustee appointed by the Court in compliance with the statute. The amount of these costs was one hundred and sixty-eight dollars and fifty-four cents; the expense of recording the mortgage was two dollars and fifty cents; the balance of cash arising from said sale is three hundred and twenty-eight dollars and ninety-six cents, which, with the purchase money mortgage of one thousand dollars to the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund in trust will be transmitted to that body. The order of the Chancellor is that the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund shall hold the principal and pay over the interest as ordered by the Diocese.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

W. WARRICK,
C. G. GARRISON.

On motion of Mr. James Parker, the thanks of the Convention were extended to the Committee.

On motion of the Rev. Dr. Garrison, it was—

Resolved, That the net proceeds of the sale of the Baynes property be paid over to the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund, to form a part of the Principal of the said Fund.

The Rev. E. K. Smith, Chairman of the Committee on Reprint of Early Journals, presented and read the following Report :

The Committee on Reprint of early Journals, [See Journal of 1885, pp. 54, 55,] respectfully report that they have discharged the duties assigned them so far as their powers extended ; having visited the Convention of Northern New Jersey, conferred with its co-ordinate Committee, and communicated, for the second time, by circular, with all the Clergy and several Laymen of our own Diocese.

But no further aid in the undertaking has been rendered by the Northern Diocese ; our own subscriptions have been but slightly increased, and the prolonged delay may materially reduce their amount.

As your Committee are not authorized to incur debt or risk of debt, they are compelled to the conclusion that unless this Convention, or its members, shall largely add to their former subscriptions, the purpose must be given up.

With a view of determining the will of the Convention, they offer the following Resolution :

Resolved, That the Committee on Reprint of Early Journals be discharged from further consideration of the subject.

ELVIN K. SMITH, Chairman.
RICHARD B. POST,
FRANCIS MANY,
LEVI W. NORTON.

The Rev. C. M. Perkins offered the following amendment to Canon II., Title II.; which, upon his motion, was referred to the Committee on Constitution and Canons:

In section 3, strike out the word "male" in the second line, so that the Canon will read "attendants," instead of "male attendants."

[This section declares the qualifications of voters at parish meetings.]

Mr. J. F. Cabot offered the following:

Resolved, That it is the sense of this Convention, that there should be a new committee of eminent liturgical scholars on the Revision of the Prayer Book, appointed by the General Convention, its membership not to be restricted to members of the General Convention.

On motion of the Rev. Mr. Cullen, this resolution was laid on the table.

On motion of the Rev. A. B. Baker, it was Resolved, That it be recommended to the Parishes of the Diocese to make an annual contribution to a fund, to be known as the Bishop's Fund for the Promotion of Theological Education; and that this Resolution be printed on the cover of the Journal of the Convention.

The Rev. L. W. Norton, upon the recommendation of the Standing Committee, presented the following Resolution, which, upon his motion, was adopted:

Resolved, That fifty dollars be paid to the Chancellor of the Diocese, Charles F. Garrison, Esq., for his services during the past year.

The Rev. R. G. Moses offered the following amendment to Canon II., Title II., section 3, and upon his motion it was referred to the Committee on Constitution and Canons:

In sub-section [3] strike out the word "written."

[This sub-section declares the conditions of a right to vote in Free Churches. They are received as worshippers on their own written request.]

The Rev. E. M. Rodman moved, and the Convention adopted, the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the Committee on Constitution and Canons, together with the Chancellor of the Diocese, be instructed to take such action as may seem best, in order to procure an amendment to the Act of the Legislature "Concerning the registry and returns of marriages, births and deaths," that shall more effectually prevent illegal marriages.

Resolved, That the Convention of Northern New Jersey be requested to co-operate in this action, and that the Committee on Constitution and Canons bring the matter to the notice of said Convention.

The Secretary gave notice of a meeting of the Christian Knowledge Society, immediately after the close of this afternoon's session of Convention.

The following resolution was presented and read by the Rev. E. M. Rodman, and on motion of the Rev. C. M. Perkins laid upon the table.

Resolved, That this Convention approve of the objects of the Society of the Treasury of God—namely, the introduction of a purely voluntary individual tithing for religious and charitable purposes; and hereby recommend the appointment of an Honorary Organizing Secretary for this Diocese, it being understood that he is to work in harmony with the Rectors of Parishes.

The Convention then took a recess.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH,

TUESDAY, 7.45 P. M.

The Convention re-assembled for its Missionary meeting. After Evensong by the Rector and Choir of St. John's Church, the Bishop addressed the Convention and congregation upon the Missionary work of the Diocese. The Deans of the two Convocations of Burlington and New Brunswick made their annual Reports, and Mr. Benjamin Smith read his statement, as Treasurer of the Convocation of New Brunswick.* Missionary addresses were made by the Rev. Dr. Langford, General Secretary of the Board of Missions, and by the Rev. J. Thompson Cole, of Tokio, Japan.

Offerings were received for Diocesan Missions ; and the service was concluded by the Bishop, with Prayers and Benediction.

The Bishop appointed as tellers for the Clerical vote, the Rev. J. D. Hills, and the Rev. J. L. McKim; for the Lay vote, Mr. J. A. Dix, and Mr. B. T. Bright.

The Rev. Dr. Hills offered the following preamble and resolution, which were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS this Convention has heard with great regret of the protracted illness of the Rev. Dr. Tidball, Rector of St. Paul's Church in this city, by which he is detained from the work of his parish and his presence with us, therefore Resolved, That we hereby express our sympathy with Dr. Tidball in his affliction, and that the Secretary be directed to forward this resolution to him in the name of this Convention.

On motion of the Rev. Mr. Lamb, the credentials from St. Mary's Church, Colestown, were referred back to the Committee on Certificates of Lay Deputies for a revision of their report. That committee subsequently reported, through their chairman, that the certificate was correct, and that no testimony had been offered to the committee tending to invalidate it.

The Rev. R. B. Post offered the following amendment to Canon II., Title II., Section 2:

Add after the word "chosen," "In case more than the required persons shall have a majority of votes, a sufficient number of those having the highest votes shall be declared elected."

The tellers on the election of the Standing Committee reported that the clergy had elected the Rev. Dr. Garrison, the Rev. Mr. Norton, the Rev. Mr. Baker and the Rev. Mr. Perkins, and their choice was approved by the Laity; and that the Laity had elected Messrs. Conover, Swift, Woodward and Wilson; and their choice was approved by the Clergy.

The election of Deputies to the General Convention being in order, the following nominations were made: The Rev. Drs. Garrison, Franklin, Hills, Weld and Watson; the Rev. Messrs. Glazebrook, Cullen, Rodman, Oberly and Phelps; Messrs. Wilson, Pugh, R. S. Conover, Thomas, Many, Richards, Carpenter, A. DeVoe, Grubb and Osbourn.

The Bishop appointed the Rev. R. G. Moses and the Rev. W. O. Embury tellers of the Clerical vote, and Messrs. B. F. Carter and J. B. Osbourn tellers of the Lay vote.

During the absence of the tellers the report of the Committee on Constitution and Canons was read and discussed.

The tellers reported, as the result of the first ballot, that the Clergy had elected the Rev. Drs. Garrison, Franklin and Hills to be Clerical Deputies to the General Convention; and their choice was, on motion of Mr. Many, approved by the Laity; and that the Laity had elected Messrs. Pugh, Conover and Carpenter Lay Deputies, which choice, on motion of the Rev. Mr. Phelps, was approved by the Clergy. On subsequent ballots the representation was completed by the election of the Rev. E. M. Rodman, by the Clergy, and Mr. James Parker, by the Laity; the choice in each instance being, on motion, approved by the other order.

The following nominations were then made for Supplemental Deputies: The Rev. Messrs. Murray, Smith, Oberly, McAllister, Norton, Cullen and Baker; Messrs. Gauntt, Collingwood, Swift, Grubb, Many and M. B. Taylor.

The Rev. E. K. Smith presented the resolution appended to the report of the Committee on the Reprint of Early Journals, asking to be discharged from further consideration of the matter. The resolution was, on motion, lost, and the committee was continued, Mr. Francis Many being appointed in the place of the Rev. R. B. Post.

The present Committee on Episcopal Residence, Messrs. Browning, Wilson and Williamson, were re-nominated, and by unanimous consent the ballot was dispensed with, and these gentlemen re-elected.

Mr. J. Howard Pugh, chairman, read the following

REPORT OF THE FINANCE COMMITTEE.

The Finance Committee beg leave to report that they have made their estimate for the current expenses of the Diocese for the fiscal year, and they offer the following resolutions :

Resolved, That the Canonical assessment of 7 per cent. be made upon the salaries as reported of incumbents of parishes that have not given their bonds to the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund.

Resolved, That an assessment of 2½ per cent be made upon the parishes to meet the necessary expenses of the Convention.

The Committee recommend that the request of Trinity Church, Red Bank, for remittance of $8 on account of Convention expenses be granted. The Treasurer reports that he has been unable to make any settlement with St. Luke's Church, Metuchen. The Committee have authorized the Treasurer to make the best settlement he can with St. Paul's Church, Trenton, and St. Luke's, Roselle.

The Committee recommend the increased assessment of 2½ per cent for Convention expenses with great reluctance, but the expenses of last year having exceeded the assessment by $140, and an increased allowance having to be estimated for this year of $306, for the canonical assessment towards defraying the expenses of the General Convention, the increased assessment is unavoidable. The Committee regret that they are unable to recommend any appropriation towards paying the expenses of Deputies to the General Convention.

J. HOWARD PUGH,
CHAS. EWAN MERRITT,
JOHN N. CARPENDER,
J. H. THOMPSON,
F. S. CONOVER.

The resolutions appended to the report were, on motion of Mr. Pugh, adopted.

The tellers reported the following as elected by the Clergy on the first ballot to be Supplemental Deputies to the General Convention: The Rev. E. K. Smith, the Rev. A. B. Baker, the Rev. G. M. Murray; and this choice of the Clergy, on motion, the Laity approved; by the Laity, Messrs. F. Gauntt, M.D., and Francis Many; approved by the Clergy.

On subsequent ballots the Clergy elected the Rev. Thomas H. Cullen, and the Laity elected Mr. McRee Swift and Mr. Howard Richards; the approval of the other order being, in each case, given, on due motion.

The Rev. Dr. Garrison moved to suspend the rules of order so as to allow a change in Rule XXIV. The order being suspended; the hour of meeting, after recess, was made at 2 P. M.

On motion of the Rev. Mr. Baker, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That the Secretary be authorized to have 900 copies of the Journal printed, and distributed as usual.

Resolved, That this Convention return its very cordial thanks to the Rectors, Wardens and Vestries of St. Paul's, St. John's, and the Church of our Saviour, for their admirable arrangements for the business sessions of the Convention; and to the churchmen and churchwomen of Camden, generally, for their very generous hospitality extended to the members of the Convention.

The Rev. T. M. Reilly offered the following resolution, which, after some discussion, was laid on the table:

Resolved, That a Committee of seven Clergymen and seven Laymen be appointed by the Bishop, to take into consideration the necessity, if any, for the division of this Diocese into two or more dioceses, and to report to the next Convention.

A recess was then taken, till 2 o'clock.

The Committee on Constitution and Canons, report that they have considered the proposed Amendment to Canon II., Title II., viz., In Sec. 2, strike out the word "male" in the second line, so that the Canon will read "attendants" instead of "male attendants;" and they deem it inexpedient to make the amendment.

On motion, the report of the Committee was adopted.

The Committee also reported a series of Canons concerning Trust Funds, entitled Title V., Canons I., II., III., IV., V., which, on motion, the Convention adopted.

They have also paid for the painting of the outside of the Church—neglected for 16 years. I have held service and preached in the school room as often as possible, being an average of two Sundays in each month. I regard the movement as tentative, but not without promise of success. An efficient and judicious lay reader, could render me needed assistance at the present time.

This report dates from the 21st of March, 1886. The church property is in good condition; but the state of the Mission is very sad. Formerly it was a strong parish, now a congregation of 15 persons is considered a good one. The church only exists, and unfortunately there is no probability of local growth. Whatever increase there may be in the future must be through new people coming to the town and country about Matawan.

The expenses of removing and re-erecting the church were met by the aid of large contributions from without the parish prior to May 1st, 1885, but no statement has been made till now. During the present year the lot of ground, south of the church, has been secured and paid for with a view to the building of a Rectory or Sunday School. Since moving my school here to live amongst these people, to whom I had been ministering eighteen months previously, I have been holding services on Sunday evenings also, and in the week. Their interest in their Church, venerable in years, seems to me to be increased. It is the least that is due to them that I should notice here the kindness of their reception of us. Eight or nine teams were put at our service to move us without expense to us, and time and labor spent freely to aid us. We found fires burning in the Parsonage, and the Parish of old St. George's in the house (with others even, "not of this fold,") waiting to welcome us with a feast of fat things.

The Rev. John L. Egbert resigned the rectorship of this Parish last July. The present Rector assumed temporary charge 1st Oct. and was instituted Rector January 3rd. During the interregnum the Parish became badly disorganized. This fact will account for the falling off in the offerings reported. The lost ground has been recovered, and the confidence of the people restored. The officers of the Parish have secured for a Rectory, the house occupied by Rev. Mr. Egbert ; Dr. Adams (ever a true friend to the Parish) himself giving $800 from his price ; thus selling the property to the Parish for $2,200. We have agreed to pay $1,000 of this by 1st of June. Our Easter offering for this object in money and pledges amounted to something over $500.

CLERICAL REPORTS.

From Clergymen canonically resident, but having no cure in the Diocese, the following reports have been received :

THE REV. GORDON M. BRADLEY :

During the past year I have done no Clerical duty.

THE REV. V. BRUCE :

During the past year I have not officiated publicly, deeming it more prudent to husband what little physical strength I may have.

THE REV. N. H. BURNHAM :

Since my last report I have rendered such services, or given to my brother clergymen such assistance, as from time to time have been requested of me. Besides officiating in the Diocese of New Jersey, I have also officiated in Connecticut, Northern New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania.

THE REV. F. B. CHETWOOD :

I have officiated occasionally in Divine Service and the administration of the Holy Communion, and have buried one adult. I have also been acting under an appointment of the Board of Managers of the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society, since October, as an assistant to the General Secretary of the Board.

THE REV. W. R. EARLE :

From March until August, by appointment of the Bishop, I was in charge of the Church of the Holy Comforter, Rahway, since then I have officiated in various parishes about Westfield ; have assisted in the Holy Communion 22 times ; preached 22 times ; solemnized one marriage and attended 3 funerals.

THE REV. JOS. F. GARRISON, D. D. :

In fulfillment of my duties as Professor of Canon Law and Liturgics, I have lectured to the classes in the Seminary six hours each week, during the term time of the Divinity School. I have also held public services and preached thirty times since my last report; married ten couples, administered private Communion once, and attended two funerals.

THE REV. LOUIS K. LEWIS :

After my return from Europe, where, with the kind permission of the Bishop, I was absent from June, 1885, to March, 1886, I have, also with permission of the Diocesan, been assisting the Rector of St. Luke's, Germantown, Pa.

THE REV. DE WITT C. LOOP :

I began Church services in the village of Atco in November last, and have held them since, every other Sunday evening, by the courtesy of the Presbyterians, in their House of Worship. The village numbers 250. The Offertory collections have amounted to $25.79. The attendance varies from 20 to 50. Eight children have been baptized. From the Bishop White Prayer Book Society we have obtained 25 Prayer Books and Hymnals. The music and responses are well rendered. These are the first services of our Church in Atco.

THE REV. THOMAS F. MILBY :

During the Convention year I have preached 67 times, baptized one child, buried two persons, and married one couple. Since my ordination to the Priesthood, I have celebrated the Holy Eucharist 22 times in Calvary Church, Flemington, where I was serving as Missionary from October to May, and three other times, in Missions of the Diocese.

THE REV. WM. B. OTIS :

I am still residing at Clifton, Va., near Washington, D. C. I have no regular charge, but occasionally, whenever called upon, assist my brethren in preaching, attending funerals, and such other duties as I may be called upon to perform. My health is so far restored as to enable me to take work whenever required.

THE REV. CHARLES M. PYNE :

During the last Convention year I have continued as an Assistant Minister in Christ Church, Elizabeth, and done such duty as has been assigned me by the Rector. I have also done duty elsewhere when called upon. I have officiated 135 times; celebrated or assisted at the Holy Eucharist 42 times; preached 44 times; Baptisms, 2; Burials, 5; Marriages, 1—all of which are elsewhere reported.

THE REV. JOHN ROWLAND:

THE REV. CHARLES M. STEWARD:

I have not been engaged in regular Clerical duty during the last Convention year. I have celebrated the Holy Eucharist a number of times at Trinity Church, Trenton, and have also preached twice at St. Michael's Chapel, and once at Christ Church Mission, Chambersburg.

CANON I.

Election and Duties.

SECTION 1. The Trustees of every Diocesan Fund, or property, shall be elected by ballot, and shall be for the term specified in the Act of Incorporation.

SEC. 2. The Trustees of every fund, or property, shall keep a book of minutes as a record of their proceedings, and all their acts shall be entered in such book as soon as passed by them. These books, together with the accounts of the Trustees, shall always be subject to the inspection of the Bishop, and of the Standing Committee, if required.

SEC. 3. Each Board of Trustees shall present to each Annual Convention a detailed statement of the Fund in its possession, with the additions or changes made, so that the Convention may know of its trust funds; and they shall also exhibit the securities for inspection, when required by a committee appointed by Convention, or by the Standing Committee, if there be no special committee.

SEC. 4. The disbursement of the income of Trust Funds shall be as directed by Canon. And the same order shall apply to property held in trust for the Convention.

CANON II.

SECTION 1. An annual collection is recommended to be made on Thanksgiving Day, or on some Sunday near thereto, in every Parish and Mission in this Diocese, for the relief of clergymen disabled by age or disease.

SEC. 2. All contributions and donations for this object shall be transmitted to the Treasurer of the Fund, and shall be applied by him as hereinafter provided.

SEC. 3. Ten per cent. of the amounts contributed from each of the Parishes shall be reserved by the Treasurer, and this, with any money unappropriated at the end of each Conventional year, shall be added to the principal of the Fund, and invested, and so held by the Treasurer of the Fund. The interest on the principal of the "Fund for Aged and Infirm Clergymen," together with the special donations and the balance after the above deduction from the contributions of the several Parishes and Missions received during the Conventional year, shall be subject to the order of the Standing Committee of the Diocese, and, on written recommendation of the Bishop, may be appropriated by the committee for the relief of clergymen disabled by age or disease. Those who shall be entitled to an appropriation from the Fund are Ministers of Parishes, or Missionaries, who have been canonically connected with the Diocese for two years immediately preceding their application for relief, and have spent at least two successive years in the active discharge of the duties of the Ministry, or the work of Christian education, as specified in Article IV., Section 2, of the Constitution, within the limits of the Diocese. No Minister of a Parish, or Missionary, shall receive an appropriation from this Fund who has not taken two consecutive annual collections in his Parish or Mission Station for this Fund. At any time a failure to make two such successive annual collections shall disable him from a participation in its benefits until he shall have again renewed his claim by two collections, as at the first.

SEC. 4. The Standing Committee shall have power, with the concurrence of the Bishop, expressed in writing, to appropriate from the interest of the "Fund for the Relief of Aged and Infirm Clergymen," or from the collections and donations received during the year, a sum not exceeding seventy-five dollars, towards defraying the funeral expenses of any clergyman belonging to the Diocese.

SEC. 5. All appropriations (unless otherwise ordered), shall be payable semi-annually. The Treasurer shall report to each regular meeting of the Standing Committee the amount of the contributions and interest received, the amounts of appropriations made, and the condition and investments of the principal of the Fund.

SEC. 4. Appropriations from this Fund may be made to those families of clergymen of this Diocese, who have been such for three years previous to their death, and have been contributors to this Fund, if holding tithes in the Diocese.

SEC. 5. All appropriations shall be payable semi-annually, unless otherwise ordered; and the appropriations from the Fund shall be open to the inspection of members of the Convention, if asked for.

THE † EPISCOPAL † ADDRESS
TO THE
ONE HUNDRED AND SECOND
ANNUAL CONVENTION;

IN ST. JOHN'S CHURCH, CAMDEN,

May ~~APRIL 4~~ 1886:

BY

BISHOP OF THE DIOCESE.

TOGETHER WITH OFFICIAL ACTS AND NOTIFICATIONS,

And the Reports of the Deans of Convocations.

TWELFTH ANNUAL ADDRESS

OF THE

Rev. John Scarborough, D. D.,

BISHOP OF THE DIOCESE.

"Grace, mercy, and peace, from God our Father and Jesus Christ our Lord," be unto you, dear brethren of the clergy and of the laity, as we meet each other once again, to take sweet counsel together and advance the Church's work. The last Annual Convention was a most fitting close to the century of organized work that lay behind us. The occasion was emphasized by a dignified and proper observance in the venerable parish, where the first Convention was held. The Committee which had the arranging of all the details, and did its work so well, determined that some memorial of an event so important should be placed in Christ Church, New Brunswick; and accordingly a chalice of solid silver, properly inscribed, was procured and given to the parish. The proceedings, as published in the Journal, will be of lasting interest and value both in the Diocese and out of it, long after our day. One of the Bishops of our Church, whose commendation I prize very highly, in writing to me for a copy of the pamphlet, separate from the Journal, says: "The sermon and accompanying papers are of very exceptional importance to the student of American ecclesiastical history." A sentiment which I am sure all who have carefully examined them will most heartily endorse.

We set our faces toward the new century, and begin to make its history, with high hopes and cheering prospects. I can see no obstacle in the way of steady growth, if we adhere to the traditions of the past, and maintain the standard of loyalty which has hitherto given New Jersey an honorable name and place in the American Church.

I desire here and now to thank those who, by the gift of labor, time or money, contributed to the success of our Centenary celebration. The two Dioceses within the State were drawn into closer accord by it, and the bonds of brotherhood were strengthened, as we remembered together the trials and successes of a common ancestry. One who contributed his full share to the occasion, and who took a generous pride in all that concerned the interests of the Church in his native State, is not with us to-day to listen to any poor words of thanks which I can offer. On the 27th day of July, last, as I returned home from my work of the previous day, a telegram was waiting for me, with the sad announcement of the sudden death of the Rev. Nathaniel Pettit, President of the Standing Committee, and long time Rector of Christ Church, Bordentown. To say that I was deeply grieved would not tell all my feeling. More than ten years of brotherly and neighborly intercourse had made him very dear to me. He was the truest and most manly of men. His genial, sunny nature made him welcome everywhere. He will be missed in the councils of the Diocese and of the Convocation, whose Secretary he was, from the beginning till the time of his death. His brethren of the clergy will miss his familiar face and presence, but I am sure none of them will miss him more than his Bishop does! On the 30th of July we laid his mortal part to rest, beside his wife, in the quiet Church yard which he loved, and in the very spot which he had himself chosen. As his brethren in goodly number, and his sorrowing people, with the greater part of the population of the city, stood round that open grave in tears and silence, it was a scene never to be forgotten, a tribute of affection which any man dying might well covet for himself. Few men possess his singularly magnetic power in drawing and influencing others. In all my intercourse with him, I never heard from his lips a depreciating word of a brother. If he must condemn, he always did it gently, stretching the mantle of charity to its utmost. During the Octave of "All Saints," we met again in the Church, which stands in its strength and beauty as his monument, to hear from his warm friend of many years, the Rector of St. Mary's, Burlington, words of truthful, loving eulogy, which have been printed by the vestry, and widely read. And again we stood round that new-made grave, covered with sweet flowers, the tokens and types of their love, who had known him as pastor and friend, to thank God for the good example of His servant departed, and to ask for grace that we might follow him in his living and his dying. While Mr. Pettit was unflinching in his loyalty to his own Church, he was always fortunate in having "a good report from them which are without." Among the many tributes paid to his memory, none is more beautiful and touching than that which came from one who had been for years his neighbor, as the Baptist minister of the town, but who had recently conformed to our Church, partly through the influence of Mr. Pettit's life and example. I quote a single sentence only: "As one who labored for years just over the way, I could not help observing the steady, faithful and consistent course of the Rev. Mr. Pettit. And now that I have been convinced of the excellence of the Church which he so devoutly esteemed, I can assure you that his Christian example comes back to me with special force." To those familiar with all the facts in the case, these are remarkable words. The man over the way sees in the uneventful life of this man of God, a peacefulness, and a calm content which he has not in his own daily work. He seeks for the better way and finds it. On the 27th of December, amid the joy and gladness of the Christmas-tide, I set apart with solemn service a very beautiful Altar erected to his memory by the teachers and children of the Sunday School. In the good providence of God his place has been admirably filled by one who is not a stranger in the Diocese. The workers fall, but the work continues, because it does not depend on human agencies.

The name of another, who was well known and distinguished in the Church, has disappeared from the clergy list during the past year. The Rev. Dr. John Murray Forbes was resident in this Diocese, though not canonically in it. He died in the city of Elizabeth on October 11th, where three days later I buried him. His career was most remarkable. Many years ago he forsook the mother that bore him, the Church at whose altars he had ministered, and entered the Priesthood of the Roman Church. But he very soon found he had made a grievous mistake. There was so much that he could not approve, in the methods of working, as well as so much that was untrue in the teachings of that body, that his conscience finally revolted, and he was glad to seek again the fold from which he had strayed. He died in the Communion of the Catholic Church, steadfast in her pure faith, truly penitent for the wrong he had done her, and rejoicing in the assurance of reconciliation and pardon.

On Thursday of the Holy Week just past, the Rev. N. Sayre Harris, a venerable servant of God, more than four score years old, and a Presbyter of this Diocese, passed from earth to Paradise, at the residence of his son, the Rev. J. Andrews Harris, D.D., Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia. Mr. Harris was ordained Deacon in May, 1837—fifty years ago lacking one—by Bishop Henry M. Onderdonk. For a long time he had not been equal to much active duty. At Easter-tide each year it was his wont to visit the graves of his dead in the City of Trenton. There, on Easter Monday last, amid the resurrection joy of the Church, his body was laid to rest with its kindred dust. His life in its closing years was singularly calm and peaceful, quite apart from the stirring issues that force themselves on most of us.

Three Bishops have found the rest of Paradise in the past year, and three Dioceses have been bereft, Easton, Florida and Missouri. Bishop Lay was a man of very rare gifts and graces. The Church owes much to his clear head and sound judgment. He was largely, if not chiefly, instrumental in restoring the unity which war had broken. His Diocese may find a successor, but his place in the House of Bishops will be hard to fill.

Bishop Young of Florida was a man of different type, and his strength lay in quite another direction. The music of the Church has felt the influence of his fashioning hand. He took a most lively interest in the proposed alteration of the Prayer Book, and contributed largely of his store of Liturgic learning, to a wise direction of the movement. Bishop Robertson of Missouri has been taken away in the very prime and vigor of his manhood. The strain put upon him in the past year was too much for a sensitive nature like his to bear. I have no desire, by the side of his open grave, to rake the slumbering embers of the fire that so recently burnt with fierceness. He was, I believe, a man of most sterling integrity, incapable of doing another an intentional wrong. As he needs no defence from human lips to-day, I will offer none. But who can tell his silent sufferings under unjust criticism, which prepared the way for the disease that held his life in suspense for weeks past! The voice of detraction cannot reach him now. May God raise up as good a man in his place!

I have spoken of the diminishing of our clergy list by death. The names of three others have been stricken off by their own voluntary act and wish. On the Feast of SS. Simon and Jude, in Trinity Church, Trenton, I solemnly deposed the Rev. Wallace W. Lovejoy, and the Rev. Caleb J. Peace, Presbyters, and the Rev. Joseph R. Trimble, Deacon. I will not enter publicly into the details of an act that cost me much of pain and mortification. Three per cent of the clergy was too large a loss for a single year. Fortunately there was not the scandal of an ecclesiastical trial, and none of those displaced from the ministry claim the crown of martyrdom from either Bishop or court. I take blame to myself for having conferred Holy Orders on at least one of these without demanding sufficient previous knowledge. Whatever view we may take as to the usefulness and desirability of the permanent Diaconate, it has not yet won the confidence of the Church as a practical expedient. There are exceptions, I know very well; men faithfully and acceptably doing ministerial work, and at the same time earning their daily bread in some secular calling. But I can easily understand, as in the case now in my mind, how the ministerial "caste" may be a great drawback and hindrance to the success of the business career of one who, as a godly layman, might do good service for the Church.

To offset these losses I have received nearly twice as many Letters Dimissory as I have granted during the year. I have added but one by ordination. On St. Barnabas' Day, in St. Mary's Church, Burlington, the Rev. Dr. Hills presented a son for ordination as Deacon, while another son, a Priest of the Diocese, preached the sermon. Such a scene is rarely witnessed, and such happiness as that day filled the heart of the Rector of St. Mary's is not often vouchsafed to mortals. When in the ordering of God's good Providence he shall lay his burden down, younger hands will take it up, and stronger shoulders carry it. And when his lips are sealed and silent, the message which he delivered to men, will be continued. Surely the gift of two sons from one personage, to serve before the Altar of God, ought to put to silence the old-time saying about clergymen's sons!

Indeed, it is a significant fact that of the eight candidates for Priest's Orders in this Diocese all but two are sons of clergymen, and had their early training in the best of all schools. I am happy to add that all my candidates for Priest's Orders, with a single exception, are college graduates. I know very well that a diploma in the Arts cannot be made a substitute for brains or common sense, but I know also that the young man who has had the advantages of a liberal education has the chances strongly in his favor.

I have one candidate for Deacon's Orders, and five Postulants. It goes without saying that some of these young men need help in their struggles. They receive nothing from Societies. I very much prefer that what they get should come to them through the Bishop's hands. We sometimes hear the ministry compared with other professions, to their disadvantage, as scholars. But whatever the facts may be, I know that a young man can enter the ranks in either medicine or law with far less of time consumed in preparatory work than it takes to get into the Priesthood. I encourage all my candidates to take the fullest time in getting the harness on, and often I am sorely perplexed to find means to aid them.

We hear much of the falling off in candidates and ordinations. But have those who deplore the sad fact done anything to remedy it? Look through our last Journal of Convention, and tell me how much the whole Diocese contributed to Theological Education? Look at the reports of your own parishes. As a rule you will find our Diocese is doing next to nothing to supply the waste in the ranks of the ministry. I ask for $1,000 during the coming year to enable me to encourage young men, whose parents have not the means of maintaining them through seven or eight years of continuous study. The Clergy, especially those who have not given sons, or have not sons to give, ought to take shame to themselves that they are not doing more for ministerial education; and the layman, with means to do it, loses the greatest opportunity of his life, if he fails to put a substitute in the clerical ranks.

The past year has not been marked by any very large ventures in the way of Church extension, and yet there has been progress in many directions, which should cheer and encourage us for the future.

On May 7th, immediately after the adjournment of the Convention, I formally opened Christ Church, Palmyra, with appropriate religious services. The building had been consecrated before its removal from Riverton. It retains its name and identity unchanged, and stands in the very centre of a growing community. Additional land has been bought and paid for, so that a Rectory and Sunday School room can be built at any time.

August 25th I consecrated Christ Church, Toms River. The Rev. W. N. Dunnell, who twenty years before held the first missionary service in the place, preached the sermon. An indebtedness of $2,000 was cancelled by two generous laymen, Mr. Thomas B. Gilford and Mr. John P. Haines, thus making the gift of this beautiful property to God an occasion of great joy to all who knew of early efforts and failures to establish the Church in Toms River.

September 8th, I consecrated the Church of the Holy Communion, Fair Haven. This very pretty and well-planned Church owes its origin mainly to the missionary zeal of the Rev. Wm. O. Embury. His venerable Father, the Rev.

Edmund Embury, preached the consecration sermon, in the presence of the Convocation of New Brunswick.

On the following Sunday, St. George's Church, Rumson Neck, was consecrated, the Rector, the Rev. Wm. O. Embury, thus presenting two Church buildings in one week for consecration, an event unprecedented in the history of the Diocese. Though St. George's had been in use for several years, a heavy mortgage debt remained on it. This was paid off through the zeal and perseverance of Mrs. Wm. E. Strong, who has laid the Diocese under very great obligation. The Rev. Mr. Parkman, the first Rector of the parish, was present; and it seemed most fitting that he, of all others, should be privileged to share in the joy of the day.

On the 27th of the same month I formally opened St. Wilfrid's Chapel, Cramer Hill, a suburb of Camden. The chapel is very plain and modest. Its consecration was not thought advisable, as it is hoped before long a Church will be erected, and the chapel used for Sunday School and parish purposes. The Rev. Joseph P. Taylor, who held the first service in Cramer Hill, donated a piece of land, which is deeded in fee simple to the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund. The foundations of a strong parish are being laid here with rare wisdom.

Oct. 29, St. Andrew's Church, Lambertville, improved and beautified inside, was hallowed by a service of benediction. Most of the chancel furniture is new. This parish is accumulating a Rectory fund, and I have since confirmed twenty-one persons, showing that there is spiritual as well as temporal prosperity given to it.

Nov. 7, I consecrated St. Barnabas' Church, Mantua, an event of more than ordinary interest to me. I hereby very gratefully acknowledge the generous gift of contributions from the members of the last Convention, to repay all advances made for the property. I have held two confirmations during the year, and the work is more than meeting all my expectations.

Several parishes have built chapels for their outlying mission work. Christ Church, Elizabeth, has St. Paul's Chapel and a thriving Sunday School. St. John's, Elizabeth, has purchased a property with a house on it, which is used for religious purposes. St. John's, Camden, has St. Barnabas' Chapel in a neglected part of the city, with at least one other in contemplation.

St. John the Evangelist's, New Brunswick, has greatly enlarged its borders, nearly doubling its size, and at the same time increasing the usefulness of the parish. The Doane Memorial Chapel, South Amboy, has been removed to a most eligible site and a Sunday School room added. St. Peter's, Perth Amboy, has been decorated very richly throughout. Trinity, Asbury Park, has felt the hand of improvement within and without. Her memorial gifts, in the chancel, are as handsome as any in the Diocese.

Christ Church, Woodbury, has acquired by purchase, not only a Rectory, but two additional buildings, the rent of which will more than pay the interest on the cost. The parish has thus gained control of an entire block or square, right in the heart of the town. The venture I regard as a wise one, though there is a debt remaining.

Glassboro and Gibbsboro are both about to begin the building of Rectories, and several other parishes are moving in the same direction. I need not again commend the wisdom and desirability of every parish owning its Rectory or parsonage house. I rejoice that the number is constantly growing.

In the City of Camden there are just now more signs of life and activity, than in any other quarter of the Diocese. St. Paul's abandoned the thought of quitting the old site for another, and has built in the rear of the Church a parish house that seems to lack nothing that can add either to comfort or convenience. A new chancel is almost finished: new pews and a middle alley are to follow. In a short time there will be little of the old church remaining, except the walls.

St. John's, where we are assembled, has still more to show in the way of progress. I reported last year the consecration of the Church, freed from debt, and the erection of a parish-building. I have already referred to St. Barnabas' Chapel, and you see a beautiful stone Rectory growing daily. While on one side of the Church you see the Workingmen's Club, now numbering some six hundred members, on the other side you may see the gymnasium and rooms fitted up for the use of the youths, who are thus kept away from places of amusement that are objectionable, and find even their recreation under the shadow of the Church's walls. There are three or four mission Sunday Schools, all the outcome of earnest lay work, as the Rector has not an assistant to help him. The change wrought seems to me little less than marvellous. The parish has taken on proportions that were not so much as dreamed of a few years ago. Of course there are here the elements to work upon and work with. There is a great and growing city of sixty thousand people, with constant drift and change. Many of them have no fixed religious beliefs, and will be found of those who seek them most faithfully.

On the morning of Ash Wednesday, word came to me that St. Paul's Church, Bound Brook, was burned, set on fire doubtless by some evil disposed person. Nothing was saved from the flames. The insurance on the building and furniture was only $1,300: one thousand of which goes to cancel a mortgage, and the balance will be held as the nucleus of a building fund. The little band of churchmen are not disheartened by their loss. They have secured the use of a hall in the centre of the town, and are holding services regularly. Let a helping hand be extended to them in their time of need, for they will not be able to rebuild without aid.

This loss of a Church building by fire prompts me to remind wardens and vestrymen how important it is that they look carefully to the insurance of the Church's property, of which they are the lawful trustees and guardians. To save a little money vestries, I am afraid, sometimes take risks on Church property, that they would not on their own. Loss in such a case would be little less than a crime.

Last Autumn I sent out an appeal to all the parochial clergy, asking that the offerings of their Sunday Schools for the four Sundays in Advent might be sent to me to help in building Churches or Chapels in destitute places. I hoped to receive at least $500, and with this sum to stimulate local effort so as to secure one additional Church edifice—and to do this every year. Twenty-five of the Clergy responded favorably, sending me a little more than $200. By adding somewhat to this, I hope to see, before the end of the year, a pretty little Church built at Riverside, that will cost $1,500 or $2,000. Land is already bought and paid for. Under the Rev. Mr. Stryker of Beverly, services have been held in Riverside for some years in an humble upper room, now quite too small. The settlement is mostly German, and ours being the only English service in the place, attracts the young especially. I sincerely thank those who listened to my plea. This year again, God willing, I will repeat it, and I hope in time to see the custom firmly established in the Diocese. Surely none will think my request an extravagant one. I will make formal acknowledgment of all sums put in my hands, when the next Advent appeal is issued.

Sixteen parishes in all have contributed to my "Trust Fund" a net sum of $445.13. The largest gift was $200, and the smallest $1.60. Besides these gifts from parishes,

I have had several individual offerings—some for specific or designated objects—but all with the Scriptural injunction added, “See thou tell no man.” I wish the sixteen Rectors who have obeyed the Resolution of the Convention, as printed on the inside cover of the Journal every year, could know the comfort and joy I have had in acting as their almoner: and I wish the more than sixty others could know how many opportunities for doing good they compel me to pass by! What alms are to the Rector of a parish, this fund is to the Bishop of the Diocese.

I have confirmed in the Diocese, 707; and in the Diocese of Pennsylvania, 259; total, 966. Every year there is more and more of carefulness on the part of the Clergy in preparing candidates for Confirmation. The great majority of those presented, become at once communicants, as they ought to, and the per cent of loss is small. I cannot help noticing now and then the want of carefulness in little matters of detail, that perhaps were not thought worthy of attention in comparison with the greater things involved. I have seen a whole class, for instance, come forward without their Prayer Books, so that they could not take part in prayers and responses which the service intended should be specially for them. It was just enough to confuse the mind and distract the thoughts, at the supreme moment, and so to diminish and mar the real pleasure and beauty of the service. A little forethought on the part of the Rector, and a few words of timely counsel would have spared the candidates embarrassment. I am most thankful that my own part in the solemn service has never become a mere duty perfunctorily done, nor sunk to the level of a cold, lifeless routine, without heart or interest. My dread of this has been in part my safeguard. As I realize the importance of the step for each individual soul, the blessing and grace to be won or missed, my interest never flags, and my acts, I trust, are never mere official forms. This adds greatly to the joy of my labors, and lightens the burdens of office wonderfully.

I have ordained but one Deacon and three Priests—one of these for the Bishop of Pennsylvania—and yet our clergy list has never been so long. Including myself, there are one hundred and two canonically resident, and four are laboring in the Diocese by my consent, without being transferred to it. Calvary, Flemington, St. John's, Somerville, St. Luke's Roselle, Grace, Elizabeth, Holy Cross, Perth Amboy, Trinity Hightstown, Ascension, Gloucester, St. Thomas', Glassboro' St. Peter's, Medford, are vacant. In most of them service are maintained, either by lay-readers or temporary supplies of clergymen.

I am sorry to say that Christ Church, South Amboy must soon be added to the list of parishes vacant. The Rev Mr. Post, after years of faithful ministration, has accepted work in the neighboring Diocese of Northern New Jersey. He will carry away with him not merely the love of his people but the affectionate regrets of his brethren all, with whom he has been associated so long. None will miss him more than I.

The Rev. Dr. Langford resigned St. John's, Elizabeth to take the very important place of General Secretary to the Board of Managers, charged with the conduct of Domestic and Foreign Missions. No office in the whole Church is more important. Most reluctantly, I felt constrained to advise his acceptance of the trust, because I thought him admirably fitted for it. Time is proving my judgment right and I predict for our Mission work a growing interest and enlarged giving. Dr. Langford retains his place in the Diocese, I am glad to say. We bid welcome to his successor in the venerable parish—sure that every interest will be well sustained. We are richer and not poorer for the change.

On the first of June last I was privileged to take part in one of the grandest services ever witnessed in the American Church—the consecration of the Cathedral of the Incarnation, Garden City. It was to the Bishop and Diocese of Long Island a consummation long waited for, but most glorious when it finally came. There are that be called Cathedrals, many, but this one approaches more nearly than any of them our ideal in beauty and grandeur. It is well endowed with land and money. It is surrounded with most magnificent school buildings, and the Bishop's house, which might be called, without much exaggeration, a palace. Mrs. Stewart has reared her husband's monument in a form that will last through the ages, and be like a fountain of living waters springing up for the refreshment of that island Diocese. Every Bishop cannot have a Cathedral as grand and imposing, but I am convinced every Bishop ought to have a Church which he can call his own, where he can have the ordering of services, and at times taste the joys and blessings of pastoral work. If the way were open in this Diocese for even a modest beginning, I should deem myself fortunate; or if some one possessing great wealth were to imitate Mrs. Stewart's noble giving, I should rejoice with exceeding great joy. The land adjoining the Bishop's house was reserved for a Church site, but as the drift of population is away from it, by common consent it is not now deemed the best place. In Chambersburg there are nine or ten thousand people, far from the parish churches of Trenton, and until quite recently not so much as a mission Sunday School established. It is in contemplation to build a chapel, for which a fund is gradually accumulating, and if the Diocese were so minded, this might in time grow into a Bishop's Church, doing the work, even if it did not at once take on the grand proportions, of a Cathedral.

The approaching General Convention will undoubtedly be the leading event of the year for the members of our Church. Some are looking to it with hope and some with forebodings, not that there is any party strife in the air, or any danger to be feared from discords and contentions. The changing of the Prayer Book is the one absorbing topic in the mind of the Church. There seems to be no general agreement as to the changes most desired, some preferring one and some another, while still others deprecate all changes, and say with emphasis "the old is better." If all action should be deferred for three years, the Church might be the gainer. Delay will be safer than hasty or unwise legislation. I am inclined to think that a consensus of opinion in the whole Church would decidedly favor certain changes in Morning and Evening Prayer and some of the Offices. But the Book Annexed, as a whole, will not be favorably received. Indeed, this will not be demanded. One of our own Deputies, who has done his full share of the revision, has stated the case very clearly. A number of separate and distinct propositions are before the Church. Any one or more of these may be adopted without change or modification, and having met the constitutional requirements, will become at once a part of the Liturgy. Any one or more may be voted down, or amended and laid over for three years more. Thus I am sure there will be changes wrought in the direction of a wise liberty. Never has the work of a committee been so closely scanned in Convention and out of it, and never, perhaps, has a report stood the test of criticism better. Much that has been said and written against it has been wide of the mark. The very first resolution of the committee, not to touch any doctrine, was a most wise limitation and safeguard.

Whatever the final action of the next General Convention may be, I am sure the discussion of the whole question has been a great boon to the Church. Many, who like Galileo cared for none of these things, have become apt scholars in Liturgics, and the whole tone of the Church's worship has been elevated and improved.

The election of deputies will devolve upon this Convention. If it is becoming a grave question as to the entertainment of so large a body, outside of three or four sea-board cities, it is also becoming a serious problem, for the clergy especially, as to how they can afford to leave their parochial work for a whole month, and pay their own expenses beside, while serving the Church at large. Some method of relief must be adopted soon. A lesser number of deputies is suggested by some. Provinces are urged by others, so as to lessen the distances and cost of travel. If the General Convention, as at present constituted, were to meet on the Pacific coast, and all the members were to attend, the cost of transportation alone would be a very large sum. It seems to me the fairest way, until some relief is provided, is to levy a small tax on each parish, extending over three years, and thus defray in part at least the expenses of those who are chosen and sent to serve in the Church's great council. It is either this, or else we must seek out deputies, not with reference to their ability and fitness, but because they have private means. I should be glad to see Provinces accomplished fact, in some practical way, but it will take time to work the change, if it ever comes. I trust this Diocese will not deem it a great burden to do what other Christian bodies about us have long done.

A question germane to the meeting of the General Convention is that of the Enrolment Fund. It was a thought worthy of the man, when good Mr. Fuller of Philadelphia conceived the plan of two hundred thousand men, women and children of the Church, pledging and paying each $5. for Missions, to be presented at the opening service of the next General Convention, as a thank offering to God for a century of mercies. Not a penny of the money contributed is to be diverted for any purpose. The Committee of laymen, who have voluntarily undertaken the task, pay all the cost out of their own pockets. I do hope our own Diocese will not be neglectful of her duty in this matter. Some of the parishes have already done nobly. Others have not yet made a beginning. The time for organizing is now very brief. The Summer will soon be here, when the people scatter, and before they are fairly back from sea-side and mountain, it will be too late, the opportunity will be lost. It will be a shame if this great rich Church of ours fails to accomplish what she has undertaken. The distribution of the Fund will be in safe hands. The Board of Missions can be trusted to deal fairly in spite of the disheartening cry already sent up, that some may get less than their share. Brethren of the laity, this is a layman's undertaking, see to it that your names are enrolled among the two hundred thousand. If the effort fails, it will be from sheer indolence to press its claims.

Still another question that is clamoring for the ear of the Church is a demand for a court of final appeal, for clergymen condemned in Diocesan Courts. Certain painful events of the past year, in more than one quarter, have called the attention of the Church anew to this matter. If one is to believe all the charges urged against Bishops and ecclesiastical courts, and published to the world in the newspapers, then I can only say it is a most sorry showing for the clergy, from the Bishop to the humblest Priest. A court of appeals made of such material would not be better than a lower court. The stream cannot rise higher than its source! I cannot for a moment believe that any man in the Episcopate would wilfully and knowingly set himself to wrong or ruin a brother minister from motives of spite or malice. And even if the Bishop were made of such stuff, I am loth to believe that any Diocese can furnish Presbyters enough to act as his tools, and bend to his will and wishes. The ground on which a court of appeals is demanded is, to my mind, most abhorrent and iniquitous. The rulings of civil courts on abstruse and obscure points of law may well be reviewed and reconsidered by a higher tribunal, but mere questions of fact, brought before a court of clergymen, with full power of rebutting testimony, and the right of challenge in the make-up of the court itself, can hardly claim the same right to be re-heard. Practically and personally it would be a relief to the Bishops to throw unpleasant duties and responsibilities upon others; but while I would deprive the unfortunate of no shield which law can give them, until I can see some better argument than has yet been put forth for a court of appeals, I am not in favor of adding cumbrous machinery to a code that is already heavily weighted. Each Diocese has the right under our existing canon to organize such a court of review: let that be done, and I am sure it will afford an innocent man all the protection he can need or demand.

I will trespass on your time with but one other matter concerning the interests of the Church at large. The past year has been marked by a very strong and determined movement in the direction of revival services, or missions, so called. Especially is this true in our large cities and centres of population. It is undoubtedly a sign of the Church's renewed life seeking to express itself in outward acts. It is the outgrowth of a desire on the part of the most earnest among the clergy and laity to extend a helping hand to those who have hitherto been but imperfectly reached by the ministrations of our Church. And while some of its methods have not seemed to me wholly commendable, and are at variance with my own tastes and habits of order and worship, I should be sorry to urge such a plea against a work which those best fitted to judge of, declare to be altogether good. It is too soon yet to measure its effect. And I question the wisdom of those who have, as I think, prematurely asserted publicly and with great positiveness the wonderful success of the mission. Our Church does not take kindly to new methods. Some have thought her too conservative. The old-time revival was, and still is, deemed by many a questionable good. Thousands have taken refuge in our Church in days gone by, to get away from a system of restless excitement, to find with us what they had failed to find elsewhere. I prefer to wait and watch the drift and tendency of the movement, before endorsing it with unqualified praise. We may gain, and we may lose, by the introduction of new and untried methods. I advise the clergy to caution in setting aside the Prayer Book for any other forms of devotion, or for no forms at all. That at least is not an experiment among us. There is a spirit of restlessness, in the Church and out of it, which is dissatisfied always with the present, and sees something better beyond. Let us learn not to disparage or despise the present with its opportunities and blessings. Neither let us condemn and exclude with inflexible stubbornness everything that is new. Even the Church must learn to change, and adapt her methods of working to the age. My only plea is for a wise conservatism, that will not take the risk of working harm, even while acting from the purest motive and the best intent. If the boat that carried Cæsar could not sink, the ship that carries Christ will safely ride the storms. Her pilots may be unskilled and careless, but an unseen hand will keep her off the rocks and quicksands, and bring her safely to haven. Let us face the untried future with cheer and courage. The work is ours, but the results are with God.

When I see how rapidly my own name is climbing up the list of living Bishops, I marvel at the changes of less than twelve years, and I am reminded that the time for work is very short. God help us each and all in our several stations to be more instant and more earnest in doing what we can while we may.

JOHN SCARBOROUGH, D. D.,

Bishop of New Jersey.

CONVOCATION OF NEW BRUNSWICK.

DEAN'S REPORT—1886.

We have nothing very wonderful to report of the work of our Convocation, during the past year, in the way of disaster or of advance. And this is true of the large majority of parishes and of most of our dioceses. And so it must be expected within the restricted limits of a Missionary Convocation, where the means at disposal are so small as scarcely to be sufficient to help on and keep up work already begun, and where opportunities for new ventures are not very numerous, and when occurring must often be allowed to pass, for want of means to improve them. A review of a longer period than one year, would show very marked advances in the growth of the Church.

We remember when we had no Church that we could call our own at Bricksburg, or Toms River, or Flemington, or Fair Haven, or Sand Hills, or Linden, or Scotch Plains. At all of these places there are now good and substantial, and in several instances, very beautiful Church edifices, that are filled, each Lord's Day, with devout congregations.

The only serious disaster that has befallen our work, during the year, was the burning of St. Paul's Church, Bound Brook, or more properly, Bloomington. But, as this little Chapel was located in what has, for a long time, been felt to be a very unfavorable position, whatever may have been said for it, when the Church was built, twenty or thirty years ago, and as the conflagration has resulted—through the payment of the fire insurance policy—in the liquidation of the mortgage, and in the obtainment of $300, wherewith to begin a fund for the erection of a new Chapel in a more desirable location, the calamity may be regarded as not wholly without relief. Under the leadership of the Rev. W. E. Wright, late Rector of St. John's, Somerville, a hall has been secured in the village of Bound Brook, in which services have been held, regularly, every Sunday since the fire, with very good congregations; and the outlook for the future growth of the Mission is encouraging.

All Saints' Mission, Scotch Plains, goes steadily on in the work of paying off its indebtedness, which was reduced about $400 during Lent.

At Hightstown, the debt on Holy Trinity Church has been paid. A stairway has been built and paid for, and other repairs have been made to the building.

The Rev. A. W. Cornell reports that the attendance at Holy Trinity Church, South River, of late has been very good and the prospects of the Mission are encouraging.

Mr. Smith reports that at St. Andrew's Church, Lambertville, there has been a slow but steady growth in numbers and spiritual strength; that Flemington greatly needs a resident Minister.

Mr. Rush reports the extinction of the debt on Christ Church, Toms River.

From the reports of the Missionaries, that have been sent to me, I gather the following statistics for the year:—

Families, $156 + 76 = 232$. Baptisms: adults, 21; infants, 54. Confirmed, 48. Communicants, 350. Communicants added, 48. Services held, 966. Contributions, $6,491.96. Sunday School Teachers, 42. Scholars, 292.

I have received no report from Scotch Plains, Keyport, Matawan, Bound Brook, Doane Memorial, South Amboy, and Piscataway. These would, of course, add largely to the figures which I have given.

Three of these Reports coming to me after I had added up the figures of the others, I proceeded to make a further addition from them to the sums total, and it was significant that in these three the number of services held were four more than those reported from the other eight Missions. In the three there had been 485, and in the eight 481. And the three are the strongest Missions of the Convocation.

And this suggests the enquiry whether the more frequent services have not had something to do in developing the greater strength. The weekly Eucharist and Daily Service are not possible or expedient in every Church or Mission, but they should be the goal, to which we are looking. And in our present practice we ought to approach it, as near as possible.

A service twice, or three times a week, if not daily, should distinguish the Lenten season. Questions of heat and light may enter in to check the Missionary's desire, in some cases, but he might gather a few of his little flock, in his own house, or in that of some member of the congregation, if it were not possible to do so in the Church, and we believe that good results would flow from the practice.

One of our Bishops once said that it was a sad sight to see so many Churches shut up for six days of every week.

From the review thus taken of the year's work, it will be seen that we are at least holding our own. But we ought not to be satisfied with that position. It is a singular fact that notwithstanding the very marked increase and growth of the Church in the Diocese, within the past ten years, the contributions to its Missionary work have been about the same, year after year. They were $5,647 in 1876 and $5,470 in 1885. A writer in one of the Church-papers stated recently that in the Diocese of Maryland, with nearly 23,000 Communicants, only $7,488 had been given, last year, for its Missions, and that five cents a week, one car-fare, given by each Communicant, would have amounted to $59,800. A similar gift from New Jersey's 9,170 Communicants, would yield $23,800.

Also, of the Convocations of the following Missionary Jurisdictions, viz.: Montana, New Mexico and Arizona, Northern California, South

Dakota (1885 and 1886), Utah and Idaho, Washington Territory, Western Texas.

And from the Rev. J. Leighton McKim, the Journals of the Conventions of the Diocese of Pennsylvania for 1829, 1842, 1857, 1859, 1862, 1866; together with "A Charge to the Clergy" of that Diocese in 1849, by the Rt. Rev. A. Potter, D.D., LL.D.

All which is respectfully submitted.

GEO. MORGAN HILLS,
Registrar.

May 3, 1887.

The Secretary of the Convention presented and read his report, as follows :

REPORT OF THE SECRETARY.

The Secretary respectfully reports, that, as directed by the Convention, he caused to be printed and distributed 900 copies of the JOURNAL. These were sent to the Bishops, Registrars and Secretaries of the Dioceses, and Missionary Jurisdictions ; to the Librarians of various institutions of learning; to editors of church periodicals; to numerous applicants in all parts of the country, and to the Parishes and Mission Stations of New Jersey.

The very small number of copies now left in his possession, and the increasing demand from our own Diocese, suggest the expediency of putting out an edition of 1,000, as was done three and four years ago.

Over 100 copies of the Centenary Memorial, and a large balance of the edition of Constitution and Canons of 1884, remain on the shelves of the Secretary, to be had, on application, by Clergy and Lay Deputies.

The Secretary has furnished the Registrar of this Diocese such copies of Journals of other Dioceses as have been sent to him during the year. He has also mailed to the clergy having cures in New Jersey, who have sent him the required amount of postage, copies of the Journal of General Convention, as supplied by the Secretary of the House of Deputies.

In accordance with the action of the last General Convention and the instructions of our own Bishop, the Secretary prepared a new form of blanks for Parochial Reports. Unexpected delays in printing these caused a very late distribution of the blanks, and with them, of the certificates of election of Lay Deputies. Whatever inconvenience to the Clergy or Parish officers may have resulted from this tardiness, the Secretary very much regrets.

The Secretary has received from the Secretary of the Convention of Central Pennsylvania, a copy of resolutions unanimously adopted in that body June 9, 1886, on the subject of Christian Unity; these resolutions having been ordered to be sent to the several Bishops of the Church and the Diocesan Secretaries. Also, a memorial to General Convention on the same subject, from the Council of the Diocese of Louisiana, bearing date May 5, 1886. The Secretary places these papers on the table with this report.

The Secretary would call the attention of the Convention to the fact that the corporate seal does not properly set forth the present construction of the Diocese; its inscription being, "Convention of the Prot. Epis. Church in New Jersey." He suggests the propriety of appointing a committee, or otherwise taking measures for having a suitable seal made.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

ELVIN K. SMITH.

New Jersey, May 3, 1887.

The hour of three having arrived, the Bishop of the Diocese read his THIRTEENTH ANNUAL ADDRESS.*

On motion of the Rev. Dr. Hills, it was

Resolved, That so much of the Bishop's Address as refers to the American Church Building Fund Commission be referred to a special committee of two, who shall report at the present Convention.

The Bishop appointed as the Committee the Rev. Dr. Hills and Mr. John N. Carpender, being the Commissioner of that Fund for New Jersey.

The Secretary of the Standing Committee read the following:

REPORT OF THE REGISTRAR.

The Registrar of the Convention, in compliance with Section 3, Article XII, of the Constitution of the Diocese of New Jersey, respectfully reports:

That since the report made to the last Convention, (see p. 122, Appendix No. III., JOURNAL of New Jersey, 1886) he has received the following, viz.: Journal of the General Convention, 1886; also, Journals of Conventions for 1886, of the following dioceses, viz.: Alabama, Albany, Arkansas, California, Central New York, Central Pennsylvania, Chicago, Connecticut, Delaware, East Carolina, Easton, Florida, Fond du Lac, Georgia, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas (1886 and 1887), Kentucky, Long Island, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Northern New Jersey (1885 and 1886), Ohio, Pennsylvania, Pittsburg, Quincy (1885 and 1886), Rhode Island, South Carolina, Southern Ohio, Springfield, Tennessee, Texas (1884, 5, 6), Vermont, Virginia, Western Michigan, Western New York, West Virginia, Wisconsin.

Also, of the Convocations of the following Missionary Jurisdictions, viz.: Montana, New Mexico and Arizona, Northern California, South

Dakota (1885 and 1886), Utah and Idaho, Washington Territory, Western Texas.

And from the Rev. J. Leighton McKim, the Journals of the Conventions of the Diocese of Pennsylvania for 1829, 1842, 1857, 1859, 1862, 1866; together with "A Charge to the Clergy" of that Diocese in 1849, by the Rt. Rev. A. Potter, D.D., LL.D.

All which is respectfully submitted.

GEO. MORGAN HILLS,
Registrar.

May 3, 1887.

The Secretary of the Convention presented and read his report, as follows :

REPORT OF THE SECRETARY.

The Secretary respectfully reports, that, as directed by the Convention, he caused to be printed and distributed 900 copies of the JOURNAL. These were sent to the Bishops, Registrars and Secretaries of the Dioceses, and Missionary Jurisdictions ; to the Librarians of various institutions of learning; to editors of church periodicals; to numerous applicants in all parts of the country, and to the Parishes and Mission Stations of New Jersey.

The very small number of copies now left in his possession, and the increasing demand from our own Diocese, suggest the expediency of putting out an edition of 1,000, as was done three and four years ago.

Over 100 copies of the Centenary Memorial, and a large balance of the edition of Constitution and Canons of 1884, remain on the shelves of the Secretary, to be had, on application, by Clergy and Lay Deputies.

The Secretary has furnished the Registrar of this Diocese such copies of Journals of other Dioceses as have been sent to him during the year. He has also mailed to the clergy having cures in New Jersey, who have sent him the required amount of postage, copies of the Journal of General Convention, as supplied by the Secretary of the House of Deputies.

In accordance with the action of the last General Convention and the instructions of our own Bishop, the Secretary prepared a new form of blanks for Parochial Reports. Unexpected delays in printing these caused very late distribution of the blanks, and with them, of the certificates of election of Lay Deputies. Whatever inconvenience to the Clergy or Parish officers may have resulted from this tardiness, the Secretary very much regrets.

The Secretary has received from the Secretary of the Convention of Central Pennsylvania, a copy of resolutions unanimously adopted in that body June 9, 1886, on the subject of Christian Unity; these resolutions having been ordered to be sent to the several Bishops of the Church and the Diocesan Secretaries. Also, a memorial to General Convention on the same subject, from the Council of the Diocese of Louisiana, bearing date May 5, 1886. The Secretary places these papers on the table with this report.

The Secretary would call the attention of the Convention to the fact that the corporate seal does not properly set forth the present construction of the Diocese; its inscription being, "Convention of the Prot. Epis. Church in New Jersey." He suggests the propriety of appointing a committee, or otherwise taking measures for having a suitable seal made.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

ELVIN K. SMITH.

New Jersey, May 3, 1887.

The hour of three having arrived, the Bishop of the Diocese read his THIRTEENTH ANNUAL ADDRESS.*

On motion of the Rev. Dr. Hills, it was

Resolved, That so much of the Bishop's Address as refers to the American Church Building Fund Commission be referred to a special committee of two, who shall report at the present Convention.

The Bishop appointed as the Committee the Rev. Dr. Hills and Mr. John N. Carpender, being the Commissioners of that Fund for New Jersey.

The Secretary of the Standing Committee read the following:

† Appendix, No. IV.

The Rev. Dr. Hills read the following:

REPORT.

The Special Committee, to whom was referred so much of Bishop's Address as relates to the "American Church Building Fund Commission," respectfully report that the "American Church Building Fund Commission" originated at the General Convention of 1880, and that at the General Convention of last year, 1886, it was unanimously

Resolved, That the Board of Missions, composed of both houses of the General Convention, renew the recommendation made in 1880, that every Parish of our Church contribute annually to the American Church Building Fund, until the full sum of one million dollars is secured."

The several reports of the Commission thus far show, that although the Fund has increased but slowly, yet it has already been able by system of loans to afford aid in over one hundred places where church buildings were needed. Indeed, far more money is required to meet even the most pressing applications. A special effort is now being made which has in view the increase of the Fund this year to at least $250,000. This can be accomplished, the income of that sum will provide for a number of gifts each year hereafter, as well as loans of principal. We earnestly commend this Fund to the Reverend Clergy and to the liberality of the laity, with respect to immediate offerings and to legacies, and recommend the adoption by this Convention of the following resolutions:

Resolved, That each and every Parish and Mission in this Diocese be requested to ask offerings each and every year for the "American Church Building Fund," until the sum of one million dollars be raised.

Resolved, That the Commissioners of this Building Fund from this Diocese be requested to report annually to this Convention the names and amounts contributed to this Fund in this Diocese.

All which is respectfully submitted.

GEO. MORGAN HILLS,
JOHN N. CARPENDER.

May 3, 1887.

The resolutions recommended in the report were, by motion, adopted by the Convention.

The Committee on Constitution and Canons report upon the several amendments referred to them in yesterday's session, [see pages 41, 42] and offered resolutions for the action of the Convention upon each proposed alteration, as follows:

i. Canon II, Title II, Section 3.—That it is inexpedient to make the change proposed.

Resolution adopted, and no change made.

ii. Canon I, Title IV, Section 3.—That the proposed change be made.

Adopted.

iii. Canon I, Title II, Section 1.—That it be adopted, with the substitution of April 25 for April 15.

Not adopted: no change made.

iv. Canon II, Title II, Section 3.—That the proposed change is inexpedient.

Adopted; Canon remains unchanged.

The tellers on the election of the Standing Committee reported that the Clergy had elected the Rev. Dr. Garrison, the Rev. Mr. Norton, the Rev. Mr. Baker, and the Rev. Mr. Perkins; and their choice was, thereupon, on motion, approved by the Laity; and that the Laity had elected Messrs. R. S. Conover, Swift, Woodward and Pugh, and their choice was, on motion, approved by the Clergy.

The election of Treasurer being in order, Mr. Charles Ewan Merritt was nominated; and there being no other nomination, the ballot was dispensed with, and Mr. Merritt was unanimously elected Treasurer.

Mr. DeCou and Mr. Miller were appointed tellers on the election of the committee to audit the Treasurer's accounts. After counting the ballots, they declared the election of Mr. Bennington Gill and Mr. J. B. Woodward as that committee.

The Rev. Dr. Garrison reported that the Standing Committee had organized and made choice of the Rev. Dr.

Garrison to be President and the Rev. Mr. Norton to be Secretary.

It being in order to elect one Trustee in each of the Boards of Trust under Canons I-V, Title V, to serve for three years, and there being but one nomination for each place to be filled, the Secretary was, on motion, instructed to cast the votes of the Convention, which resulted and was declared as follows:

Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund, Mr. McRee Swift;
Widows and Orphans of Clergy Fund, Mr. McRee Swift;
Missionary Fund of the Diocese, Mr. J. Howard Pugh, M.D.;
Church Property of the Diocese, Mr. J. Howard Pugh, M.D.

The Secretary was also instructed to cast the vote of the Convention for the Committee on Episcopal Residence, viz.: Messrs. J. B. Woodward, S. K. Wilson, Joseph H. Bruera.

Mr. Merritt read the following:

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON FINANCE.

Resolved, That an assessment of 2½ per cent. be made upon the parishes to meet the necessary expenses of the Convention, and that $200 be set aside every year, for the purpose of defraying the expenses of the Bishop and deputies to the General Convention.

The resolutions appended to this Report were, on motion, adopted by the Convention.

The Rev. E. K. Smith, Chairman of the Committee on Reprint of Early Journals, presented and read the following Report :

The Committee on Reprint of Early Journals, [See Journal of 1886, pp. 44, 49,] respectfully report, that, after four years of earnest effort and of patient waiting, there appears no reasonable prospect of accomplishing the object for which they were appointed.

They therefore renew their request to be discharged from further consideration of the duty assigned them, and recommend to the Convention the adoption of the following Resolution :

Resolved, That the Committee on Reprint of Early Journals be discharged from further consideration of the subject.

ELVIN K. SMITH,
LEVI W. NORTON,
FRANCIS MANY.

The resolution was adopted ; and on motion of the Rev. Dr. Garrison, it was Resolved, That the subject of the Reprint of the Early Journals be placed in the hands of Mr. James Parker and Mr. Francis Many, and that the funds in the hands of the previous committee be passed over to them.

The following REPORT of a Committee under Resolutions relating to assessment of non-contributing Parishes was read by Mr. Parker, and on motion referred to the Committee on Constitution and Canons.

PLAINFIELD, MAY 3, 1887.

To the Convention:—

The undersigned, the Committee appointed under the following resolution adopted by the last Convention; viz:

“Resolved, That a select committee of three be appointed, to take into consideration the subject of the Bishop’s remarks in relation to the non-contributing Parishes, and report what measures may be necessary proper in respect thereto,” would respectfully report:

The remarks of the Bishop to which the resolution refers were effect a touching appeal to the Convention in deprecation of Art. I Sec. 4, Sub-sec. 2, of the Constitution which requires the exclusion from the Convention of Deputies from those Parishes which have for two successive years failed to pay the assessments for Convention expenses, and the interest on their Parish Bonds.

The Committee have considered the subject in full sympathy with the sentiments of the Bishop.

There are many cases of real inability to pay these assessments and it seems neither brotherly nor Christian-like to say to such brethren as by excluding them from the Annual Assembly to which they have been coming up for many years, we do say in effect:

“Your poverty unfits you for further association with your brethren and deprives you of all right of voice or vote in the establishment of the Canons under which you must be governed.”

Your Committee see no way to remedy this state of affairs, except by amendment of the Constitution. While the clause remains as it is there is nothing proper to be done but to enforce it.

In deference to the warmly expressed views of the Bishop we therefore propose for adoption the following:

Resolved, That Article IV, Sec. 4 of the Constitution be amended by striking out Sub-section 2.

Resolved, That Sub-section 3 of Art. IV, Sec. 4, be re-numbered 2.

Respectfully,

JAMES PARKER,
CHAS. EWAN MERRITT, } Committee.

On motion it was

Resolved, That the Trustees of the Missionary Fund be and they hereby are directed to pay the interest on investments now in their hands as well as such interest as may be paid to them before the next Annual Diocesan Convention in manner as follows:

For account of the Olden Legacy, to the Treasurer of the Convocation of Burlington.

For account of the Vought legacy, the Kempton legacy, and the Missionary Fund, to the Bishop of the Diocese for Missionary purposes.

Dean Rodman made a special report, as follows, from the Committee on Constitution and Canons, on the subject of obtaining further legislation respecting marriage:

The Committee on Constitution and Canons, to whom was entrusted the matter of procuring further legislation in relation to marriage, respectfully report that agreeably to the instructions of the Convention this subject was brought to the notice of the Convention of Northern New Jersey, and their Committee on Constitution and Canons was appointed to co-operate with our Committee for the purpose indicated in the resolution of our appointment. A meeting of the Joint-Committee was held in Newark, at which the whole subject was discussed and some terrible revelations made of the abuses to which the existing law is liable. It was thought doubtful whether the Legislature would adopt a law, requiring a license to be issued by an officer of the State; but the Committee was of opinion that some further authority should at least be given to the officiator in order to satisfy him that persons, applying to be joined together in Holy Matrimony, were able lawfully to enter into the marriage relation. They have therefore adopted the following supplement to the act concerning marriage and ask for its careful consideration by this Convention.

A supplement to an act entitled "an act concerning marriages, births and deaths."

Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That it shall be the duty of any person having authority by the laws of this State to join persons together in the bonds of matrimony, if he shall not be satisfied with the declarations of the parties desiring marriage, either as to their age or as to their ability in other respects lawfully to enter into the marriage relation, to examine them or either of them on oath or affirmation (which he shall have authority to administer) touching their ability lawfully to be joined in marriage.

And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

On motion the Committee was discharged from further consideration of the subject.

On motion of the Rev. Mr. Baker, it was Resolved, That this Convention heartily approves of the work undertaken by the Missionary Enrolment Committee, and requests the Lay-

Deputies to the General Convention to act as Committee to aid the Bishop in furthering the work in this Diocese.

On motion of Mr. Parker, it was unanimously

Resolved, That this Convention hereby expresses its thanks to the Churchmen of Plainfield and North Plainfield, and to the citizens generally, for their admirable and unbounded hospitality extended to the Convention at its present session.

On motion of the Rev. Mr. Perkins it was Resolved, That this Convention appoint a Joint Committee to consist of the Rev. E. M. Rodman and the Rev. O. A. Glazebrook to act with a Corresponding Committee of the Diocese of Northern New Jersey to memorialize the Legislature of the State of New Jersey to pass an act requiring the procuring of a License before a marriage can be contracted.

Resolved, That if the Diocese of Northern New Jersey do not appoint such joint committee, that then the above committee prepare the memorial, accompanied by a proposed act requiring a license before marriage.

On motion of the Rev. Mr. Lighthipe it was Resolved, That the Treasurer of the Diocese be authorized to pay the usual sum to the Sexton of Grace Church, Plainfield, for his services; also.

Resolved, That the Secretary be authorized to have 1000 copies of the Journal printed, and distributed as usual.

The following invitation was read, and on motion accepted by the Convention: The Trustees of the Job Male Public Library extend an invitation to the members of the Convention to visit that Institution to-day, immediately after lunch.

On motion of the Rev. Dr. Garrison, it was Resolved, That a Committee of three be appointed, to consider if any constitutional or canonical legislation is advisable, in order to obtain regular contributions to the Episcopal and Convention Funds of the Diocese from those Parishes and Stations of the Church whose Rectors or Missionaries are entitled to seats in the Convention, but which are not in union with the Convention; and to report to the next Convention.

The Bishop appointed the Rev. Dr. Garrison, the Chancellor, and the Treasurer, to be such Committee.

The Bishop appointed Trinity Church, Trenton, to be the place of meeting for the next Annual Convention of the Diocese.

The minutes of this day's proceedings were read and approved.

The Bishop addressed the Convention, said the closing Prayers, and pronounced the Benediction.

The Convention then, at 1.30 p. m. adjourned sine die.

HOLY TRINITY MISSION, COLLINGSWOOD, CAMDEN COUNTY.

GUSTAVUS M. MURRAY, MISSIONARY.

During the past year, the Sunday School has been continued and services maintained at this Mission. A lot has been purchased, and at the Bishop's request I laid the corner stone of the Chapel on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 12th, 1886. By extraordinary efforts the building was sufficiently advanced to admit of holding the first service in it on Sunday afternoon, Feb. 6th, 1887. It is still unfinished, but can be used without any inconvenience. I must express my hearty thanks to both clergy and laity within and without the Diocese for their sympathy and liberality, in response to my appeals for assistance.

There is a debt remaining, but earnest efforts are being made for its liquidation. I am persuaded that arrangements can be perfected that will preclude undue anxiety on the part of all interested.

The Ladies' Chancel Society, under its President, Mrs. James Clark Smith, and its Treasurer, Miss E. Brandagee, has placed a handsome carpet in the Chancel.

The Parish has lost a generous parishioner and a steadfast upholder of "the faith once delivered to the saints," in the death of Mrs. Elizabeth C. Johnston, whose "prayers and alms" have gone up "for a memorial before God." The music of the Church has won for itself a laudable reputation under the voluntary services of the organist, Mr. James Belfenstein, and his able choir.

Floral emblems were placed in the Chancel on Easter Day in memorial of Rev. Dr. John Murray Forbes and the Rev. Dr. Christopher Wyatt.

CLERICAL REPORTS.

From Clergymen canonically resident, but having no cure in the Diocese, the following reports have been received :

THE REV. GORDON M. BRADLEY :

Since my last report I have done no clerical duty.

THE REV. ELLIOT W. BUMSTEAD :

I have been in charge of Calvary Church, Americus, Ga., since the first of January. I expect to leave here for the North about the first of May, and shall sail for the Azores on the 10th, to be gone two months. I hope by this voyage to be completely restored to health, so as to be able to resume active and permanent work.

THE REV. FRANCIS D. CANFIELD :

During the past Convention year I have had occasional duty on Sunday, chiefly in assisting the brethren. During the months of May, June, July and August I officiated in St. Paul's Church, Camden, in the absence of the Rev. Dr. Tidball. My address is Germantown, Pa.

THE REV. F. B. CHETWOOD :

During the past year I have baptized one infant and buried one adult and one infant. I have also been acting under an appointment of the Board of Managers of the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society, as an assistant of the General Secretary of the Board.

THE REV. WILLIAM R. EARLE :

Rt. Rev. Father : not having a parochial charge, I have performed such clerical services the past year, principally in the way of assistance to others, as opportunity and circumstances have permitted. I have assisted in the Holy Eucharist 21 times ; administered Holy Baptism to 2 infants ; solemnized one marriage ; and preached 10 times ; whole number of services, 54.

THE REV. JOSEPH F. GARRISON, D.D. :

I have been occupied mainly during the year with the duties of my chair in the Divinity School. As the course of the third year, the Senior Class, I have studied with them the Primitive Liturgies in the Greek, comparing the more important of these the one with the other. Following this, we have gone over the Roman Mass, noting its departures from primitive forms; also giving the main features of the Sarum and other Western Liturgies. And as the terminus of the whole, comparing our Communion Office with the Primitive Services, and showing the essential similarity of the two conceptions of the Eucharist.

I also, by appointment of the Trustees of "The Bohlen Fund" in Philadelphia, delivered the lectures on that course for the current year, their subject being "The American Prayer Book, its principles, and the law of its use." My strictly clerical duties have been confined to weekly service in the Seminary Chapel, with such occasional preaching and Private Communion as I have been called to give.

THE REV. WM. S. LANGFORD, D.D. :

I beg most respectfully to report that, during the year since the last Convention, I have been constantly engaged in the duties of my office, as General Secretary of the Board of Managers of the Board of Missions.

THE REV. JOHN RUTHERFORD MATTHEWS :

I have the honor to state that since my last report I have been on duty at the U. S. Navy Yard, New York, and that I am officially informed that I am to be detached herefrom on the 30th April, and am, after that date, and until otherwise directed, to regard myself as "Waiting Orders."

THE REV. WILLIAM MATTHIAS :

During the Convention year I have, in various places, performed the following work—held 28 services, preached 32 times, celebrated the Holy Communion in public 6 times, and married one couple.

THE REV. E. GAINES NOCK :

Since I have been canonically connected with the Diocese of New Jersey, March 26, I have officiated at 14 services, celebrated the Holy Communion 5 times in public, baptized 6 infants, and said the Burial Office once, in the Diocese of Pennsylvania; I have also officiated twice in this Diocese.

THE REV. H. L. PHILLIPS :

Since coming to Hightstown, April 17, I have been to every house where I heard there were any who had attended the services of the church, and was met courteously by all, by some very cordially, for the word I bore, that I had been sent by you to build up the church among them. I held services in Trinity Church, Hightstown, on the 17th, and at Rocky Hill and Sand Hills on the following Sunday. At Sand Hills, where a fair work has already been done, I found an attentive and earnest congregation, ready to welcome the missionary, and unite with him in advancing the interests of their church.

THE REV. JOHN ROWLAND :

During the Conventional year now ending, I have lived steadily at Somerville, attending upon the worship of the church, and taking part in the services as my health and ability permitted. I am very thankful that the church in the Diocese has so amply provided for my sustentation during the continuance of my disabled condition.

THE REV. JOHN ALDEN SPOONER :

During the last canonical year I have taken no official part in any public service of the church. But I have continued my long established obedience to that church law, that "All Priests and Deacons are to say daily the Morning and Evening Prayer, either privately or openly, not being let by sickness or some other urgent cause."

THE REV. CHARLES M. STEWARD :

I have not been engaged in regular clerical duty during the last Convention year. I have occasionally preached and celebrated or assisted at the Holy Eucharist.

THE REV. CHARLES A. WENMAN :

Since September 1888, I have been one of the Chaplains appointed by the N. Y. City Commissioners of Public Charities and Corrections to minister among the poor and criminal classes of the city. My field of duty comprises Randall's, Ward's and Hart's Islands. In three year and a half I baptized 466, mostly infants at the Foundling Hospital on Randall's Island. During the past year I held 99 public services, and celebrated the Holy Communion 21 times.

TO THE
ONE HUNDRED AND THIRD
ANNUAL CONVENTION ;

IN GRACE CHURCH, PLAINFIELD,

BY

BISHOP OF THE DIOCESE.

TOGETHER WITH OFFICIAL ACTS AND NOTIFICATIONS,

of God, we have been permitted to do for the strengthening and extending of the church, humility rather than pride should be the feeling uppermost in our hearts, as we realize how very much there is yet to be done—"non nobis Domine." It is sometimes asked with reference to our yearly gathering in council as well as our quarterly meetings in convocation: What great good is accomplished? If we do nothing more, at least we thus give emphasis to the fact that "we are members one of another"—"and all one Body in Christ." The interests of the church in the Diocese, and of "The whole state of Christ's church militant," belong to you and me, not so much as individuals, as in our corporate capacity. An army is made up of separate units, but its victories are won as it moves in a mass. Its strength lies in united efforts rather than individual valor.

Surely the privilege of brotherly greeting, the social interchange of thought and feeling—as well as "the Breaking of Bread and Prayers"—all this will be far more than a compensation for the time and effort and money expended in coming. There are some who would build a Chinese wall about their individual work, and be content to labor on till the end, with no thought beyond the personal interests and personal duties that bind them there. Such devotion to duty may lead to utter selfishness—as it certainly is of the essence of congregationalism. We must not lose sight of the fact that we are members of a body—and if one member suffers all the members suffer. If one be honored all should rejoice. Let no one grudge the time given for the public weal, nor deem it wasted, because it does not tell directly on his own special work. We must not forget that we have duties to others, as well as to ourselves. In this spirit I bid you welcome to the wider plane, and larger responsibility of our gathering here to-day. For the first time we meet in this city of beautiful homes, and I know

The hospitality of Plainfield so well, that I feel sure nothing will be lacking or left undone which can minister to the comfort of both clergy and laity. Before considering in detail our Diocesan affairs, it may not be amiss to let our thoughts take a wider range, and consider briefly one or two of the most important events of the past year, which concern the whole church. The late General Convention in Chicago naturally rises first in our thoughts, as the most important factor in the history of the year. The city itself, with its busy life and bounding energy, was a constant source of wonder and surprise to those who had not before seen it. Nothing was left undone that could add to the comfort or convenience of the large body, gathered from all quarters of the land. For the first time, the sessions of the convention were held in a secular Hall. There is a very wide difference of opinion as to whether the change was beneficial or otherwise. If they had been held in a consecrated building, the frequent applause, which was never heard before in the church's great council, would have been restrained or wholly suppressed by the sacredness of the place. As was expected, the proposed changes in the Prayer Book claimed and received a good share of time and consideration. That they are so few is the strongest proof of our conservatism. That they were made at all, is a demonstration of the fact that conservative as our church is, she recognizes the wisdom and the need of adapting her methods to the time. A type or norm of service which did very well fifty years ago, might be utterly unsuited to the present day. And hence clergymen and laymen, as loyal as any in the church, foresaw clearly that changes and adaptations were inevitable and must be made. Indeed changes were being introduced very rapidly without the sanction of law, compelling action, either repressive or permissive. There is a good sense in which public opinion may be trusted as a safe guide—and not a moment too soon was action taken, though it was a shock to some in the church, whose motto all along had been "The Prayer Book as it is"—unchanged and unchanging, as it came down from the fathers, and enshrined their wisdom. The changes made may not seem many or important. They are just as few as possible, but they are the result of patient and painstaking labor. No statement of doctrine is either changed or modified. By a wise relaxing of the rubrics, greater variety is made possible, when desired, both in the Daily Service and in the occasional offices. It will be deemed a boon, I am sure, that the penitential opening of the Evening Prayer may be omitted, save on the Lord's Day. It is something to be thankful for that when the faithful few come early to the Holy Communion, the ten commandments need not be recited, while they are made obligatory at the later and more numerous attended service, when those are present in the congregation, who need most to hear the law's condemnation of sin. I need not enter upon an enumeration of the changes made, as they are officially in the hands of the clergy. Whether wise or not, they have now the binding force of law. I beg to emphasize this, because there has been not a little misunderstanding as to the time when the changes became operative. When notification was made, by order of the House of Bishops, and the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies, their joint action was a finality. There is no higher authority than this in our branch of the church—so that no one, Bishop, Priest or Deacon, has now the right to omit anything from the service, that is not made discretionary. There are still other changes in contemplation, which will require action in at least one more General Convention, and hence it was thought best not to touch the text of the Prayer Book, till the work of revision is finished.

The very able Report of a committee on the subject of Marriage and Divorce, claimed—as the importance of the subject demanded—careful consideration. For lack of time, no conclusion was reached, much to the regret of many, who are anxiously waiting for the church to raise her voice against social evils, that are growing bolder every year. How far English law and precedents are of binding force among us, is a question about which a wide difference of opinion prevails among the intelligent members of our church; some being unwilling to adopt as a whole the English table of prohibited degrees, and some maintaining that all along, the English table has had binding force among us, and will have, until we adopt a rule of our own—this not being one of the things in which it was the purpose of the American Church to depart from the Church of England.

By agreement the whole subject is only postponed, and will come up for consideration again early in the next session of the General Convention. A committee of our own Convention, in conjunction with a like committee from the Diocese of Northern New Jersey, has the same general subject under consideration, and will, I trust, help to shape and mould a healthy public opinion, where so much is at stake, and the very foundations of society are threatened. The State of Pennsylvania has a most excellent marriage license law, and it is devoutly to be wished that New Jersey may speedily follow so good an example. It would be a boon to every clergyman and a check upon unwise and hasty marriages, which swell the business of our divorce courts.

Petitions were sent up from many different quarters, numerous signed, and memorials from many Dioceses were presented, praying for the establishment of a court of appeals in the case of ecclesiastical trials. A fraction of a vote defeated the measure in the House of Deputies. I am unable to say how the Bishops would have voted had the question come before them, but my opinion is they would not have refused to grant what the representatives of the Clergy and Laity demanded. For myself I am still unable to see how the good that such a tribunal might accomplish, in rare cases, could be a compensation for the evil it would bring to the church. It would no doubt, now and then, free the Diocesan Bishop from painful responsibility, and help to silence clamor. I am quite content with the provisions of our present law. I hope and pray that we may never be compelled to test the quality of the church's penal code in this Diocese.

Perhaps the greatest interest of the session centred in the debate as to the expediency of changing the name of the church. This proposition, which a few years ago received but meagre support, now found a large following, though it failed of a majority, and so did not come before the House of Bishops at all.

However we may account for the change of sentiment in the church, or whether we can give any rational explanation for the change, I am sure they are wrong who see in it only a spirit of disloyalty. There are no signs of disaffection in the church in any other direction. Her gifts are multiplied. Her members are increasing. Her clergy are earnest in their work, none more so, indeed, than those who favor the change of name. I confess I fail to see the great importance of the question, one way or the other. I can see no good ground for the expectations of those who advocated the measure on the plea that thousands were just waiting for the General Convention to remove this bar to their admission—that they might fly to the church, like doves to their windows, and find rest for their weary souls. I am sure this glowing picture would not be realized. Indeed I very much doubt if a mere change of title would bring us one convert more! On the other hand, I think those equally wide of the mark, who assert that a goodly number would leave the church, if such a resolution were to carry. I cannot believe such a thing possible.

I suspect there has been a good deal of harmless rhetoric expended in the discussion of this question, both in and out of the General Convention! That very staid and conservative body formerly known as "The Dutch Reformed Church," thought fit a few years ago to drop that part of its name which was historic, but as some thought un-American. And I do not believe the change made one particle of difference in its membership, either by gain or loss. Neither would it with us.

I am free to say that I have not yet heard any name suggested that I would wish to see adopted instead of our present one. Neither Anglo-Catholic, nor American Catholic would accurately describe our position. The Bishop of Rome in conferring honors and titles the other day upon American ecclesiastics, did it in the name of "The Holy Roman Church," not "The Roman Catholic," nor "The Catholic Church;" and the title by which the Orthodox, or "Holy Eastern Church" is known, is not a whit less cumbersome than our own. I am certain, if a change is ever effected, it will be in response to a very general demand of public opinion in the church, and not by a bare majority. If it were the choosing of a new name, the whole question would be greatly simplified, and perhaps we might choose more wisely. Or if it can be demonstrated that our name is an obstacle to our growth, that might be a good reason for action. I have great faith in the wisdom of our Triennial Council, as well as faith in the guidance and direction of the Holy Spirit.

The declaration made by the House of Bishops on the subject of Christian Unity, is among the most important utterances that ever came from that House. It may not accomplish all its sanguine friends expect, but it will bring comfort to many an earnest soul, that is grieved at the sad divisions of Christendom. It is a very long step in the right direction. It has the ring of the old Vincentian rule! It will at least provoke discussion of the subject, and may prepare the way for further action, to promote that oneness among the disciples which our Blessed Lord prayed for.

There is but one thing further that I care to speak of in connection with the acts of the General Convention.

I suppose that most of the clergy, who have the cure of souls, have had to deal with tender consciences, who thought it a sin to use even the purest fermented wine in the administration of the Holy Communion. Some of the Christian bodies about us have yielded to the clamor of so-called reformers, and are using a substance which is not wine at all. The Bishops of the church joined unanimously in the following clear and strong utterance,

“Resolved, That in the judgment of the House of Bishops, the use of the unfermented juice of the grape, as the lawful and proper wine of the Holy Eucharist, is unwarranted by the example of our Lord, and an unauthorized departure from the custom of the Catholic Church.”

I trust this will be accepted as the law of our church for her Priests and people, and the final settlement of a vexed question, so far as we are ourselves concerned.

Appended to this Resolution was another which has added interest for us now, from the fact that it was framed at the suggestion of the late Presiding Bishop, the Bishop of Delaware.

“Resolved, That the mixture of water with the Eucharistic wine is lawful, and in conformity with the usages of the Catholic Church. And that there is no objection to the mixed cup, provided the mingling be not ritually introduced, until it be authorized by the rubric.” My own custom has always been to mingle water with the communion wine. The Scotch office, from which ours is derived, commands this. If strong alcoholic wine is used, as it ought not to be, but sometimes is, the use of water is almost a necessity. The pure fruit of the vine should be had at any cost. There is need of greater care in this respect on the part of some of the Clergy.

The Committee on the State of the Church, which is presided over by one of the Clerical Deputies from this Diocese, shows a marvellous amount of work in the compilation of its report. But it also shows, unless figures err, that we are making great strides, comparing period with period. It is a document that will repay careful study, and should be brought to the attention of our people, all. That Committee is desirous of gathering exact information from the Dioceses, and to that end has put forth a new form of parochial report, which we have followed literally in this Diocese. Should other Dioceses do the same, our statistics will hereafter be more accurate and in more compact form. I beg the clergy to be conscientious and careful in making up their lists, that we may know our exact status. As compared with other Dioceses, our own ranks as follows: In number of Clergy, 11th; Baptisms, 11th; Confirmations, 15th; Communicants, 13th; Churches and Chapels, 9th; Rectories, 7th. Total of contributions in money, 10th. A record not to be ashamed of, but to be thankful for.

Three of our oldest and most venerated Bishops have died in the past few months. Horatio Potter, for more than thirty years Bishop of New York, William Mercer Green, Bishop of Mississippi for thirty-seven years, and Alfred Lee, Bishop of Delaware for nearly forty-six years. Bishop Potter entered into his rest after calm and patient waiting for many months. I saw him not a great while before the end came. His intellect was unclouded, and he had the same self-possessed manner, the same gentle dignity, that marked his best days. I owe very much to that man of God. Without any vanity or boasting, I may say in truth, he was my warm friend, with no variableness nor shadow of turning through many years. He was associated with most of the important events of my life. He ordained me Deacon and Priest, and consecrated me Bishop. He married me, and baptized my first-born child. He loved to visit Poughkeepsie-on-the-Hudson, his old home, and now his final resting place. For weeks at a time he has shared the hospitality of my snug little Rectory, enjoying the freedom from worry and care, and delighting to go over again the haunts of his boyhood days. Some, perhaps most persons, thought him reserved, even to coldness. He never seemed so to me. When the General Convention met last in New York City, he asked me to be his guest. I was greatly surprised to find that I was the only one expected. For weeks we were together in the closest intimacy. It was at such times, and by such unrestrained intercourse, that one learned to appreciate the man as he was. I shall always deem it a boon that I had before me in the younger years of my ministry such a model, and up to the very last day of his earthly life, such a friend. At his burial in Trinity Church, New York, I was glad to take my place beside his sorrowing family and friends, rather than in the chancel.

Bishop Green was a very Nathanael in guilelessness and simplicity of character. His presence was a benediction. I don't think he could either say or do an unkind thing under any provocation. Many a man who had seen his home wrecked, his library in flames, and his family cast upon the world, houseless and penniless, as he saw all this during the war, might have been embittered. But affliction only seemed to deepen his humility and piety. Like the little delicately framed plant that only gives out its sweetness when crushed, so did sorrow and loss seem to hallow and sanctify him more and more. He always thought lowly of himself, and spoke in terms of depreciation of what he had been permitted to do. The ending of such a life come Without a shock. The seen and the unseen mingle just as the twilight fades away into the darkness, or rather as the dawn into the light of day.

Bishop Lee, the oldest of the three by consecration, though not in years, was called hence amid the Easter songs of the Church. Though seemingly frail in body, he had a strong and vigorous mind. He had clear convictions of truth, which he did not cover up nor conceal. His theology was not of the hazy indefinite type, which is becoming quite too much the fashion in this day. He was a Biblical scholar of no mean attainments. In the House of Bishops he was always listened to with most respectful attention. He was one of the best Presiding Bishops the Church has ever had, his early training making him a man of affairs. I had a loving letter from him just before his last illness, in which he spoke with tender feeling of the affectionate confidence of his brother Bishops, all through the sessions of the late General Convention in Chicago. He was buried in the church yard of the Old Swedes Church, Wilmington. The manifestations of respect shown to his memory proved that his residence there of near half a century had given him a place in the hearts of the people, such as any man dying might covet for himself.

Bishop Williams, of Connecticut, is now Presiding Bishop. In the early autumn of 1851, when I was a Sophomore in Trinity College, Hartford, I saw him consecrated, by the venerable Brownell, who was Presiding Bishop at that time. His name was then at the bottom of the list, and now it is at the top! In less than thirty-six years the whole House of Bishops that then was, has passed away. Bishop Williams is most admirably equipped for the important place and work, to which he succeeds. May he be long spared to adorn with his rare gifts and graces the office of Primus in the American Church, which has been so ably filled by predecessors!

When the roll-call of the clergy was made this morning there was no sad omission of a single name. Our ranks have not been broken by death in the past year. Of the laymen taken from us, one name stands pre-eminent in the Diocese, Dr. Joseph H. Thompson, of Salem. Dr. Thompson was a classmate of Bishop Williams in Trinity College. He was a man of finely cultured mind, an earnest churchman by inheritance, for long time warden of St. John's Parish, a Deputy to this Convention for many years, and formerly a member of the Standing Committee. We will miss his manly presence in our council to-day, but we ought to rejoice over the victory which he hath won.

The progress of the year has not been largely, or mainly, in new ventures. Only three modest buildings were added to the list of Churches and Chapels, and they were all in the Southern end of the Diocese. Two were consecrated, and two corner-stones were laid. If that were all we had to tell in the way of church growth, we might well hang our heads in shame. But that is only a very small fraction of the year's work, even of that part of it which may be tabulated and reduced to figures. Every Parish Priest knows that often the most laborious and wearing part of his work cannot be written down, or put in any tangible form. With the Bishop all this is intensified. Much of his time and labor is given to mere routine duty. The visitation of the parishes is oftener a recreation than a toil. My postage will average nearly two dollars a week the year through, and that means hundreds upon hundreds of letters written. I do not speak complainingly of this, as though my life-work were a drudgery—very far from it. I only name this one fact to show how little of a Bishop's labors can be set down in tables, or printed in the Journal.

There are canonically resident, including myself, one hundred and four clergymen. Five others are laboring in the Diocese, but canonically resident elsewhere. I have ordained four Priests, one of them for the Bishop of New York. The confirmations for the year are unprecedentedly large, numbering 921. I also confirmed 40 in the Diocese of Pennsylvania, making in all 961. I have done my best to encourage the building of Rectories in all the Parishes. It is gratifying to find, as I have already stated, that by the last triennial report our comparatively small Diocese stands seventh on the list, in number of Rectories. The increase of the past year is very marked.

Trinity, Vineland, St. John's-in-the-Wilderness, Gibbsborough, St. Thomas', Glassborough, Grace, Merchantville, St. Paul's, Trenton, St. Mary's, Keyport, and St. John's Camden, all have either purchased or built Rectories in the past Convention year. On some of these there is a remaining indebtedness, but even so, I regard them as great gain to the Parishes, and as helping to make the office of Rector a permanency.

St. John's, Somerville, has sold its costly Rectory, by consent of the Bishop and Standing Committee, but money enough will remain, when all claims are discharged, to build or buy a house quite as good as the Parish needs, or as the salary of the incumbent will warrant. The interior of St. John's is richly and newly decorated. The Church of the Ascension, Atlantic City, has made a bold move. A fine lot of land, on the corner of a street, in the very heart of the town, has been secured, and the old Church removed to the rear of it. In due time a building will be erected, large enough to accommodate all who wish to attend, whether visitors or permanent residents. There is a grand future for the Church there, if only it can be tided over its present crisis.

In my last year's Convention address I spoke of the large purchase of land and buildings by Christ Church, Woodbury. By a gift of $5,000, from an unnamed donor, the Parish has been able to free itself entirely from debt, and has its fine property to hold as an endowment. Why is it that such acts of generosity are so rare among us, as to be deemed marked and exceptional? There is no lack of wealth among the churchmen and churchwomen of the Diocese, but as a rule, it is not laid upon God's Altar in very large sums. I have sometimes thought the Clergy to blame, in part at least, for this. They tell the laity their duty in the matter of giving plainly enough, but do they, by conscientiously tithing their own incomes, set before the laity their proper mode of duty and privilege? A parishioner, with one or two thousand dollars a year, who gave nothing to the Church, would be thought a robber of God. There is but one law for all, and the Clergy should lead their people, and teach them practically in this and in all things. Neither the parson's pocket nor the layman's should be like the cave of the fable, where all the footsteps led in and none out. St. Stephen's Church, Mullica Hill, has been renewed inside and greatly beautified, mainly through the efforts of the people themselves. St. James', Paulsborough, has paid one-half of its indebtedness, and relinquished its claim for help from the Convocation treasury. A large and long step for so feeble a folk. The corner-stone of the Church of the Holy Trinity, Collingswood, was laid on Dec. 12th, by the Rev. Gustavus M. Murray, at my request, and on the 6th of February the building was in a condition to be opened for use. On that day, in company with the Rector of Grace Church, Haddonfield, I held the first religious service in it. The structure is a neat one of wood. The land on which it stands was the first deeded to "the Trustees of Church Property." Services and Sunday School are maintained regularly by the Rev. Mr. Murray and his faithful lay helpers.

St. Andrew's Chapel, in the Southern part of the city of Camden, is another of the new and successful ventures made by the Rector of St. John's Church in that rapidly growing city. At my first visitation there eleven were presented for confirmation. A strong, self-sustaining parish, and a substantial church building will be the speedy outcome of this mission, I am quite sure.

A year ago certain additions and changes were in process at St. Paul's, Camden. These were continued during the Summer and Autumn till an entire transformation has been wrought. The inside of the church is all new, save the front and side walls. These improvements have cost the very large sum of $30,000, including, of course, the parish building. In the year and a half, since the work was begun, $17,000 have been raised and paid. At the same rate of giving the balance of indebtedness will soon be wiped out. This seems marvellous in our eyes, and the parish itself is as much amazed, as any one can be, at this manifestation of reserved power. It was a glad day, when early in Advent, I formally re-opened the church and set apart with special blessing, the many memorials placed in it.

St. Wilfred's, Cramer Hill, among the youngest of our offspring, is also among the most thriving and vigorous. The church building has already been enlarged, and its seating capacity more than doubled. This work has been self-sustaining from the first, and all settlements are made weekly, so that there can be no accumulation of debt.

Christ Church, Palmyra, has been duly organized as a parish, with male communicants enough to form a vestry.

Christ Church, Riverton, has a new organ and a fine-toned bell. The old bell was given to Palmyra, the daughter parish.

On the 6th of August, I laid the corner-stone of Stephen's Memorial Chapel, Riverside, and on the 2nd December, I consecrated the beautiful building. It is under the spiritual charge of the Rector of St. Stephen's, Beverly, and is a memorial of George and Mary Kirkham, deceased, who in their lifetime took the liveliest interest in the mission.

St. Mary's, Burlington, has sold unproductive lands held as a part of the gift from the venerable Society for the Propagation of the Gospel, thus adding materially to the endowment fund of the parish.

Christ Church, Bordentown, has received some very beautiful and costly gifts as memorials. On Christmas Day these were set apart by a special service of benediction for their holy uses.

Christ Church, Chambersburg, is a thriving mission in a population of ten thousand souls. There is as yet no organization effected, but land has been bought, and ground broken for a pretty chapel. Very naturally I feel the deepest personal interest in this work, because it is at my own door, and ought in time to grow up into a Bishop's Church. For years this work waited on the movements and promises of others, but now it is struggling and doing for itself. I am greatly indebted to all who have kindly come to my aid, and helped, by their sympathy and their gifts, to make the feeble beginnings strong.

The past year will be a memorable one in St. Michael's, the mother parish of Trenton. Changes that a few years ago would have been thought revolutionary, have been made, and apparently with the hearty approval of the whole congregation. A fine new organ has been placed near the chancel, the interior of the church re-arranged, the walls decorated, a new choir-room built, and a large vested choir of men and boys introduced. Several thousands of dollars were expended in these changes. A new interest, and a Larger attendance both morning and night, are among the first apparent results of these timely adaptations.

There are now more than a dozen vested choirs in this Diocese, and the number is sure to increase. St. Peter's, Perth Amboy, is the latest convert, and made Easter Day glad by the change from the organ loft to the chancel.

Trinity, Trenton, which only recently made extensive and costly improvements, is about to enlarge its parish buildings and guild rooms, more than double. On Easter Day, nearly $6,000 in pledges and money, was placed on the alms basin for this purpose. Land has been bought, and work will begin at once. I cannot help just a little pride on the progress which the church in Trenton is making. St. Michael's large and costly improvements; Trinity's work demanding more room, and soon to have it; St. Paul's with its new and substantial brick Rectory; and Chambersburg maintaining its own services, paying for land, and about to build a roomy chapel, which will be a boon to the faithful little band, who are compelled to worship now in a cramped and untidy hall.

On the 29th of May, St. John the Evangelist's, New Brunswick, was re-opened, and the congregation after an absence of many months from the sacred edifice, repeated the Psalmist's words with added emphasis, "I was glad when they said unto me, we will go into the house of the Lord." Beside the tower and transept, there is a large Sunday School room, shut off from the church by folding doors, and easily made a part of the main building when needed. The whole grouping is artistic in the extreme. There is a very beautiful memorial window, erected to the memory of Jacob S. Carpenter, and an elegant marble font and accompanying tablet to the memory of Wm. G. Parsons, both long time wardens of the Parish. Electric lights are introduced, the first used in any Church of the Diocese. The Rev. Dr. Boggs and the Rev. Alfred B. Baker, both former Rectors, were present to share in the joys of the day.

I have appointed the Trinity Sunday Ordination this year in St. John's, when the Rector hopes to present a son for the holy ministry. On that day, God willing, I will add three names to our Clergy list, all of them men well equipped for their holy calling.

On July 14, St. Mary's Church, Keyport, was consecrated. This was a happy ending to a long series of struggles. The Church freed from debt, and a new parsonage house secured, are signs of the coming day. Grace Church, Plainfield, has been enlarged by the addition of a transept, a mere temporary expedient for more room, to prepare the way for the new Church of the future. The Holy Cross, North Plainfield, is richly decorated inside, while the Rectory and Sunday School room, as well as the Church building, all show signs of loving care outside and inside. All Saints', Scotch Plains, has reduced its bonded debt more than one-half. The future of this Church, after long waiting, seems bright. The former Church site in Bound Brook has been sold, and a new one purchased on the opposite side of the Raritan River and nearer the population of the town. Steps are being taken for the building of a modest Church, for which aid will be needed, and I hope given freely. Spiritually the Parish is in a better condition than I have ever known it.

On February 3, the first official act of the thirteenth year of my Episcopate, was the Institution of the Rev. Wm W. Taylor into the Rectorship of Christ Church, South Amboy. There was very much to add interest—almost romance—to the services of the day. The preacher was the Rev. Gideon J. Burton, first Rector of the parish, and father-in-law of the new Incumbent—so that she who spent her childhood's days in the parsonage had returned now to preside over it as the Rector's wife, and mistress of the house.

The Rev. Mr. Post, whose ministry spanned the intervening space between these two Rectorships, was present also to share in the joys of the day.

Underneath the chancel, where we stood, rests the mortal part of that good woman, Mrs. Juliana Conover, the benefactress of the Diocese and the parish both, who many years before began the work at South Amboy, with a few little children gathered in her own parlor, on the Lord's day. While by the very door of the sacristy sleeps the dust of that loveliest of Christian women, Mrs. Richard Stockton Conover, whose name, like Mary's precious ointment, still fills the hearts and homes of the poor in all the region round about with its sweetness. To minister amid these hallowed associations should be a constant and unfailing delight.

But I must not claim more of your time with details that may not seem important enough to deserve permanent record. We are making history, and what may seem to us of little moment may greatly help those who come after us, in forming a right judgment of our day and work.

I have spoken mainly of what we have done. Are there no failures to recount? No omissions of duty to confess? Alas! I know but too well my own shortcomings and yours. Many an opportunity has been lost for lack of means to supply the work-man with bread; many a plea for the services of our church could not be responded to favorably, because the work already in hand seemed more than we could carry. Perhaps, all things considered, our mission work is doing well. I am satisfied it will never attain a solid basis, till each parish is willing to pledge annually a minimum sum, as its share of the burden. As it is now, the collections are made hap-hazard—too often not made at all—and the missions of the Diocese do not seem to press heavily on the consciences of the clergy and congregations.

A year ago I made a special appeal for help in the education of young men for the ministry. I asked for at least $1,000, and this did not seem unreasonable or extravagant, when the parochial reports show that few of our parishes give anything for this object. With hearty unanimity the Convention voted that every parish in the Diocese be asked to make an annual contribution for theological education. I felt greatly encouraged by this action. The Resolution was printed as a standing order, inside the cover of the Journal—so that even those who did not peruse the printed record of the Convention's doings, could hardly fail to see it. As the result of all this, I have to report to-day that but two parishes have responded, to the amount of $32.38! I would not be understood as speaking in disparagement of this small return. I am deeply grateful and most sincerely thankful for this help, where so many were forgetful. I will not renew my request. I only ask that the Resolution be rescinded, as it is misleading, and evidently does not commend itself to the sober judgment of the clergy. And yet the need continues, as great and pressing as ever. I have young men now, ready and desirous to devote their lives to the holy work of the ministry, if only they can have a little timely aid, when it is most needed. I confess it seems to me a strange thing, that when the church puts a new petition in the Litany, praying the Lord of the harvest to send forth more laborers into His harvest, we are thwarting His gracious answer by withholding the means which can make our prayer effective. I am thankful to say that larger giving to my Trust Fund, and a few contributions from private sources, have enabled me to get through the year without debt. Seventeen parishes and missions in all, have contributed $448.80 for the year. One parish gave nearly half this entire sum. A few individual gifts I am not at liberty to acknowledge publicly, though but for them I should have been often sore perplexed.

I am greatly encouraged by the response to my appeal for the Advent offerings of the Sunday School children. It is my purpose to renew it year by year, as much in the hope of interesting the little ones in the work of their Diocese, as for the amount of money received. The Woman's Auxiliary in the Diocese has greatly helped me in my work, by contributing $129 in money, to supplement missionary stipends, and to enable me to give aid in special cases of need. In the future I am sure this will become a helpful ally. Heretofore we have not utilized woman's work, as we might and ought. Her efforts were mainly for general work. I hail this sign of new interest for our home missions, with great satisfaction.

The enrolment plan, by which it was hoped to raise one million of dollars for general missions, as a centennial thank offering, proved a signal failure. Less than one hundred thousand dollars was pledged. Instead of receiving this sum at the opening service of the General Convention, it was decided to leave the money in the hands of the Diocesan Treasurers, and submit the whole matter to the Board of Missions. The Board endorsed the plan, and determined to make new efforts to complete the fund, meanwhile requesting that the money, pledged or paid in, be deposited with the Special Treasurer, Mr. James M. Brown, of New York, not to be used till the whole sum be raised. Now, should the new plan fail, as the old one did, I can easily see that the money given in good faith, for the active mission work of the church, might, under this resolution, be locked up for many years.

I do not know that this Convention has power to do anything but advise. The Treasurer, appointed by me, has now in his hands several thousand dollars, which should either be returned to the donors, or invested and held in trust, for the purpose to which it was originally contributed, in case the effort now being made is successful, and the whole sum raised. I am sure the great majority of those who gave the money do not want it returned. "Corban," a gift, is graven on it, and it no longer belongs to them. The Treasurer and myself ask—and I trust we shall not ask in vain—for the counsel of those who have at least an equal interest with us in the matter.

Did time permit I should like to emphasize, and press upon both the clergy and laity, the claims of our general mission work at home and abroad, and so excite greater activity and greater interest in its behalf. I have been honored with a place in the Board of Managers, and I can speak by authority, and from personal knowledge of the painstaking, conscientious care, which every department of the church's mission work receives. No age of the world has presented such grand opportunities for the spread of the Gospel, as ours. O, that we were wise enough to follow the plain indications of God's Providence, and do the thing that He commands!

There is one department of the general work, in which I feel a very peculiar and special interest. I mean the American Church Building Fund Commission. For three years I was chairman of its Executive Committee, and therefore know the work and its needs very thoroughly. For some time other and more pressing interests threatened to obscure its modest claims, while its work was hardly well begun. On my suggestion, the Hon. L. Bradford Prince, who offered the original Resolution under which the Commission was appointed, has undertaken to rouse anew the interest of the Church in its behalf; I am glad to say, with most excellent success. The permanent fund is growing, and the Commission has taken new heart and a new lease of life. I bespeak for Judge Prince a hearing and a welcome in every parish; and for the cause he represents, most cordial sympathy and support. The Church Building Fund meets a need, which cannot be met so well in any other way. The Rev. Dr. George Morgan Hills and Mr. John N. Carpender are the Commissioners appointed for this Diocese, with full power to act.

It is just fifty years since Bishop Doane made his great venture of faith, and founded St. Mary's Hall, Burlington, as a Church School for girls. Half a century is a long life for an Institution in this age and country. In this case I believe it is an illustration of "the survival of the fittest." Through varying fortunes the school has kept on in one unvarying course, a monument to the forethought and wisdom of its Founder, and a blessing to many hundreds, who have been trained in it. The Semi-Centennial of St. Mary's may well be a year of jubilee. It is practically free from debt, and ready to begin another half century with noble purpose and high hopes.

Burlington College is again filled with pupils, reminding one of the day when there was not room enough for all who eagerly sought admission. Many of these boys and youths are from St. John's Military Academy, Haddonfield, which lost its fine building by fire in the early Autumn, and sought refuge here till its new quarters are ready for occupancy.

The third Lambeth Conference will be held, next year in the Archbishop's palace in London. All the American Bishops are asked to be present. I have already made answer, that most likely I shall not be able to attend. The decade that has passed, since the last meeting, has wrought sad havoc among the English Bishops, as well as our own. I make no doubt our church will be largely and ably represented in that important gathering.

Our Diocesan Machinery is working without jar. The several Boards of Trustees elected have made a good beginning. Our finances are and honestly managed. All our permanent funds are increasing steadily. Our spiritual interests are prospering. Peace reigns in all our borders. Our lot is certainly a fair one. The Great Head of the Church is pouring out abundant blessings on us, giving evident tokens of his favor and goodness. For all this we should be most devoutly thankful.

Reports of the Deans.

CONVOCATION OF NEW BRUNSWICK.

DEAN'S REPORT.

It is the purpose of these Annual Reports to present to the Convention, in as few words as possible, a statement of the condition of the Missionary work of the Convocation. From the reports of the Missionaries, which have been sent to me, I gather the following statistics:

No. of Families,	269
No. of Baptisms—Adults, 25; Infants, 48,	73
No. Confirmed,	55
No. of Communicants,	387
No. of Communicants added during year,	62
No. of Services held during year,	1,033
Burials,	7
Sunday School Teachers,	53
Sunday School Scholars,	460
Contributions,	$5,441.00

These figures are furnished by eleven of the Missions of the Convocation. From two others I have received no report.

It is very encouraging to note the improvements going on at most, if not all, of the stations, and the generally hopeful tone of the Reports.

St. Barnabas' Chapel, Sand Hills, has been painted, and the pews and chancel furniture stained and varnished. A new Insurance Policy for $2,000 taken out on Church building. The Rev. Mr. Phillips has been appointed by the Bishop to hold a service here once a month, and celebrate the Holy Communion.

The Rev. Aug. W. Cornell, speaking of his Mission at South River, says: "There has been a marked growth in the Sunday School during the year; and the congregations also have been larger. A hopeful feeling as to the future prevails among the members."

At Keyport "a Rectory has been purchased and alterations, costing $1,000, have been made and paid for. The Church building has been thoroughly repaired and is in excellent order." The Rev. Mr. Johnston says that "the attendance and general interest at St. Mark's, Basking Ridge, have been greater during this year than last."

E. M. RODMAN.

THE NON-CONTRIBUTING PARISHES AND MISSIONS ARE:

St. John's, Chew's Landing; St. Peter's, Clarksboro; St. Luke's, Colum Christ, Waterford.

In conclusion, the Dean would earnestly recommend his reverend brethren, the clergy, in all parishes and missions the "Pledge and Envelope System." This system, under the name of "Offerings of the Church," existed in the Diocese so long ago as 1835, and is minutely explained in the Appendix to the Episcopal Address of that year. During the last twenty years it has been revived in many parts of the American Church, and wherever thoroughly introduced and continued, has taught the people practically that "voluntary offerings" constitute an essential part of "holy worship" and increased the amounts offered from four to six fold.

All which is respectfully submitted.

S. K. WILSON,
J. B. WOODWARD,
JOSEPH H. BRUERE.

The hour of three having arrived, the Bishop of the Diocese read his 14th Annual Address.*

The Report of the Trustees of the Missionary Fund of the Diocese [acting as a Special Committee, by Resolution of last Convention] was read by Mr. Howard Richards, as follows:

The Trustees of the Missionary Fund of the Diocese of New Jersey, by a resolution of the Convention (Journal 1887, page 42), were appointed a "Committee to enquire into the present condition of the several Funds for the missionary work of the Diocese, and to whom they could be paid under the terms of the several Trusts, and report to the next Convention." Your Committee above mentioned respectfully report to this Convention that the Trustees of the Missionary Fund of the Diocese of New Jersey now hold, invested as particularly set forth in their annual accounts, the following legacies, or parts thereof, belonging to the Funds for the Missionary Work of the Diocese.

THE KEMPTON LEGACY.

Eliza Kempton, by her will, gave two shares of stock in the Philadelphia Bank to the Diocese of the Episcopal Church in New Jersey, the dividends thereout arising to be applied to the support of Missionaries in New Jersey.

One of these shares of stock has been transferred to the Diocese of Northern New Jersey. The other share is now held by the Trustees of the Missionary Fund of the Diocese of New Jersey in their corporate name. The par value of this share of stock is $100, and the annual dividends, $12, are paid over to the Bishop of the Diocese for missionary purposes according to the Resolution of the Convention.

THE OLDEN LEGACY.

Samuel S. Olden, by his will, gave $3,000.00 to the Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Diocese of New Jersey, in trust, &c.,

* The Episcopal Address follows the Journal and Appendices.

* * * * * the yearly income to support a Missionary to be employed in the State of New Jersey, under the direction and sanction of said Convention.

In connection with this bequest there were circumstances showing that the testator desired and expected that the same be dedicated to the maintenance of a Missionary to the region known as "The Pines;" a Missionary not to remain at one station, but to travel and minister throughout the region.

The estate of the testator not being as large as was anticipated, there was an abatement from all the legacies.

The total Fund received from this bequest was $6,417.53 and the annual income has been paid over to the Convocation of Burlington under the direction of the Convention.

The desire of the testator has always been respected in the appropriation of the income of the Fund, and this consideration for his will should continue, and should control the expenditure of the Fund in future.

The Missionary Fund was created by the appropriation of ten per cent. of the contributions for a sinking fund for Missionary purposes, this was discontinued many years ago, and in 1875 the Fund amounted to $314.01. One half of this was transferred to the Diocese of North New Jersey, and the Trustees of the Missionary Fund of the Diocese of New Jersey now hold the balance, $157.01, and pay the income over to the Bishop for Missionary purposes, according to Sec. 2, Canon IV., Title

THE HARRISON LEGACY.

Charlotte S. Harrison, by her will, gave all her residuary estate including the net proceeds of the sale of her real estate, to her Executors to be divided into two equal shares or parts. One thereof is to be paid unto the Treasurer of the Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the State of New Jersey, for the use and benefit of the Diocesan Mission in said state; and the other is to be paid to the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America (which was incorporated in the State of New York in the year 1846), for the use of the Domestic Committee of said Society.

The Trustees of the Missionary Funds of the Diocese of New Jersey have received $13,799.47 on account of this fund, and a further sum soon to be added to it out of the proceeds of the sale of the balance of the real estate.

One half of the income of this legacy has been paid over to the Treasurer of the Diocese of Northern New Jersey and the other half divided equally between the Convocations of Burlington and New Brunswick.

Your Committee call attention to the language of the residuary clause of the will, which indicates that the fund is intended by the testatrix for the use and benefit of Diocesan Missions in the State of New Jersey. And they suggest that after it is all received the Convention shall in some proper manner direct that the principal and income of the fund be divided between this Diocese and the Diocese of Northern New Jersey.

THE VOUGHT LEGACY.

Mrs. Louisa S. Vought of Freehold, in her will, made the following bequest: "I give, devise and bequeath unto the Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the present Diocese of New Jersey (being the Southernmost Diocese of the State) the sum of four thousand dollars for Missions of the Diocese."

The income of this Fund is paid over to the Bishop for Missionary purposes, by authority of Sec. 2, Canon IV. Title V.

There are other Funds for the Missionary work of the Diocese, now held by the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund, as follows, viz.:

HANFORD SMITH FUND.

Hanford Smith, late of Newark, by his will, dated in 1840, bequeathed, among other things, as follows, "I give and bequeath to the Treasurer for the time being of the 'Offerings of the Church' of the Protestant Episcopal Church of New Jersey, the one-fortieth part, being one-quarter of the one-tenth of the interest of my personal estate, hereinbefore mentioned, to be annually paid from the time of my decease to the said Treasurer, for the use of the said 'the Offerings of the Church,' until the final settlement of my estate by my executors, and the one-fortieth part, being one-quarter of one-tenth part of the capital of my said estate hereinbefore mentioned, when my estate shall be finally settled as aforesaid, to be paid over to the said Treasurer for the use of the said 'Offerings of the Church'."

The peculiar expression, "Offerings of the Church," was frequently used by the Right Reverend George W. Doane, D.D., late Bishop of this Diocese, to indicate "Missionary Funds," and the testator in this case used those words in that meaning. It was the accepted meaning of them in the Diocese at the time as used in this connection. The amount of this fund realized by the Diocese was $4,000. One-half of it has been paid over to the Diocese of Northern New Jersey. The remaining $2,000 is now held by the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund of this Diocese, and the income is paid over to the Treasurer of the Convention by whom it has always been treated as a fund for Missionary purposes, and as far as has been learned this bequest has always been used, since the death of the testator, a period of over forty years, as a fund the income of which was intended by him for Missionary purposes. The bequest is not to the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund, but to the Treasurer of the "Of the Church," so that the present holders of this fund do not apply to the will of the testator to be its proper custodians. "The Treasurer at the time being" of the Missionary Funds of the Diocese is the legatee to receive the fund, and as by the recent action of the Convention the Missionary Funds in the hands of the Treasurer of the Diocese have been transferred to the Trustees of the Missionary Fund, it seems to be in accordance with the will of this Convention, and not inconsistent with the will of the testator, that the Hanford Smith Fund shall be transferred to the same Corporation.

THE CONOVER FUND.

Mrs. Juliana Conover, by her will made in 1879, gave one full one-twentieth of the residue of her estate to the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund of the Diocese of New Jersey, a body corporate in said State, unto such other corporate body as may succeed them in the custody of the funds and property held or to be held for the benefit of the Diocese of New Jersey (being the most southerly of the Dioceses into which said State is divided) in trust nevertheless securely to invest the same and collect the rents, issues, income and interest thereof, at such time to time, so often as collected, to pay over the said income, deducting all expenses, taxes and assessments thereon, to the Bishop at the time being of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the present Diocese of New Jersey, or other ecclesiastical authority of said Church as may be used or applied, under the direction of the Convention of said Diocese, for the support and maintenance of Diocesan Missions in said Diocese, and for the aged and necessitous Episcopal Clergymen belonging to the same.

The estate of Mrs. Conover has been settled, and the whole of the legacy paid over to the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund of the Diocese. The sum amounts to $6,550.00, and the income is paid to the Bishop, who expends it for the objects mentioned in the will.

The language of the bequest contemplates the transfer of the fund to another corporate body to succeed the present trustees in the custody of the funds held or to be held for the benefit of the Diocese of New Jersey, and it is possible that this fund may be transferred to the appropriate Corporate Bodies organized to hold such funds. The Convention directs the use of the income, and has an equal control over the actions of the bodies of Trustees, whose duty under this trust would be only to of the principal, while the Bishop can use and apply the income, under the direction of the Convention, for the beneficial objects mentioned in the will.

The Rev. C. E. Phelps, Chairman of the Committee on New Parishes, made the following Report:

The Committee on the Admission of New Parishes respectfully report:

That papers with reference to the admission into union with the Convention of the Church of the Ascension, Atlantic City, have been presented to the Committee. These papers are in accord with all the requirements of Art V. of the Constitution except that of Sec. 2, which requires that "duly authenticated copies of the minutes, resolutions, etc.," shall be produced. Accompanying the papers aforesaid is an explanation to the effect that these minutes, etc., have been lost, and cannot be found after the most careful search. In view of these facts the Committee report that they are unable to decide in favor of the admission of this parish, but must leave the question to the decision of the Convention.

C. E. PHELPS,
W. H. NEILSON,
A. A. DEVOR,
A. C. HARTSHORNE,
W. W. THOMAS.

After an explanatory statement made by the Bishop, the Rev. Mr. Phelps moved, and it was unanimously Resolved, That the Church of the Ascension, Atlantic City, be admitted into union with this Convention.

The Rev. Dr. Garrison, Chairman of a Special Committee appointed by the last Convention (see Journal, p. 50) to consider by what legislation regular contributions might be obtained from parishes not in union with the Convention, made the following report, which, on his motion, was referred to the Committee on Constitution and Canons.

REPORT AND PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO TITLE II., CANON IV., BY THE COMMITTEE ON LEGISLATION WITH REFERENCE TO THE NON-CONTRIBUTING PARISHES.

Your Committee to whom was referred (See Journal of 1887, p. 50) the advisability of constitutional or canonical legislation in order to affect certain parishes which are not in Union with this Convention, beg to report:

1. That the existence within this Diocese of Parishes of the Protestant Episcopal Church, not in union with our ecclesiastical organization, is an anomaly not contemplated by either our secular or diocesan legislation, and not consistent with the principles of the American Church, or with the Constitution and Canons of the Diocese of New Jersey.

2. That the establishment of a regular system of contributions to our Episcopal and Convention funds from all parishes in the Diocese to whom our Episcopal ministration is extended, is so obviously proper as to require no extended argument. It is an obligation resting in common honesty.

3. That it appears to your Committee that a consideration more important than the financial one is presented by the presence within this Diocese of these detached parishes, viz.: the embarrassments which must come soon or late from having in the Diocese parishes bearing our name, and for whose behaviour we are held morally responsible, and yet with whom we have no Legislative or Canonical relations, and over whom we have no organic control. This is an evil we can and should avert.

4. The former of these evils might with propriety be left to the Bishop, upon a mere suggestion of the views of the Convention as expressed above. The latter one, however, will require Canonical legislation, which, for obvious reasons can apply only to parishes to be organized or established in the future, and accordingly it has been so proposed in the action that we advise in the premises.

5. Your Committee recommend that Title II, Canon IV, on "the Formation of New Parishes," be so amended that it shall read as follows:

TITLE II.—CANON IV.

Sec. 1. No new Parish shall be organized or established without the written consent of the Bishop, acting with the advice and consent of the Standing Committee. And no such assent of either the Bishop or Standing Committee shall be given until the Congregation applying to be so organized or established shall present to the Bishop a declaration in writing, passed at a regularly convened meeting of the Congregation, and signed by its President and Secretary. That,

1. The said Parish or Congregation, its Rector and Vestry, shall at all times adhere to and observe the Doctrines, Discipline and Worship of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America.
2. The said Parish or Congregation shall at all times be subject to the spiritual Jurisdiction and Authority of the Bishop of the Diocese of New Jersey, and in case of a Division of the Diocese, to that Bishop within the limits of whose Jurisdiction it may come.
3. The said Parish or Congregation, whether organized with Trustees, or with Wardens and Vestrymen, will apply, so soon as possible after its incorporation, for admission into Union with the Convention of the Diocese of New Jersey, and when so admitted will be subject to the Constitution and Canons thereof.

Sec. 2. No Parish or Congregation hereafter organized or established shall be entitled to the Episcopal Visitation and Ministrations until it have complied with the provisions of this Canon.

SEC. 3. When the new Parish is to be established within the limits of any existing Parish or Parishes, the following shall be the order of procedure :

1. The persons desiring the formation of the Parish shall make application to the Bishop for his consent ; the application to be in writing, and to be signed by as many of them as may be convenient.
2. The Bishop shall thereupon lay the matter before the Standing Committee, and the Secretary thereof shall notify the authorities of the said Parish or Parishes that such application has been made, and that any objections to the formation of the proposed Parish will be duly considered, if submitted to the Bishop in writing.
3. After sixty days from the giving of such notice, the Bishop and Standing Committee shall make known their joint decision, and if it be in favor of the formation of the new Parish, the parties interested may proceed with its organization and incorporation.

SEC. 4. The consent of the Bishop and Standing Committee for the formation of a new Parish shall in all cases be given in the following form :

DIOCESE OF NEW JERSEY.

The formation of a new Parish in, County of, to be known as Church, having been duly considered by the Standing Committee, and approved by them, I do hereby give my Canonical consent to the formation of said Parish.

Given under my hand this day of, in the year of our Lord

., Bishop of New Jersey.

Attest :, Sec'y of the Standing Com.

CHAS. EWAN MERRITT,

The ten-cent assessment yielded $86.15, of which amount $25.00 was appropriated for a scholarship in a Preparatory School in Japan, and $25.00 for Domestic Contingent Fund. A number of “all day” meetings had been held in various parishes, with good results. Six parish branches have been added to the Auxiliary within the year. The report thus concludes: There are still many parishes in the Diocese not represented. To respond to the earnest calls for help which come from all parts of the Mission field, the co-operation of every parish is needed. In the course of the coming year, it is hoped that many more parish branches may be formed, and that all may realize how essential they are to the growth and prosperity of the entire work.

Offerings were received for Diocesan Missions; and the service was concluded by Prayers and the Bishop's Benediction.

TRINITY PARISH BUILDING,
Trenton, May 9, 1888.

At half-past seven o'clock A. M., there was a Celebration of the Holy Communion in Christ Church, the Bishop being Celebrant; and in Trinity Church, the Rev. Dean Rodman being Celebrant.

Morning Prayer was said in Trinity Church, at nine o'clock. Shortly after, the Convention re-assembled in the Parish Building, the Rt. Rev. the President in the Chair.

The Secretary called the names of the Clergy and of the Lay Deputies not present yesterday. The minutes of the preceding day were read, corrected and approved.

The election of the Standing Committee being in order, the Bishop appointed the Rev. Mr. Steward and the Rev. Mr. Earle, as tellers for the Clerical vote; Mr. Dix and Mr. Hind, for the Lay vote.

The election of Treasurer being in order, Mr. Charles Ewan Merritt was nominated; and there being no other nomination, the ballot was dispensed with, and Mr. Merritt was unanimously elected Treasurer.

Mr. Perkins moved to amend Rule V. 7, by adding the words "and of an Auditing Committee for each." The Rules of Order were suspended, and the question was referred. The Committee on Rules of Order, through their Chairman, the Rev. Mr. Culles, reported in favor of the Amendment, and it was adopted by the Convention.

It being in order to elect, for each of the four Trust Funds of the Diocese, one Trustee, to serve for three years, the Rev. Mr. Moses and Mr. Bennington Gill were appointed tellers; nominations were duly made, and the ballots resulted, and was declared as follows: Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund, Mr. Samuel K. Wilson; Widows and Orphans of Clergy Fund, Mr. Samuel K. Wilson; Missionary Fund of the Diocese, Mr. J. B. Dumont; Church Property of the Diocese, Mr. J. B. Dumont.

Messrs Bennington Gill and J. C. De Cou were elected the Committee to audit the accounts of the Trustees of the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund; and those, also, of the Widows and Orphans of Clergy Fund.

Messrs. J. Augustus Dix and E. B. Clark were elected the Committee to audit the accounts of the Trustees of the Missionary Fund and of the Trustees of Church Property of the Diocese.

The tellers on the election of the Standing Committee reported that the Clergy had elected the Rev. Dr. Garrison, the Rev. Mr. Norton, the Rev. Mr. Baker, and the Rev. Mr. Perkins; and their choice was, thereupon, on motion, approved by the Laity; and that the Laity had elected Messrs. R. S. Conover, Swift, Woodward and Pugh; and their choice was, on motion, approved by the Clergy.

Mr. J. B. Woodward and Mr. F. B. Levis were nominated as Committee to audit the Treasurer's accounts. There being no other nominations, the Secretary was instructed to cast the ballot, and these gentlemen were declared elected.

The Secretary was also instructed to cast the vote of the Convention for the Committee on the Episcopal Residence, viz.: Messrs. S. K. Wilson, J. B. Woodward, Joseph L. Bruere.

The Committee on Constitution and Canons recommended the adoption of the amended Canon, Title II, Canon IV, as proposed by the Committee on Canonical Legislation in reference to Non-Contributing Parishes.

On motion of the Rev. Mr. Murray, the Convention adopted their recommendation; and the Canon now stands as on pp. 43-45 of the Journal.

The same Committee recommend the adoption of the amendment proposed by the Rev. Elvin K. Smith:

To change Title II, Canon II, Sec. 5, by striking out in the first sentence, the words Morning Prayer, and inserting in the second sentence after the first day, so that the section as amended, will read: "Each Convention shall be opened by the celebration of the Holy Communion, and a sermon by the Presbyter appointed by the Bishop, when the Bishop himself does not deliver a Sermon or charge. Episcopal charges shall be published by the Convention without any motion to that effect. The business of each day after the first shall be preceded by the Morning Service of the church, the Bishop or the Minister of his appointment officiating.

The amendment was, on motion, adopted.

The Committee also reported in favor of Dean Rodman's proposed amendment of Title IV, Canon I, (p. 48, of Journal); and the Convention, on motion, adopted the amendment.

They reported adversely to Mr. Perkins' proposed amendment to Title II, Canon II, Sec. 2 (see page 47). Mr. Perkins moved the original proposition, which, upon a division being taken, was lost. So the Canon remains unchanged.

Mr. Merritt, on behalf of the Committee on Finance, presented and read the following Report: whereupon, on motion, the Resolutions recommended by the Committee were adopted by the Convention:

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON FINANCE.

The Finance Committee beg leave to report that they have made their estimate for the current expenses of the Diocese for the fiscal year, and they offer the following resolutions :

Resolved, That an assessment of two and a half (2½) per cent be made upon the parishes to meet the necessary expenses of the Convention.

F. S. CONOVER,
JOHN B. OSBOURN,
JOHN N. CARPENTER,
J. H. PUGH.

Mr. Merritt made the following final Report of the Committee on the Legacy of Miss Charlotte S. Harrison :

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE CHARLOTTE S. HARRISON

Your Committee beg leave to report that the executors of the last will and testament of Charlotte S. Harrison, deceased, have fully settled the estate of the said decedent, and have filed their final account, and that yesterday the Treasurer received from them the sum of $4,671.46, making a total sum of $18,470.93 received by the Treasurer of this Diocese, under and by virtue of said last will and testament. The Committee offer the following resolutions :

Resolved, That the Treasurer be directed to pay to the Trustees of the Missionary Fund the sum by him lately received from the said executors.

Resolved, That, as by the will of said decedent, said bequest was made for missionary work in the State of New Jersey, the Trustees of the Missionary Fund of this Diocese be and they are hereby authorized and directed to pay to the Treasurer, or other proper Trustee, of the Diocese of Newark, the one-half part of the principal and interest of the funds as aforesaid received from said estate.

Resolved, That the thanks of this Convention be and the same are hereby tendered to the executors of the said Charlotte S. Harrison, deceased, and especially to Mr. John L. Blake, one of said executors, by whose careful and wise management of said estate, the fund received by this Diocese has been greatly augmented, and the missionary work therein correspondingly aided.

CHAS. EWAN MERRITT,
For the Committee.

On motion, the resolutions were adopted, and the Committee was discharged, with the thanks of the Convention for their long and faithful services.

The Rev. Mr. Perkins read the following Report of the Committee appointed, yesterday, to consider a portion of the Episcopal Address, relating to the Aged and Infirm Clergy and Widows and Orphans of Clergy Funds.

The Committee appointed to consider so much of the Bishop's Address as pertains to the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund and also the conditions connected with the Widows and Orphans Fund, beg leave to offer the following report: An examination of the history of these funds and the canons under which they have been accumulated reveals the fact that they are and always have been guarded by conditions so much alike that we may consider them together. They are Funds that are in no sense general, but in the strictest sense of the word special. They always have been for the benefit of those who had complied with certain conditions. These conditions are in the Canons governing the Funds. They are that annual collections must be taken by those holding cures in the Diocese. A failure to take a collection for two consecutive years forfeits all rights in the Funds. Manifestly then those who have failed to comply with the conditions cannot and ought not to be partakers of the benefits. And yet many of the Clergy fail to note the fact of the conditional and special character of the Funds, and imagine that they have only to make application and they can receive the benefit. And here we must mark the nature of the guardianship of these funds. They are alike in that the Bishop must recommend. He cannot appropriate, he can but make a written application. Then the Standing Committee in one instance, and the Trustees in the other, must insist upon the canonical conditions of their trust. They owe it to those who have rights in the Funds. This is very difficult. The appeal is always for aid, and temptation is strong to yield.

It is then too late to comply with conditions. That time has passed, and the suffering must be endured. This apparently heartless conclusion, your Committee cannot avoid. They can only urge upon the Clergy and Parishes the importance and necessity of complying with the Canons. They would recommend the following resolutions :

Resolved, That this Convention earnestly recommends the guardians of Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund and Widows and Orphans of Clergy Fund to insist upon the canonical conditions in their grants of assistance.

Resolved, That this Convention would urge upon the Clergy a very careful compliance with the recommendations of the Canons, and that collections be made annually in every parish and mission station for these Funds.

C. M. PERKINS,
L. H. LIGHTHIPE, } Committee.
JAMES H. LAMB,

The Resolutions recommended by the Committee were adopted.

The Rev. Mr. Huff reported as Chairman of the Committee on that part of the Episcopal Address which relates to Diocesan Missions.

On motion of the Rev. Mr. Perkins the report was recommitted, to the same Committee, to report at the next Convention.

The Convention took a recess till 2.30.

TRINITY PARISH BUILDING,
Wednesday, 2.30 p. m.

The Convention re-assembled, the Rt. Rev. the President in the chair.

On motion of Mr. Parker it was

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed, with instructions to consider and report to this Convention, at the next session thereof, what further Canonical legislation, if any, beyond that this day adopted should be had, in reference to the formation of new parishes within the Diocese.

The Committee under this Resolution consists of the Rev. Dr. Garrison, the Chancellor, and the Treasurer.

The Rev. Mr. Kidder, Chairman of the Committee to consider so much of the Episcopal Address as relates to providing means for Theological Education, read its report, as follows :

The Committee appointed to consider so much of the Bishop's Address as refers to providing means for Theological Education, respectfully report :

That in the Diocese of New Jersey was formed the first Society in the American Church to provide for Theological Education, namely, The Society for the Promotion of Christian Knowledge and Piety, established October 12, 1810, for "the distribution of the Holy Bible, the Book of Common Prayer and religious tracts, and if the funds of the Society admit of it, to aid young men of piety and talents, who may need assistance, in the necessary preparation for the Gospel Ministry."

We therefore recommend the adoption of the following resolution :

Resolved, That this Convention recommend the Christian Knowledge Society of this Diocese as a worthy recipient of the offerings of our people, and urge upon Clergy and Laity to aid this organization with their offerings and their prayers, as the best means of providing support for Theological Education in this Diocese.

CHARLES HOLLAND KIDDER,
GEO. MORGAN HILIS,
E. M. RODMAN,
JAMES C. DE COU,
J. BINGHAM WOODWARD.

The Convention adopted the Resolution.

On motion of the Rev. Mr. Lamb, the Convention rescinded its former action, by which the second Resolution was ordered printed on the third page of the cover of JOURNAL.

On motion of Mr. Parker it was unanimously

Resolved, That the thanks of this Convention are hereby given to the Churchmen of Trenton generally, to the members of Trinity Parish particularly, and to the ladies especially, for the bounteous hospitality dispensed to us at the present session.

Resolved, That the thanks of the Convention are also extended to the choir of this Parish for the beautiful and churchly music of the opening and other religious services of the Convention.

On motion of the Rev. Mr. Lighthipe it was Resolved, That the Treasurer of the Diocese be authorized to pay the usual sum to the Sexton of Trinity Church, Trenton, for his services.

Also,

Resolved, That the Secretary be authorized to have 1000 copies of the Journal printed, and distributed as usual.

The Trustees of the Episcopal Fund, by their Treasurer, Mr. John N. Carpender, offered the following Preamble and Resolutions, which, upon Mr. Carpender's motion, were adopted :

WHEREAS, the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund hold real and personal property, not used for the support of the Episcopate of the Diocese, which should be in the possession and control of one or other of the several Boards of Trustees lately organized by the Convention ; therefore,

Resolved, That the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund be directed to pay over to the Trustees of the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund the sum of five thousand dollars received from the Estate of Louisa S. Vought, in compliance with the terms of her bequest.

Resolved, That the question of the transfer of other Trust Funds in the hands of the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund, both real and personal, not used for the support of the Episcopate, be referred to said Trustees for further consideration, and to report at the next Convention what action should be taken. And the Chancellor of the Diocese is hereby requested to advise the said Trustees as to the transfers and conveyances.

The Rev. Mr. Rodman read the following Report of the Committee appointed at last Convention to procure legislation requiring Marriage License, [p. 50, Journal of 1887.]

The Committee appointed at the last Convention "to act with a Corresponding Committee of the Diocese of Newark to memorialize the Legislature of the State of New Jersey, to pass an act requiring the procuring of a license before a marriage can be contracted," beg leave respectfully to report that owing to unavoidable hindrances, it was not possible for the members of the Committee to present the matter to the Diocese of Newark.

E. M. RODMAN,
O. A. GLAZEBROOK.

Trenton, N. J., May 8, 1888.

On motion the Committee was continued, to report next year.

Mr. Parker made a verbal report on behalf of the Committee on Reprint of Early Journals.

The Committee was continued, and on motion of Dr. Pugh it was Resolved, That the subscription of this Convention, for the reprint of early Journals, be increased from 50 to 100 copies.

The Committee appointed yesterday to consider and report upon the increase of the Permanent Episcopal Fund, reported through their Chairman, the Rev. Mr. Tibbals, the following Resolutions, which, upon his motion, were adopted.

Resolved, That it is the sense of this Convention that the Episcopal Fund should be increased in accordance with the recommendation of the Bishop in his Address, by annual offerings from each Parish, to be added to the permanent endowment.

Resolved, That the Secretary be instructed to send a copy of this resolution to each Rector and Missionary in the Diocese, calling attention to the action of the Convention, and prefacing it by the portion of the Bishop's Address bearing upon the subject.

The Bishop having withdrawn, and Dean Rodman being in the chair, the Rev. Dr. Neilson made a verbal report on behalf of the Committee appointed last year to send the Bishop to the approaching Lambeth Conference. Whereupon, on motion of Mr. Carpender, it was by the Convention unanimously

Resolved, That the Bishop of the Diocese be requested to attend the Lambeth Conference, and the Convention assure him that ample funds will be provided to defray all his expenses.

The Bishop resumed the Chair.

On motion of Mr. Parker it was

Resolved, That the Treasurer of the Diocese be requested to procure from the Rectors a revised list of salaries now paid, and that the Finance Committee be instructed to revise their assessments accordingly.

On motion of the Rev. T. M. Reilly it was Resolved, That a committee of three clergymen and three laymen be appointed by the Bishop, to take into consideration what the Church in this Diocese is doing, if anything, toward the education of her children; what her duties are, if any, to establish schools for the instruction of the youth entrusted by our Heavenly Father to her care; and to report to the next Convention.

The Bishop appointed as Committee under this resolution, the Rev. T. M. Reilly, the Rev. F. M. McAllister, the Rev. A. B. Baker, and Messrs. Pugh, Swift and Richards.

The Bishop having announced the illness of the Rev. Ezra Isaac, it was on motion of the Rev. Dean Rodman, Resolved, That the Secretary be instructed to convey to our suffering brother the assurance of the affection and sympathy of the Convention.*

* The resulting correspondence is herewith given.

DEAR REVEREND BROTHER :—

Just before our adjournment yesterday, the Bishop informed the members of the Convention of your great illness. Your brethren, clerical and lay, feel deep regret for your suffering, and by a unanimous vote instructed the Secretary to tell you of their affection and sympathy.

I know, dear brother, that you are minded to say, with full sincerity, "Thy will be done." I believe the dear Lord has made you ready to share the Apostle's persuasion, "To depart is far better," because it is, "to be with Christ."

And what a day is this for holy aspirations and for peaceful assurance of the rest and of the glory that await His members, who has gone up on high! "Lord, send Thy promised Comforter and lead us to Thy rest."

Commending you to His loving care, to whom, long ago, you committed your all, I am, dear Mr. Isaac,

Your affectionate friend and brother,

ELVIN K. SMITH.

THE REV. EZRA ISAAC.

BORDENTOWN, N. J., May 14, 1888.

REVEREND AND DEAR BROTHER :—

Your most welcome letter was handed me late Saturday evening. It touched my heart very much. I am not in the least worthy of such a recognition. May the Holy One of Israel be Himself the reward of the

The minutes of this day's proceedings were read and approved.

The Bishop addressed the Convention, said the closing prayers, and pronounced the benediction.

The Convention then, at 3.30 p. m., adjourned sine die.

President.

Attest,

ELVIN K. SMITH,

Secretary.

Diocese at large! Please convey my grateful thanks to the Convention—both clergy and laity—for this their Christly sympathy. This being my first and last Diocese as a Priest of God, for the last full eighteen years I have received nothing but kindness and love from all the members of the Convention. May the eternal blessing from our Divine Head be poured out abundantly upon each one of you, my dear brethren!

I feel somewhat better. But the entrance of dropsy into a system already enfeebled for years past, leaves it only a question of time as to when the happy release arrives. While in the furnace I shall, thro' grace, glorify our God in the fires. My spiritual house is set in order on the sole merit of the Atoning Blood of the Lamb of God, and I am only waiting for the Master's call to go up higher.

Thanking you for your personal share in this token of love, I remain

Yours affectionately,

EZRA ISAAC.

Secretary, &c., &c.

NOTE.

The Canons provide that every clergyman in charge of a Parish shall make yearly report in the terms of the Schedule sent out by the Bishop for the purpose ; that if the Parish be without a minister, this shall be done by one of the wardens ; and that "in case a proper report be not made according to the Canons of the General Convention on this subject, by the minister or other proper authority of any Parish, it shall be the duty of the Bishop to cause enquiry to be made into the condition of such Parish."

The General Canon further directs that "every clergyman, not regularly settled in any Parish or Church, shall also report the occasional services he may have performed ; and if he have performed no such services, the causes and reasons which have prevented the same."

A list of the Parishes, Mission Stations and Clergymen not reporting, will be found immediately after the Reports that make up Appendix No. I.

ST. BARNABAS' FREE CHURCH, BURLINGTON.

THE REV. GEORGE W. HARROD, PRIEST IN CHARGE.

I entered on my duties as Priest in charge of St. Barnabas' Free Church, Burlington, on March 22nd, 1888. So short a time has elapsed that I am unable to make any detailed statement for this Conventional year, except to state that since the re-opening of St. Barnabas' Church I have held Divine Service 45 times, celebrated the Holy Eucharist 16 times. I am unable to make any financial report or give parochial statistics. The kindness of friends and well-wishers has enabled us to put the inside of the church in good repair. The work seems reasonably encouraging.

ST. JOHN'S CHAPEL, CAPE MAY.

A summer congregation. Free from debt; the collections covering expenses and keeping the building in repair. The offerings on the last Sunday in July are appropriated to the Diocese of New Jersey. Attendance at the services—fifteen Sundays in the year—ranges from 50 persons to 800, "largely non-Episcopal."

ST. PETER'S CHURCH BY THE SEA, CAPE MAY POINT.

[REPORT BY THE REV. W. H. GRAFF.]

This Chapel occupies one of the finest lots in the place, being opposite the Hotel lawn, and directly on the beach.

Its summer services have been steadily maintained for several years; including, during July and August, a daily morning service at 9 o'clock, all attended.

The Chapel is under the direction of a Committee of management, appointed by the Bishop of New Jersey, and is in direct sympathy with the Diocese.

Thanks are due to the Clergy of the church, resident, or visiting at Cape Point, since, in every case, their services have been gratuitously rendered.

The offerings have been devoted to the purchase and care of the property, needed improvements, and sometimes to the mere expenses of clergy-men visiting on purpose to officiate.

The property is clear of all encumbrance. Pews are wanted, which we hope will be obtained during the season of 1888.

That the services maintained have been acceptable to the people and useful to the church, we have had many pleasing evidences.

The Clergy at present in charge of the management are Rev. E. H. Applee, Rev. J. D. W. Perry, D.D., Rev. Geo. S. Fullerton and Rev. W. H. Graff.

Work has been carried on at this mission subject to the vicissitudes of all such enterprises. Frequent removals are a disadvantage to systematic instruction, especially to children. The debt on the Mission property has been reduced, and we expect to effect arrangements for the liquidation of the balance, in such a way that we shall be free from undue anxiety on the part of those interested in the Mission, and from the importunity of those who have furnished building materials.

I record again my obligation to the Rev. Wm. M. Reilly, for services rendered during the past year. My lay readers have heartily seconded my efforts and contributed much to the interest that exists in the mission.

This report does not include the details of the mission of the Parish at Essex Mills.

The present rector assumed charge of the parish on Sept. 1st, and owing to the fact that for some eight months the parish had been without a rector, it is impossible to give complete statistics for the year. During the past few months a new pipe organ of exceptionally fine tone has been built for the church by L. C. Harrison, of New York. The altar has been provided with a handsome brass cross and vases, the gift of Young Ladies Guild, as a memorial of its president who died during the year. The church has also been newly carpeted by the efforts of children of the Sunday School. We now are looking forward to improving the church building by adding a recess chancel, the funds for which we hope to secure at no very distant day.

This Sunday School is only a year old, but is growing gradually. A timely gift of 70 odd volumes for its library through the interest of the Bishop has been of great service.

Since the Bishop's visitation this mission has felt the thrill of a new life, and has been steadily improving; the attendance, too, has been increased since the church has been kept open every Sunday; the attendance during Lent was remarkably good, and the interest seemed to continue to the end.

All we need to establish the church on a permanent basis, after its long paralysis, produced by long vacancies in the pastorate, occasioned by death, withdrawal and loss of courage, is a donation of $600 or $700 from some liberal churchly laymen to put the church in churchly order. It would help wonderfully to make it self-supporting.

During the past year the church building has been moved from the old site, east of the P. R. R., to the new one, Elm Street, corner Washington Ave., presented by Mr. Walter Luttgen. During the time of preparing, moving and placing the church building on the new site, four months, two services were held by courtesy of the officers of the Methodist body in their building. Sunday before Advent the church was opened for the first time with a service of song and thanksgiving. The interior of the church has been beautifully decorated; gas has been introduced, and a new chancel window placed, all through the generosity of Mr. Luttgen. The church is now in the midst of the homes of the members of the congregation. The attendance and new interest evinced show the wisdom of making the change.

The offerings from the Guild and Sunday School are a substantial aid, to which are to be added generous individual gifts. But the results of work and faith cannot be computed in dollars and cents.

This little mission—which has suffered severely from removals of families out of this pretty and picturesque little town, who went to find business elsewhere—is yet striving not only to live a healthy Church life, contributing to all Church objects outside for which a call is made on them, but is also trying to aid others less privileged than themselves. During last Conventional year a small organ was secured and shipped to a desolate settlement in South Florida near the “Everglades,” where is no church-going bell, no missionary of the Church nor of any denomination.

The services in Rocky Hill have recently been increased in number by the kind and considerate aid of Rev. A. B. Baker, who supplies horse, vehicle and lay-reader for the purpose.

During the past year I have continued to assist the General Secretary of the Board of Managers of the Domestic and Foreign Missions Society.

THE REV. WILLIAM J. CLARK :

For several years the Good Father has laid His afflicting hand on me, so that I am much disabled. No report of work has been possible. I ask your prayers.

THE REV. WILLIAM R. EARLE :

I have assisted in the celebration of the Holy Eucharist 17 times ; baptized 2 infants, and preached 7 times ; whole number of public services, 37.

THE REV. J. PRESTON FUGETTE :

I am settled in this city, (Baltimore), and actively engaged in the work of the Ministry, taking charge of different parishes for a month at a time, or longer, and so employed during the year. My official acts are recorded in the respective Parish Registers.

THE REV. J. F. GARRISON, M.D., D.D., PROFESSOR OF LITURGICS AND CANON LAW IN THE DIVINITY SCHOOL IN PHILADELPHIA :

During the year I have performed regularly the duties of my chair in the Seminary. In consequence of the death of Rev. Dr. Meier Smith, Professor of Homiletics in the School, that chair became vacant, and the Trustees not having chosen any one at their Annual Meeting to fill it, requested me to deliver a course to the School on Sermonizing. In compliance with their desire I have delivered a course of some twenty-five lectures on the purposes, methods, and errors of sermons, with special reference to the present needs of the Church, and also on the conduct of Sunday Schools, Bible-Classes and Classes for Confirmation. Besides my services in regular course in the Seminary Chapel, I have preached very frequently, as occasion called, and performed a few of the private services of Baptism and Communion when the circumstances demanded them.

THE REV. J. U. GRAF :

Since the expiration of my engagement at the Church of the Holy Cross, Perth Amboy, I have been for the best part of the year under medical care. I have acted as occasional supply at St. Paul's and Church of Our Saviour, Baltimore ; House of Prayer, Lowell, Mass. ; and Church of Our Saviour, Camden, N. J.

THE REV. CHARLES HOLLAND KIDDER :

During the past Convention year I have taken occasional services in this Diocese and in Central Pennsylvania. During the months of July and August, 1887, I officiated in All Saints' Memorial Church, Lakewood, in the absence of the Rev. R. L. Brydges.

I have been constantly engaged, during the past Convention year, in my duties as General Secretary of the Board of Managers of the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society.

THE REV. JOHN RUTHERFORD MATTHEWS :

I have the honor to state that on the 10th of May, 1887, I reported for duty, as per order, on board the U. S. S. "Trenton," at Norfolk, Va.; was detached therefrom on the 7th July following; was on "waiting orders" until 17th of March last, when, as per orders, I reported for duty on board this ship (the "Pensacola") at New York, and expect to remain (D. V.) with her during the present "commission."

THE REV. WILLIAM MATTHIAS :

I supplied St. Andrew's Mission, Camden, with Morning and Evening Prayer and preaching on Sundays, from May 8 to October 30; since which time I have held six services in different places; I have also celebrated the Holy Communion once, baptized 4 children and married 3 couples.

THE REV. S. B. MOORE :

Last November I resigned the Rectorship of Grace Church, Elizabeth. The Parish Register contains the record of all official acts performed by me, since the Convention of '87 until the close of my ministry there,—which will no doubt be included in the annual report from that Church.

My home since I left Elizabeth has been in New York City, and I have officiated frequently during the winter and spring in that city and in adjacent Dioceses.

THE REV. E. GAINES NOCK :

During the Conventional year I have had charge of St. Peter's Church, Smyrna, Delaware. The record of my work will be necessarily included in the report of this parish.

THE REV. WILLIAM B. OTIS :

I still reside at Clifton, Va., but am without any regular charge. I officiate whenever called upon by the neighboring Clergy, and occasionally hold services at this place in the absence of the regular Clergyman. My health is now much better than usual, and should an opportunity offer, I feel able to take charge of a small parish.

THE REV. JOHN ROWLAND :

I have remained at Somerville during the Diocesan year now closing. I have attended church regularly, except when hindered by sickness, and have assisted the Rector by taking such parts in the service as he assigned me. I am thankful to the Bishop and the Standing Committee for their generous consideration of my aged and infirm condition.

THE REV. L. S. RUSSELL :

During the last Conventional year I have assisted in acts of public worship and have performed many occasional services, but none that properly belong to the records of the Diocese of New Jersey.

THE REV. WM. AUGUSTUS SCHUBERT :

On account of internal injuries and other ailments, I have been unable to do much work for years. I have, however, on several occasions, assisted Clergymen in this Diocese, (Maryland,) and, during the illness of Dr. Hyland, of Oxon Hill, conducted his services for seven Sundays.

NOTE.

The Diocesan Convention took important action in reference to this Society, on Wednesday, May 9, 1888.

The Rev. Mr. Kidder read the following Report :

The Committee appointed to consider so much of the Bishop's address as refers to providing means for theological education, respectfully report :

That in the Diocese of New Jersey was formed the first Society in the American Church to provide for theological education, namely, The Society for the Promotion of Christian Knowledge and Piety, established October 12, 1810, for "the distribution of the Holy Bible, the Book of Common Prayer and religious tracts, and, if the funds of the Society admit of it, to aid young men of piety and talents, who may need assistance, in the necessary preparation for the Gospel Ministry."

We therefore recommend the adoption of the following resolution :

Resolved, That this Convention recommend the Christian Knowledge Society of this Diocese as a worthy recipient of the offerings of our people, and urge upon clergy and laity to aid this organization with their offerings and their prayers as the best means of providing support for theological education in this Diocese.

CHARLES HOLLAND KIDDER,
GEORGE MORGAN HILLS,
E. M. RODMAN,
JAMES C. DE COU,
J. BINGHAM WOODWARD,

Committee.

Whereupon the Convention unanimously adopted the Resolution, as recommended by the Committee.

FOURTEENTH ANNUAL ADDRESS

OF THE

Rev. John Scarborough, D.D.,

BISHOP OF THE DIOCESE.

DEAR BRETHREN OF THE CLERGY AND LAITY :

According to the good hand of our God upon us, we are permitted to meet together in Annual Convention, to legislate for the well-being of the Diocese and to devise the best methods for the advancement and strengthening of the work committed to us here.

All over the world there are signs of awakened interest and new life and vigor, in the advancement of Christ's Church and Kingdom. Great missionary ventures are seeking new fields, and making large conquests for Christ. An increasing sense of the responsibility of stewardship is bringing, year by year, larger gifts to the Altar. There are everywhere manifested the tokens of the up-lifting and extension of the Church's life and power. In her methods of administration and worship she is adapting herself most wisely to the new conditions that surround her. Old issues, if not quite settled, are discussed calmly and in a spirit of charity and tolerance. For all which we ought to be devoutly thankful.

In our own Diocese, where all the conditions of life are fixed and settled, we are like the trees in the valley that feel only the gentle stirrings of the wind. There is not here the rushing of new elements and that striving of diverse interests for the mastery, which exist in some other parts of the country. The great waves of emigration sweep over and pass us, to the newer States and Territories of the West and Northwest. In most of our towns and villages the great bulk of the population have cast in their lot with one or the other of the religious bodies already established among them, so that coming late to the field we find little material to work upon, and missionary enterprise, if it succeed at all, can succeed only by the disintegration of our Christian bodies, or by gathering in the small remains which they have failed to assimilate. This too often serves only to emphasize differences and engender bitter feelings. The saddest evidence of the evil resulting from division, the strongest argument for Christian unity may be found in some of our towns and cities, where in a population of three or four thousand souls there are a dozen places of worship of various names and creeds, and as many ministers, each struggling for the barest existence, and perhaps supported in part by the funds of their respective bodies, only to be doomed to a state of chronic feebleness. Two or three good men, at the most, might find work and be decently maintained by the gifts of the people, contending with sin and Satan, rather than with one another! Division is such a waste that I almost wonder it does not work its own cure in a practical age like ours.

In the face of such conditions, large or sudden growth is not to be looked for nor expected, and yet with all these adverse circumstances we have to meet, our work prospers and there is steady advance made all along the line every year. Very seldom are we compelled to mourn any backward, or count our loss in any quarter.

The addition of new church buildings has not been large. St. Paul's, Bound Brook, that was burnt a few years ago, is rising from its ashes in a fairer growth and on a better site than the old building which was destroyed. A very pretty seaside chapel is nearing completion at Key-East; and Christ Church, Chambersburg, now in the City of Trenton, has a neat chapel of wood, seating three hundred and fifty people. There is as yet no parish organization, but there is already a large and generously self-sustaining congregation, with its own pastor, and all the machinery needed for the successful prosecution of the work, with a vested choir of men and boys, well trained, and as hearty and reverent a service as any in the Diocese. I am more and more surprised at the rapid development of this work, and more and more grieved that for twelve years I was compelled, for lack of means, to sit still and do nothing, in a community growing at my very door into the proportions of a large city. The success attained is very grateful to me.

Just what its final shape may be will depend on others. If the Diocese care to have a Bishop's Church, my own preference would be to make this the nucleus or beginning of it. The grand scheme for a Cathedral in the Diocese and City of New York has inspired others, with fewer numbers and smaller means, to undertake something in the same direction. All five of the Dioceses within the State of New York have now, either in fact or in contemplation, their Cathedral Churches. Many of the younger Dioceses have led the way and set the example, which the whole Church seems disposed to follow. Missouri has just raised fifty thousand dollars—and proposes to make it one hundred thousand—to make Christ Church, St. Louis, the Bishop's Church, and free, the wardens and vestry acquiescing in the change. But it is far more difficult to change an established parish than to build from the foundation and begin anew.

Here then, in the capital city of the State, is a Church in embryo that can be fashioned after any pattern, situated on the corner of two main thoroughfares, with ample ground and more adjoining that can be bought now, but will not remain long in the market.

A modest beginning might be made here, which in time shall become the Diocesan Church or Cathedral. I care very little about the name, so that the thing itself is practical and within reach. I must confess very frankly I should like to see in this Diocese a church built, beautiful and costly, if possible, where the Bishop shall have as much of right as the Rector of a parish has, where the service, ordered by him, may be the norm or type for the Diocese, where the Annual Convention may hold its sessions, and about which may cluster some of the active agencies so essential to the life and work of a growing church.

A Diocesan-house, where the Standing Committee and the various bodies of Trustees might hold their meetings and keep their archives, would, of course, be a part of the plan. A Clergy-house, too, I should hope to have, where, under the eye of a godly and well-learned Priest, the newly-ordained Deacons might spend a year at least in hard mission work, receiving in return only their food and raiment. I am sure this would be a great gain to the working force of the Diocese, and a greater gain to the young men themselves, who, as things are now, too often seek a parish and settlement in life the moment they leave the Seminary.

In addition to all this, the Orphanage and the Hospital would give completeness to the picture, and add a fitting crown to the work. But I need not extend the vision. I do not know that the clergy and laity of the Diocese care anything about my grand ideal of a Bishop's Church, with its varied institutions and helps that I have named grouped about it, making it in reality the centre of activity and influence for all the region round about. There is surely not much danger in this day of magnifying unduly either the Bishop or his office. The danger and the tendency lie in another and an opposite direction. There is wealth enough in the hands of our people to do all this, and more, without feeling it; but our rich men and women in New Jersey have done very little hitherto, outside the bounds of their several parishes, for the upbuilding of institutions or the strengthening of the Church at large.

I do not expect to see all this accomplished in my day. If I could lay the foundation in a modest way, I should be quite content to leave to others the completion of the work. I can go on to the end of my own Episcopate, whether it be near or far off, quite contented with the old order of things, and without any of the agencies which I have pictured as a part of the machinery of a model Diocese, if the Convention so decree. The property that is waiting for the hand of destiny to shape and mould its future, can be deeded to an ordinary parochial organization, where I shall find a welcome always, as, indeed, I do in all the parish churches of the Diocese.

I have no ambition to rival New York, Long Island or Albany either in cost or magnificence of structure. Fifty thousand dollars ought to suffice for all our present needs. I should greatly rejoice to be permitted to leave behind me such a mark of growth and progress, for my successors to enjoy. Already I have some costly gifts in my possession for a Bishop's Church, vessels for the Holy Communion, of solid silver and gold, a marble font, a lecturn of brass, and ornaments for the altar, as well as the altar itself, a beautiful copy of the Holy Scriptures, and many other things, all of them gifts, and most of them memorials, good enough to grace any church in land, and well fitted for use in the Bishop's Church, if it be God's will and yours to build it.

The Rev. Robert Lloyd Goldsborough, Rector of St. Barnabas' Church, Burlington, one of the oldest of the clergy in years and by canonical residence, had just taken his Letter Dimissory to the Diocese of Easton, expecting to spend the remainder of his days among his kin, when, after a brilliant illness, God gave him a better home, even an heavenly.

The Parish had been steadily declining for years, the doors of the church were closed, and the congregation scattered, and but for the large-hearted generosity of St. Mary's Rector and people the work would have stopped permanent and the parish become extinct. By the zealous efforts of one good Christian woman mainly, a goodly sum of money was raised, the church put in thorough repair, and the Rector's salary pledged for a whole year. After a service of benediction, prepared with his usual good taste by the Rector of St. Mary's, the Rev. Mr. Harrod entered on his duty by appointment of the Bishop. The scattered flock is being gradually gathered in again, and there is already the joy of harvest in the hearts of both pastor and people. I dwell with emphasis on this marked instance of the strong ministering to the weak, because I am compelled so frequently to see just the opposite. Our parish life so crystallizes the interests and affections of the people, that they are content for the most part, "to look on their own things" only, and not "on the things of others." Increasing strength and numbers, instead of making them more large-hearted and generous, too often serve to intensify the spirit of selfishness. St. Mary's will be none the poorer nor the weaker for her generous deed. And though there may be honest rivalry between the parishes, there can be only good-will between the work and the workers in that city. "O si sic omnes!"

On the evening of all Saints' Day there was a joyous gathering in the new Rectory of St. Andrew's Parish, Lambertville, for the service of benediction. It was a fulfilling of many hopes, and a long stride in advance for the little band of churchmen who had labored and waited patiently for the happy consummation. Only a few weeks went by, and the scene was changed. The house of feasting had become the house of mourning, and the wife and mother was carried forth to her burial. Very fittingly her last earthly resting place is in St. Mary's Churchyard, Burlington. The daughters of St. Mary's Hall will remember her as the gentle loving friend and counsellor of their school days, while the mourning flock of her husband in Lambertville will not soon forget her.

Twice during the past few weeks has death entered the Rectory at Moorestown, claiming alike the young and the old. He is no respecter of persons. The Rectors of Perth Amboy, South Amboy and Keyport have had their losses, too, and have been strengthened by the prayers and sympathies of their brethren. Two of the oldest Church Wardens in the Diocese have been called hence during the year, Mr. J. Ogden Cuthbert, of Haddonfield, and Mr. John M. Tufts, of Rahway. Mr. Tufts was the oldest living graduate of West Point, and a most generous benefactor of St. Paul's Church in Rahway.

Miss Esther B. Stevens, of Princeton, by her last will, has left the Trustees of the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund one of her residuary legatees. The estate is not yet settled, and the amount of her benefaction is not yet known.

A few years ago a gift of $8,000 in money was made to the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund, but the name of the donor was withheld, in the spirit of true modesty, copied from the Master, who said to one upon whom He had conferred a great benefit, "See thou tell no man." It is no betrayal of confidence now to put on record the fact that this saintly woman, through her Rector and her Bishop, laid up in heaven so much of her earthly goods, while she was yet on this side the veil. Her name deserves to be enrolled among the benefactors of the Diocese that her example may be a stimulus to others to go and do likewise.

Three of the Bishops of the Church have been called hence—Bishop Stevens, of Pennsylvania; Dunlop, of New Mexico and Arizona; and Brown, of Fond du Lac.

Bishop Stevens was a man of rare gifts and graces, a gentleman of refined and polished manners, a preacher of wonderful power. In the quarter of a century which measured his Episcopate, his jurisdiction had been twice divided; but like the loaves in the hands of Christ, the remainder is greater than the original whole! He was one of my consecrators and as he was a very near neighbor, so I always found him a wise counsellor and a true friend.

Bishop Dunlop was less widely known, but in a hard and fruitless field he labored faithfully to the end. Many will recall him in this Diocese, as he made a missionary tour through it several years ago at the request of the Board of Managers.

Bishop Brown, of Fond du Lac, has but just gone from us, and the suddenness of the blow is staggering to me, who knew him through all his ministerial life, and loved him as a friend. He was just my age, and we were both consecrated the same year. As pure as he was noble in character, as gentle as he was firm in principle, I have rarely known a more perfect life. Alas! that his sun should have gone down while it was yet day—as we thought.

Some of our older Bishops are asking for the assistance of younger men, to lighten their labors. Hitherto the church has not grudged such requests, but there is now a growing feeling against the multiplication of Assistant Bishops. The Diocese by that means gains, as the Canons now stand, double representation in the House of Bishops, which might become serious ground of complaint in an exciting issue or a close vote. The policy of the Church in this country has been against Episcopal resignations, but I can see no good reason why any stigma should attach to the resignation of a See, nor why a Diocese should not make decent provision for its aged Bishop, as our parishes do for their worn-out Rectors.

Perhaps the most prominent of all the issues before the bar of Christian public opinion to-day is the question of "unity." The declaration put forth by the House of Bishops in Chicago has received large discussion in both press and pulpit. Some of the most conservative religious bodies in the land have treated this Eirenicon in a spirit of fairness, as viewed from their standpoint. I have read nearly everything that has been published, and I must confess I can see little hope of immediate or practical results. There have been spasmodic efforts here and there to make a show of unity, but it has seemed to thoughtful minds as though all such efforts were premature, or only meant for stage-effect.

God forbid that I should think or speak slightly of any step taken to draw the ranks closer, so that "all who profess and call themselves Christians may be led into the way of truth, and hold the faith in unity of spirit, in the bond of peace, and in righteousness of life." Not by ignoring differences, but by emphasizing principles that are fundamental, can we hope to accomplish any permanent good, or do more than make a hollow truce. There is in some quarters certainly a softening of prejudices, a broadening of views, and a more kind and courteous spirit than formerly. But more frequently there is an entire misconception of the overtures made, or the terms submitted by the Bishops in their Declaration. Some have taken it as a challenge to surrender without conditions, and give up all the cherished traditions of the past. Others, in a spirit of pride and boasting, ask why a body so small in numbers should arrogate to itself the task of uniting the disjointed members of the Christian world? Very few seem to realize that there is any sin involved in schism or separation. And fewer still have any true conception of the Church as the Body of Christ, for whose oneness He agonized in prayer.

The Roman Church makes the highwayman's demand of all who ask her terms of unity, "Stand and deliver. Give up every thing you hold dear, and take without questioning what I choose to give you!" Evidently there is little hope of unity in that direction. To the other Christian bodies we must look chiefly for a hearing. And while we pray for the breaking down of barriers, that names of divisions may, in God's good time, wholly cease, let us avoid all uncharitable thought or speech of those who cannot see with our eyes, and do not always judge us fairly. The change of sentiment in the Christian world is truly marvellous. Many earnest souls, outside of our fold, see and feel keenly the inconsistency of division, and are praying earnestly that the anomaly may cease. Like all great historic questions this may move slowly toward a final settlement, but it is some consolation to be able to say, as Galileo said of the earth: "It moves."

I am sorry I have not a more satisfactory report to make of our Diocesan Mission work. While in most things we are making progress, this seems to lag and fall behind. The gifts and contributions from individuals and parishes are not as large now as they were ten years ago. There must be reason for this, but just what it is, I am not able to discover. Our methods have been open for discussion. We have courted criticism or suggestion. I cannot find that there is dissatisfaction anywhere, but the sad fact remains, that our receipts have shrunk. This is most disheartening and disappointing. What is the remedy? I am loth to believe that the Convocation system is to blame, though perhaps we have not worked that as well and as thoroughly as we ought. No machinery, however good it may be, will run itself. The power is not inherent in the machine, and must be supplied from outside. Either we have been too modest in pressing the claims of our own needs, or the parish clergy have not their hearts in the work and so fail to commend it to their people with sufficient earnestness. The giving is not systematic, as it ought to be, in every case, and we have no fixed and definite pledges to depend on. Hence the anxiety from quarter to quarter, and hence the reluctance to enter upon new work.

I am strongly inclined to the belief that an itinerant missionary, in each of our Convocations, if we could find just the right men, would do more effective work for the advancement of the church, than we are now doing. You will have noticed that but a single place of public worship was added to our list of churches and chapels in the past year, and that received no aid from Convocation! I think this is the only year of my Episcopate when there has been no consecration of church or chapel.

I am not, as a rule, disposed to dwell on the dark side of things, but I can see very little encouragement in merely holding our own. There is ground for anxious heart-searching on the part of us all, Bishop, Clergy and Laity, when we find that in ten years our gifts instead of growing larger have actually fallen away! There are a few parishes in both the Convocations that still give largely. There are others that can do little more than care for themselves, and some that need help, instead of helping others. I often wonder that there is not more individual giving on the part of those who are blest with large means. There are two or three who contribute yearly to the fund that passes through my hands in charity, and but one, so far as I know, who gives largely to our Diocesan work. The Hon. Frederic A. Potts gives $200 a year to missions in Hunterdon County, and has long done so. As he is the only one who gives in this way I shall not offend any, by gratefully recording the fact here. Before we separate I hope we will face manfully the fact of our short-coming, find out the cause, if possible, and apply the remedy. Our growing cities ought to be the chief fields of mission labor, but, as a rule, our parochial system confronts us with reserved rights, and compels us to seek less promising and less bountiful regions.

The gifts to the Bishop's Trust Fund are larger than usual this year. Nineteen parishes contribute, with a few individual gifts added, nearly $800. Through the Woman's Auxiliary I have received $219. With these two sums I have been able to supplement the stipends of the Convocations, and render help in a number of instances, where it was sorely needed.

But five parishes have contributed anything toward the education of young men for the ministry, so far as I know. There may be, and doubtless are, gifts made through other channels, but I have examined the parochial reports with some care, and have scanned closely the receipts of all the general education societies of the church, and I fail to find more than a few dollars from this Diocese acknowledged anywhere. Surely, brethren of the clergy, $84.50 from five parishes does not represent your interest in the increase of the ministry! Does it not seem little less than sacrilege to be praying "The Lord of the Harvest to send forth laborers into His harvest," and then do nothing to make our prayer effective? Young men are offering themselves in goodly numbers, many of them needing help, and I am not able to receive them for lack of means. If the Bishop is not the proper person to handle and disburse such funds, I should be only too glad if the Convention were to raise a committee of clergymen and laymen that I may pre-the whole matter in their hands, and have some in authority to share the responsibility and the labor with me. I am not unmindful of the fact that the parochial clergy are apt to be burdened with calls for money in this direction and that, and the wardens and vestrymen are very often jealous of claims from outside the parish. With a little foresight, and a definite plan of offering, much more might be accomplished in many of our parishes.

Our endowments are thriving handsomely. The income of the Missionary Fund that was ordered paid to me, I have divided equally between the treasurers of the two Convocations. I have some funds from the same source, in my hands now, that will take the same direction. It is a cause of pride and comfort to me that none of our aged or disabled clergy will be compelled to suffer want from this time forth forevermore, unless some unforeseen calamity shall either diminish the fund or throw upon it a larger number of dependents than the average. I would remind the clergy of the importance of keeping faith with this fund by taking yearly offerings, if they would enjoy its benefits in sickness or old age.

At the risk of repeating what I said a few years ago, I again venture to plead for the increase of the Episcopal Fund to one hundred thousand dollars, and I do this in the interest of the smaller and feebler parishes. Most of the old parishes long ago capitalized their assessments, when the basis was small. They are henceforth freed from payments to this fund. The rate of interest is now very low, and the struggling missions that have grown into parishhood are heavily taxed. By acquiring an endowment of the sum named, the income of which would pay the Bishop's salary, the tax would be abolished, and the seeming inequality obliterated. When I introduced this subject on a former occasion, a committee was appointed to carry out the suggestion, if possible. A circular letter was issued and a small response from two or three was the only result. We all know the fate that awaits circular letters, and no one was no exception to the rule. If the time has now come for making a united and successful effort, I should be glad if an annual collection might be taken in every parish to increase the principal of the fund, by ever so little, and thus do something toward equalizing the burdens among the parishes all on the same footing.

There are many and important questions before the Church to-day, earnestly discussed in their various branches and clamoring for an answer; but as they do not pertain specially to the work of our own Diocese, I need not trouble you with their consideration at any length here.

The four millions of negroes who were in servitude a little more than a quarter of a century ago, are now increased to seven or eight millions. What effect this ignorant and servile population will have on our civilization is a question that concerns the statesman as well as the Christian. The whole question, both its social and religious side is hemmed in with difficulties. As yet our own Church has done little toward its solution or settlement. A new agency has been created with the hope of rousing new interest. I bespeak for it a cause a hearing and a favorable answer.

There is wide divergence of opinion as to the propriety of non-communicants at the Eucharistic Feast. Some claim the right and others deny the right from totally different standpoints and for quite dissimilar reasons. To claim that only those who are to receive the consecrated elements, and not others, are to remain during the administration of the Sacrament, or that all those who do not commune must leave the church before the final blessing, is to demand more than the Church does. But to claim on the other hand that some do, that devout worship at the time of the celebra-without partaking of the consecrated species of Bread and Wine, which the Lord hath commanded to be received, can convey to the soul most, if not all the benefits of Christ's precious death and sacrifice, is, to my mind, a perversion of the Church's standards and teaching. To remain for such a purpose, and with such a hope, is a lowering of the Blessed Sacrament, and in every way to be discouraged.

There are complications in certain portions of our Foreign Mission work that are most discouraging to those who have its interests at heart. It must needs be that offences come to test our faith, and to remind us that the weakness of God is stronger than men.

Among ourselves, thank God, there are no vexed issues to be settled. No Diocese could be more harmonious and peaceful. The number of clergy has reached 108, with four laboring in the Diocese, though not canonically resident in it, and several parishes and missions vacant. The confirmations are almost precisely the same as last year, more than nine hundred.

A Diocesan branch of the Girls' Friendly Society has been established, with Mrs. Thomas Roberts, of Riverton, President, and Miss Letitia Townsend, of Camden, Secretary. Any information may be had from either of these officers. I hope to see branches formed, especially in our larger towns and cities. The Woman's Auxiliary to the Board of Missions is constantly widening its sphere of usefulness. The workers, who represent most of our parishes, are most active and most earnest.

The Chancellor of the Diocese has come to great honor, for one so young, in his appointment as a Judge of the Supreme Court of the State. I am sure he has the hearty good wishes of every member of this body. He has rendered most acceptable service hitherto, and almost without compensation. I deem it fortunate that he is still willing to continue as Chancellor, the duties of the office not conflicting at all with those of a Judge in the civil courts.

I must add a brief word in reference to the new life and hope that mark the year at St. Mary's Hall. The policy of the past has been changed so far as to put a woman at the head of the educational department, making the office of Chaplain, what it ought to be, a spiritual headship. Miss McAllister is proving herself quite equal to the place. The daughters of clergymen are educated here at such moderate cost that they come in goodly numbers from far and near. The school is now in its second half century of existence.

We meet here in the very last of the great forty days when our Risen Lord set in order the things pertaining to His earthly Kingdom. Though ascended into the Heaven He still reigns, and gives to each one of His children the place and work for which he is best fitted. Let us crave continuance of His presence and His power, and beg Him so to order our doings and sayings that His Kingdom may be enlarged, His way made known more clearly among men and His Holy Name glorified.

JOHN SCARBOROUGH,

BISHOP OF NEW JERSEY.

CHURCHES OPENED.

- 1887, September 4. — I formally opened Christ Church, Trenton. The building is of wood, open-roofed, and built after plans by the Hewitts of Philadelphia. Many memorial gifts are placed here by friends of the work. The seating capacity (850) is already too small.
- 1888, March 22. — St. Barnabas' Church, Burlington, closed for some time, was re-opened with a special service of benediction. The Church is in thorough repair now, and is again doing the work it was intended to do, in the part of the city where it was built. Members of St. Mary's Church furnished the means.

CORNER STONES LAID.

- 1887, May 24. — I laid the corner stone of Christ Church, Chambersburg, (now in the city of Trenton). A goodly number of the clergy were present. Several of them made addresses.
- 1887, October 12. — I laid the corner stone of St. Paul's Church, Bound Brook; the neighboring clergy all taking part. The roof is on the building, and the work has now stopped for lack of means. A helping hand is greatly needed here.

Reports of the Deans.

CONVOCATION OF NEW BRUNSWICK.

DEAN'S REPORT.

I have received reports from fifteen missions (the entire number) of the Convocation. From these I have gathered the following statistics:

Baptisms—Adults, 18 ; Infants, 66,	84
Confirmed,	37
Communicants added,	54
Services held during the year,	1,174
Average attendance,	289
Funerals,	3
Sunday School Teachers,	69
Sunday School Scholars,	677
Offerings and contributions,	$8,717.61

These numbers are in most cases as large as they were last year, and in some instances considerably greater. As matters of special interest, it may be mentioned that “during the year the interior of the Church of the Holy Trinity, South River, has been put in excellent order and the building insured. The congregation seems to be slowly growing, and there is much to hope for in the future.” At Bound Brook, St. Paul’s Church has been rebuilt in a much more promising location, and its exterior is complete, except the shingling on the sides, from the brick-work to the eaves. About $2,000 have been expended, and $1,200 are needed to finish the structure. At Doane Memorial, South Amboy, the Rev. Mr. Sleeper reports that “several improvements are being carried on. The S. S. attendance has nearly doubled, and all parts of the work are encouraging.” The

Rev. Mr. Crozier writes that “$700 have been paid on the Rectory debt, and the Church has been newly carpeted, and a new dorsal hung behind the altar. Spiritual advance has also been made, I am led to believe by the increased attendance at the services, and the healthy interest taken in the welfare of the parish.” The Rev. Mr. Phillips is doing good service at Hightstown, Sand Hills and Rocky Hill. On his arrival, a year ago, he found every thing in Hightstown “as flat as if there had never been any Church organization there—not a pupil left for forming a Sunday School, and the congregation scattered. One of them had been plunged under the water in the faith of the Baptist Society and her sons and daughters the hope of that society. These have returned to their mother, the Church.”

The Rev. W. E. Daw reports from Christ Church, Allentown, that last year nine persons were confirmed, and there were twelve baptisms last spring. Though these do not come within this year, I report them to show that the parish is still alive. The Sunday School gives about $30 to the Board of Missions. The Rev. Mr. Sykes says that his report will show that a considerable addition in numbers has been made. He thinks that he can truthfully state that during the year, and especially the latter part of it, an increased interest in the Church and the services has been manifested. Certainly the attendance upon the services has been gradually but steadily increasing during that time. Because of continued ill-health he has resigned the charge of the Mission.

Appended to this report will be found the names of all stations and missionaries; the annual receipts and expenditures and the names of contributors being given in the report of the Treasurer.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON ADMISSION OF NEW PARISHES.

The papers with reference to the admission into union with this Convention of Grace Church, Merchantville, have been presented to the Committee. Inasmuch, however, as the minutes of the subsequent proceedings in reference to organization and incorporation are complete, and imply such assent, the Committee recommend the admission of the Parish.

Upon his motion, the parish of Grace Church, Merchantville, was admitted into union with the Convention; and the Secretary called the names of its lay deputies.

The Rev. Mr. Huff, on behalf of the Committee appointed at the last Convention (see Journal 1888, pp. 48, to consider and report on that part of the Bishop's Address which relates to Diocesan Missions," presented the following paper, which, upon his motion, was referred to the Committee on Constitution and Canons:

RESOLUTIONS OF TITLE IV, CANON 1, PROPOSED BY THE COMMITTEE APPOINTED AT THE LAST CONVENTION, RELATING TO THE SUBJECT OF DIOCESAN MISSIONS.

Resolved, That Canon 1 of Title IV, of the Canon of the Diocese, be entitled:

DIOCESAN MISSIONS.

Resolved. That Canon 1 of Title IV, be as follows:

- Sec. 1. For its missionary work, the Diocese shall be divided into two parts, to be called Convocations, viz: The Convocation of New Brunswick shall include the counties of Union (except the township of Summit), Essex, Somerset, Hunterdon, Mercer, Monmouth and Ocean. (2.) The Convocation of Burlington shall include the counties of Burlington, Camden, Gloucester, Salem, Cumberland and Cape May.
- Sec. 2. Each Convocation shall consist of the clergy, canonically residing within its limits, with the lay delegates from its several parishes for the meeting to the Diocesan Convention; and one lay-delegate from each parish session (not represented in Convention), and shall be organized under the direction of the Bishop, who is ex-officio the President. Each Convocation shall have a Rural Dean, Secretary and such other officers as its work require; and shall make its own by-laws.
- Sec. 3. Each Convocation shall have charge of all Diocesan missions within its limits, and designate such new missionary work as may, with the approval of the Bishop, be undertaken by it. All appointments of missionaries shall be by the Bishop. The Convocation shall have full management of the funds appropriated to it by the Diocesan Board of Missions (as herein provided); shall hold regular meetings at least three times a year; and the first regular meeting after the Diocesan Convention in each year, shall, by ballot, elect a Secretary and a lay-delegate to the Board of Missions, who shall serve for one year, or until their successors are elected.

*The Episcopal Address follows the Journal and Appendices.

Sec. 4. The Rural Dean of each Convocation shall be elected by a majority ballot cast for one of three names, presented in nomination by the Bishop at a regular meeting. His term of office shall be three years and he shall be eligible for re-election. The duties of the Rural Dean shall be: to preside at meetings of the Convocation in the absence or at the request of the Bishop; to superintend all the missionary work within his district; visit at least once a year all missions and parishes receiving missionary aid; and to visit all parishes, with the consent of their respective Rectors, in the interest of his work. He shall report annually, before the 15th of April, to the Diocesan Board, the condition, needs and progress of the missions in the Convocation, in detail.

Sec. 5. The Diocesan Board of Missions shall consist of the Bishop, the Rural Deans, and one lay-delegate from each Convocation. The Board shall elect from among its own members, a Secretary and a Treasurer; shall devise plans for increasing the interest and effectiveness of the work of Diocesan Missions; shall make its own by-laws; shall meet within two weeks before the annual Convention, and shall recommend to each annual Convention when it is in session for the transaction of missionary business, the sums of money to be asked for from the several Convocations, together with the amount to be appropriated to each Convocation for the work of missions within its limits, for the ensuing year. It shall report annually to the Convention upon the missionary work done in the Diocese during the previous year; and state the names of the missionaries and mission stations, the annual receipts and expenditures, the names of contributors, and a list of non-contributing parishes, if any.

Sec. 6. All contributions for Diocesan Missions shall be paid to the Treasurer of the Diocesan Board of Missions. All moneys appropriated to each Convocation shall be distributed subject to its own by-laws. The income from the permanent missionary fund, when not inconsistent with the terms of trust, shall be applied to the missions of the Diocese in such manner as the Bishop, by written order to the Treasurer of the Diocesan Board, may direct.

Sec. 7. The Convention shall sit for missionary business immediately after the Bishop's Address, at which time the recommendations of the Diocesan Board of Missions shall be considered and acted upon, and such portions of the Rural Deans' reports, as the Bishop may select, shall be read.

The Rev. Mr. Perkins offered further amendments to the same Canon, as follows:

(1.) Repeal the action of last year as to Archdeacons and Archdeaconries, and insert the words Dean and Convocation as printed in the Constitution and Canons of the Diocese.

2.) Amend Sec. 2, line 3, by striking out the words "to be appointed by the Bishop," and insert the words, "to be elected annually by invocation from among three names to be presented by the Bishop."

Referred.

Mr. Cabot moved to amend Title II, Canon IV, by the following section :

SEC. 5. No parish, or any members thereof in its behalf, shall establish a Room, Sunday School, or Chapel, within the distance of one mile from any Church, Mission Room, Sunday School or Chapel belonging to any parish, without the consent of the Rector of such other parish."

Referred.

The Rev. Mr. Perkins offered the following proposed amendment to Title III, Canon II :

An additional section.

Sec. 3. To defray the expenses connected with the enquiries referred to in this Canon, the Treasurer shall pay to the Bishop, upon his written application, with the endorsement of the Standing Committee, a sum not exceeding one hundred dollars for any case occurring in any Conventional

Referred.

The Rev. Mr. Huff offered the following resolution :

Resolved, That the words, "one delegate to Convocation," be stricken from Title II, Canon II, Sec. 2.

Referred.

The Rev. Mr. Perkins moved to amend Title II, Canon Sec. 2, by inserting, after the words "by a majority of votes cast," the words "from among the eligible males;" and to amend Sec. 3, by striking out the words "the word" from the second line of the section.

Also of the Convocations of the following Missionary Jurisdictions, viz. : Montana, Northern California, South Dakota (1887 and 1888), and Washington Territory.

Also the following pamphlets: The Proceedings of the Primary, Second and Third Conventions of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the State of Missouri, 1840, 1841, and 1842, published by order of the Forty-Ninth Convention of the Diocese of Missouri, 1888, and the proceedings at the Semi-Centennial Commemoration of the Diocese of Western New York, 1888.

GEORGE MORGAN HILLS,

MAY 2, 1889.

The Secretary of the Diocese presented and read his Annual Report as follows :

REPORT OF THE SECRETARY.

The Secretary respectfully reports, that, as directed by the Convention, he caused 1,000 copies of the Journal of 1888 to be printed and distributed in the customary way.

He has sent to the Registrar all such Journals of other Dioceses and Missionary Jurisdictions as were received by him during the year.

As instructed by resolution of the last Convention, he addressed a letter of sympathy to the Rev. Ezra Isaac, then nearing his earthly end, after a long and distressing illness. A touching response was made by our revered brother, with his own hand, on the 14th of May; and this, it is believed, was his latest effort to write. Both letters are printed in the Journal.

Under the same instruction, he sent to all the Clergy of the Diocese, as well as to many of its lay members, copies of the Resolutions of this Convention touching the increase of the Permanent Episcopal Fund, (see p. 59, Journal of 1888,) prefaced by the portion of the Bishop's Address bearing upon the subject.

He has received from the Secretary of the Diocese of Newark a copy of Resolutions, passed by the Convention of that Diocese, May 16, 1888, in reference to the Charlotte Harrison Legacy. Also, a circular letter from the Rt. Rev., the Bishop of Virginia, bearing date November 30, 1888, and reciting the action of the Diocesan Council of Virginia, at its meeting in May last, upon the subject of a "change of name of this Church."

Both these communications are upon the Secretary's table, awaiting the action of this Convention.

The Dean of the General Theological Seminary desires to secure for the Library of that Institution original copies of the Journals of the Diocese of New Jersey, for the years 1790, '95, '96, '98, Special of '99, 1800, '01, '02. The acquisition of these eight numbers would put the Seminary in possession of a complete set of our Diocesan Journals. A more secure place of deposit for these valuable documents could not be found than the fire-proof Library of the General Seminary.

Other institutions and Diocesan Registrars have made applications for back numbers of the Journal, which are not now in our hands. It is respectfully asked that persons, who have any Journals which they can spare, would send them to the Registrar or the Secretary.

ELVIN K. SMITH,
Secretary.

MAY 7, 1889.

The Committee on Proportionate Representation in the General Convention, made the following Report: and the appended Resolutions, after amendments made, were adopted by the Convention.

REPORT ON PROPORTIONATE REPRESENTATION.

The Committee to whom was referred the subject of Proportionate Representation in the General Convention, with instructions to confer with Committees from other Dioceses which may be appointed to consider the same subject, and to report to this Convention [see Journal of 1888, page 49], respectfully submit their report as follows:

One member of the Committee, the venerable H. Hastings Weld, D.D., having died since the rising of the last Convention, the surviving members of the Committee have given careful attention to the subject referred to them, taking under consideration such printed reports and resolutions as have reached them from other Dioceses. But the difficulty of a personal assembling of the various Diocesan Committees for conference, as proposed by that of Pennsylvania, led to the abandonment of that plan, and, so far as we are informed, there has been no attempt to confer, beyond the exchange, in some instances, of the resolutions adopted in Committee, to be presented to the next Diocesan Conventions.

In the opinion of your Committee, the question of proportionate representation in the General Convention is not one of immediate urgency. To be consistent, it should be applied to the representation of parishes in the Diocesan Conventions as well, and it may not, therefore, be unreasonably urged, that if any such change is to be made in the principle of representation in our ecclesiastical bodies, it ought to be first applied to the Dioceses, and if satisfactory, then to be considered and applied in the General Convention; but that there be not too great haste to make changes heretofore untried, and the wisdom of which may be very seriously questioned.

In the absence, therefore, of any clear demonstration by its advocates that the measure is one of necessity or certain advantage; with the long experience of generally satisfactory results from the existing method of representation, so far as it affects our Church legislation; and mindful of the peril that oftentimes attends radical changes in the basis of government when not demanded by evident necessity, your Committee are not prepared to recommend such change. In view, however, of the rapid numerical growth of the House of Deputies, which may soon become of unwieldy size, your Committee are of opinion that a reduction in the number of the Deputies elected by each Diocese would be advantageous. They accordingly submit the following resolutions and recommend their adoption by this Convention:

Resolved, That in the opinion of this Convention, it is not now expedient to make any change in the basis of representation in the House of Deputies in the General Convention.

Resolved, That for greater facility in the transaction of business, reduction in the membership of the House may be desirable; and the Convention of the Diocese of New Jersey would regard with favor such change in the Constitution as would reduce the present representation of each Diocese so as to make it consist of three Clerical and three Lay Deputies.

Resolved, That these resolutions be presented as a memorial from this Diocese by its Deputies in the next General Convention.

ELVIN K. SMITH,
J. HOWARD PUGH,
FRANKLIN B. LEVIS,
Committee.

The Treasurer of the Christian Knowledge Society of New Jersey presented and read his statement of the receipts and expenditures of the past year, which appears as Appendix No. III.

On motion the Rules of Order were suspended, so as to allow of certain elections, ordered for the second day, to be made now.

The Trustee of the General Theological Seminary, the Rev. Elvin K. Smith, was nominated for re-election; and there being no other nomination, Mr. Smith was unanimously re-elected for the ensuing three years.

It being in order to elect one member for each of the four Trustee Boards, to serve for three years, and there being but one nomination to fill each vacancy; the Secretary was instructed, in each case, to deposit the vote of the Convention. Whereupon, Mr. R. S. Conover was declared to have been duly elected Trustee of the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund, and of the Widows and Orphans of Clergy Fund, for three years; and Mr. Howard Richards, Trustee of the Missionary Fund, and of the Church Property Fund of the Diocese, for three years.

In like manner the Auditing Committees were re-elected, namely, Mr. B. Gill, and Mr. J. C. DeCou, for the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund, and the Widows and Orphans of Clergy Fund; Mr. J. A. Dix, and Mr. E. B. Clark, for the Missionary Fund, and the Church Property Fund.

The Secretary was also instructed to cast the vote of the Convention for the Committee on the Episcopal Residence, viz.: Messrs. S. K. Wilson, J. B. Woodward, Joseph H. Bruere.

On motion of Mr. Parker it was

Resolved, That there be printed in the Journal the fundamental laws of "The Corporation for the Relief of Widows and Children of Clergymen of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the State of New Jersey."*

Mr. Merritt read the following

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON FINANCE.

The Finance Committee beg leave to report that they have made their estimate for the current expenses of the Diocese for the fiscal year, and they offer the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the Canonical Assessment of seven per cent. be made upon the salaries as reported of incumbents of parishes that have not given their bonds to the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund.

Resolved, That an assessment of two per cent. be made upon the parishes to meet the necessary expenses of the Convention.

Resolved, That upon the payment by Grace Church, Elizabeth, to the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund, of the sum of $28.00, all arrearages on the parish bond be remitted to April 1, 1889.

Resolved, That upon the payment by Grace Church, Westfield, to the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund, of the sum of $63.00, all arrearages on the parish bond be remitted to April 1, 1888; and upon the payment to the Treasurer of the sum of $10.00, all arrearages for Convention expenses be remitted.

Resolved, That upon the payment by St. Andrew's Church, Lambertville, to the Treasurer, of the respective sums of $5.00 and $14.00, all arrearages for Convention expenses and Bishop's Salary, be remitted.

* Appendix No. IV.

Resolved, That the Treasurer be directed to cancel the indebtedness his books of $58.80 for Bishop's Salary against Trinity Church, Asbury Park the said Church having given bond to the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund.

CHAS. EWAN MERRITT,
JOHN N. CARPENDER,
JOHN B. OSBOURN,
J. HOWARD PUGH,
F. S. CONOVER,
B. F. CARTER.

On motion, the Resolutions offered by the Committee were adopted by the Convention.

The Convention took a recess till 8 p. m.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH, ELIZABETH,
TUESDAY, MAY 7, 8 p. m.

The Convention re-assembled for Missionary business. After a short service, the Bishop announced the proposed order. The Archdeacon of New Brunswick and the Treasurer made their annual reports. In the absence of the Archdeacon of Burlington, his report was read by the Rev. Mr. Thompson.*

The Secretary of the Diocese read the following:
REPORT OF THE NEW JERSEY BRANCH OF THE WOMAN'S AUXILIARY TO BOARD OF MISSIONS.

The Fourteenth Annual Meeting was held at Trinity Church, Trenton on Wednesday, April 24th, 1889.

The Bishop celebrated the Holy Communion and made an address being assisted in the service by the Rev. Henry M. Barbour, the Rector of the Parish.

At the business meeting there were found to be representatives from thirty-two parishes.

The reports of the Vice-Presidents of boxes and money sent to different parts of the mission field were as follows:

* These reports will be found in the Appendix to the Episcopal Address.

For	Indian Missions	$767 21
"	Foreign	562 83
"	Diocesan	434 78
"	Domestic	3,437 94
"	Colored	439 11
"	Work in Mexico, under Rev. Mr. Gordon,	121 00

The following appropriations were made from the "Ten Cent Missionary Fund": For scholarship in a preparatory school in Japan, $25.00; for Foreign Insurance Fund, $50.00; for Mrs. Hooker's Orphanage in Mexico, $25.00. The collections at meetings have been $131.08, making the total amount contributed during the year $5,993.95, a gain of more than $200.00 over that of the preceding year.

In the Upper Division the work has prospered, three meetings having been held; one at Trinity Church, Elizabeth; one at the Church of the Holy Comforter, Rahway; and one at Grace Church, Westfield. Five parishes, not hitherto represented, have shown interest and give promise of active co-operation.

In the Middle Division, meetings have been held at Shrewsbury; St. Paul's, Trenton; and Trinity Church, Trenton, which have done much to stimulate to fresh interest in missions.

In the Lower Division three all-day meetings have been held at St. Andrew's Church, Mt. Holly; St. Mary's, Burlington; and Grace Church, Haddonfield, with an average attendance of one hundred and fifty.

Afternoon mission talks have also been held in six different parishes. If well attended meetings and earnest interest are encouraging, there is good reason to believe that some "works do follow." Inspiring addresses have been made at the division meetings by Bishop Garrett, Rev. E. H. Thompson of China, Rev. William H. Wilkinson of Minnesota, Rev. Mr. McKim of Japan, Rev. Walpole Warren of New York. Miss Emery and others, presenting the claims of the various branches of the work. There is reason to be thankful and feel encouraged for what has been done, but how much more could be accomplished if all the parishes were represented and in sympathy with the work!

Will not every parish clergyman welcome the formation of a parish branch, remembering what has been so truly said, "that zeal for missions goes everywhere with zeal for home work."

Respectfully submitted,

ISABEL TWEEDY,

Sec. and Treas. N. J. B. W. A.

He also read a statement, by the Secretary of the New Jersey Diocesan Organization of the Girls' Friendly Society for America. This organization was formed in Camden, under the sanction of the Bishop, April 5, 1888. There are now four Parochial Branches in the Diocese, in active operation, viz.: Camden, Riverton, Elizabeth and Salem, with thirty Working Associates, seven Honorary Associates, and 153 Members. The officers earnestly request the co-operation of the Reverend Clergy in extending the work throughout the Diocese. Secretary, Miss Letitia Townsend, Camden; Chaplain, The Rev. Geo. Heathcote Hills, Riverton.

After the reading of these papers, the Rev. Dr. Garrison offered, and Mr. Parker seconded, the following resolution:

Resolved, That the present modes of conducting the Missionary operations of the Diocese need a thorough revision and modification.

A discussion thereupon ensued until 10.30, when the Convention adjourned.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH, ELIZABETH,
WEDNESDAY, MAY 8, 1889.

At seven o'clock, a. m., there was a Celebration of the Holy Eucharist, the Bishop being celebrant. Morning Prayer and Litany were said at nine o'clock; after which, the Rt. Rev. the President called the Convention to order.

The Secretary called the names of the Clergy and of the Lay Deputies not present yesterday. The minutes of the preceding day were read and approved.

The election of the Standing Committee being in order, the Bishop appointed the Rev. Dr. Watson, and the Rev. Mr. Mackellar, as tellers for the Clerical vote; Mr. Dumont and Mr. H. E. Atwater for the Lay vote.

The election of Treasurer being in order, Mr. Charles Ewan Merritt was nominated; and there being no other nomination, the Secretary was instructed to cast the ballot of the Convention for Mr. Merritt, who thereupon was declared to be elected Treasurer.

In the same manner Mr. J. B. Woodward and Mr. F. B. Levis were elected the Committee to Audit the Treasurer's accounts.

The tellers on the election of the Standing Committee reported that the Clergy had elected the Rev. Dr. Garrison, the Rev. Mr. Norton, the Rev. Mr. Baker, and the Rev. Mr. Perkins; and their choice was, thereupon, on motion, approved by the Laity; and that the Laity had elected Messrs. R. S. Conover, Swift, Woodward and Pugh; and their choice was, on motion, approved by the Clergy.

In accordance with the requirement of Article XIII of the Constitution of the Diocese, the Convention proceeded to make choice of Deputies and Supplementary Deputies to represent this Diocese in the General Convention. Nominations were received as follows:

FOR CLERICAL DEPUTIES.

The Rev. Drs. Garrison, Franklin, Hills, Tidball; the Rev. Messrs. E. K. Smith, O. A. Glazebrook, C. M. Perkins, G. M. Murray, E. M. Rodman.

FOR LAY DEPUTIES.

Messrs. R. S. Conover, Carpenter, Pugh, Many, Swift, Parker, Dumont, Sims.

The Bishop appointed as tellers for the Clerical vote, the Rev. Messrs. Tomkins, Barbour and Bryan; for the Lay vote, Messrs. J. C. DeCou, A. A. Devoe, and Dr. C. W. Greene.

The tellers for the lay vote for Deputies to General Convention reported the election of Messrs. John N. Carpenter, J. Howard Pugh, M.D., and Richard S. Conover.

Their choice was confirmed by the Clergy, and a second ballot ordered for one Lay Deputy.

The tellers for the clerical vote reported the election of the Rev. Joseph F. Garrison, D.D., the Rev. Benjamin Franklin, D.D., and the Ven. George Morgan Hills, D.D.

Their choice was confirmed by the Laity, and a second ballot ordered for one Clerical Deputy.

The second ballot resulted in the choice of Mr. Cliff Stanley Sims by the Laity, which the Clergy confirmed but no choice by the Clergy. Upon a third ballot, the Rev. Otis A. Glazebrook was elected by the Clergy and confirmed by the Laity.

Mr. Samuel K. Wilson read the REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE AGED AND INFIRM CLERGY FUND, as follows :

Treasurer.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., May 14th, 1889.

The undersigned, Committee elected to audit the accounts of the Trustees of the Widows and Orphans of Clergy Fund, respectfully report, that having examined the receipts and disbursements of the within accounts, and compared them with the vouchers, we find them correct.

We also find the securities as within stated correct.

BENNINGTON GILL,
JAMES C. DE COU,
Committee.

Mr. Parker, Chairman of the Committee on the Reprint of Early Journals, reported that the work was now in the hands of the printer, but that more subscriptions would be required to enable the Committee to pay for the same.

The following nominations for Supplementary Deputies to the General Convention were received :

Clerical, the Rev. Messrs. G. M. Murray, A. B. Baker, C. M. Perkins, T. H. Cullen, E. K. Smith, J. H. Lamb, E. M. Rodman, Dr. Tidball.

Lay, Messrs. Francis Many, J. C. De Cou, J. B. Dumont, James Parker, McRee Swift, Thomas M. Martin, Howard Richards.

On motion of the Rev. Mr. Perkins, the following Preamble and Resolution were adopted :

Whereas, There are within the limits of this Diocese certain congregations that are not in union with this Convention and are not contributors to the Episcopal or Convention Funds; and

Whereas, Such congregations claim to be under the jurisdiction of the Bishop of the Diocese, therefore

Resolved, That the Finance Committee be requested to report to the next Annual Convention the names of such congregations, and also some plan by which such congregations may contribute to the Episcopal and Convention Funds of the Diocese.

Archdeacon Rodman reported as follows on the subject of Marriage License.

The Committee on Marriage License report that they presented the request of this Convention to the Convention of the Diocese of Newark, at its last meeting, that the Rev. Dr. Schuyler and the Rev. F. B. Carter were appointed to act with your Committee.

The Joint-Committee procured, through the kind assistance of Wm. T. Day, Esq., a carefully prepared amendment of the Statute concerning Marriages, &c., and a petition in favor of the adoption of the same.

The documents were largely distributed. The amendment and petitions were presented to the Legislature, considerable discussion ensued, but the amendment was not adopted. Something has been gained by directing attention to the defects of the Law, and to the abuses which are committed under it.

It remains for the Convention to decide whether any further efforts shall be made to have the defects amended and the abuses checked.

Respectfully submitted,

E. M. RODMAN,
OTIS A. GLAZEBROOK.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., May 4, 1889.

On motion of the Rev. Mr. Norton, it was Resolved, That a warrant be drawn upon the Treasurer of the Diocese for one half of the expenses in the case.

And on motion of Mr. R. S. Conover,

Resolved, That the present Committee upon Marriage License be continued.

Archdeacon Rodman, on behalf of the Committee on Bishop's Church and on the Title of the Diocese, presented and read the following Report.

NEW BRUNSWICK, June 25th, 1888.

The Committee appointed by the Bishop under a resolution of the Convention of the Diocese, met in the Vestry Rooms of Christ Church 4.30 P. M.

Present, the Rev. E. M. Rodman, the Rev. C. W. Knauff, Mr. McSwift and Mr. F. S. Conover.

The Rev. E. M. Rodman was made Chairman and Mr. F. S. Conover Secretary.

After prayer the Chairman read the resolutions under which the Committee was appointed, to take into consideration the establishment of a Diocesan Cathedral, and also a change of name for the Diocese.

After some conversation upon the subject it was moved by Mr. McSwift that, "the Committee recommend to the Convention an application to the Legislature for an act of incorporation for a Cathedral." Motion carried.

On motion of Mr. Conover the Committee decided by a majority to make no recommendation at present with regard to change of name of the Diocese. Adjourned.

F. S. CONOVER, Secretary.

The above is assented to by the undersigned with the exception of that portion referred to in a Supplementary Report to be submitted by a minority of the Committee.

JOHN F. CABOT,
C. W. KNAUFF.

Mr. Cabot, of the same Committee, presented and read a Minority Report, as follows:

The undersigned members of the Committee on the Bishop's Church and the Title of the Diocese, respectfully dissent from that portion of the Committee's report which relates to the Title of the Diocese. They are satisfied that the change of name from the Diocese of New Jersey to the Diocese of Trenton, N. J., would be desirable, not only because it is a misnomer to call it the Diocese of New Jersey, while the large cities of Jersey City, Hoboken, Newark and Paterson are not included, but also because the custom of the Church in this country is rapidly conforming to the ancient usage of naming Dioceses after the See City.

They find that the proper mode of procedure is to pass a resolution that the Convention desires to change the name and asks the General Convention to consent to the same and a resolution instructing the Deputies to the General Convention to present said resolution duly authenticated by the Bishop and Secretary of the Convention. After the consent of the General Convention been obtained a simple Resolution changing the name of the Diocese and all Boards of Trust by them selected which may have been incorporated could be passed at the next Convention—and the change of name will take effect on filing with the Secretary of State a copy of said resolution certified by the President and Secretary of said Convention under their hands and seals and acknowledged by them before a Master in Chancery in accordance with the provisions of Pamphlet Laws, 1887, page 121.

They therefore offer the following resolutions :

Resolved, That the Convention of the Diocese of New Jersey desires to change the name of the Diocese from "The Diocese of New Jersey" to "The Diocese of Trenton, N. J.," and hereby asks the consent of the General Convention to such change.

Resolved, that the Deputies to the General Convention are hereby directed to present a copy of the foregoing resolution duly certified by the Bishop and Secretary of this Convention to the General Convention and request that body to grant the request.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN F. CABOT,
C. W. KNAUFF.

May 8, 1889.

The Rev. Dr. Garrison moved to lay these reports upon the table, for the present. Agreed to.

The lay tellers reported that Mr. Many had received sixteen votes, as Supplementary Deputy, Mr. Richards sixteen votes, and Mr. Swift fifteen votes, and were elected. On a second ballot, Mr. Dumont received a majority of votes cast. The Clergy confirmed the choice of the

The Clerical tellers reported that the Rev. G. M. Murray, Rev. A. B. Baker, and the Rev. E. K. Smith had received a majority of the votes cast by the Clergy, for Supplementary Deputies, and their choice was confirmed by the Laity. On a second ballot, the Rev. Thomas A. On motion, the subject was laid on the table, for consideration at the next Convention.

7th. In view of the action taken by the Convention, the Committee recommend that the proposed amendment to Sec. 2. Canon II, Title II, page 14 (No. 5), be laid on the table for consideration at the next Convention.

Adopted.

[The only alteration made in the Canons of the Diocese, at this session of the Convention, was the adoption of the third section of Title III. Canon II.—SECRETARY OF DIOCESE.]

On motion of Mr. Cabot, the whole subject matter of the Bishop's Church and Title of the Diocese was referred to the next Convention.

The Bishop announced to the Convention that he had appointed the Rev. E. M. Rodman Archdeacon of the Convocation of New Brunswick, and the Rev. G. M. Hills, D.D., Archdeacon of the Convocation of Burlington.

On motion of the Rev. Mr. Kidder, it was Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to confer with a like committee of the Diocese of Newark, to obtain a general law for the incorporation of Cathedrals.

The Bishop appointed, as committee under this resolution, the Rev. Mr. Kidder, the Rev. Mr. Knauff and Mr. Swift.

On motion of the Rev. Mr. Thompson, it was Resolved, That the Treasurer of the Diocese be authorized to pay the usual sum to the Sexton of St. John's Church, Elizabeth, for his services.

Upon the motion of Dr. Pugh, the Bishop appointed Burlington as the place of meeting for the next Annual Convention.

NOTE.

The General Convention "orders that every Minister of this Church, or if the parish be vacant, the Warden, shall present, or cause to be delivered, on or before the first day of every Annual Convention, to the Bishop of the Diocese, a statement" of the condition of the parish. "And every Clergyman, not regularly settled in any Parish or Church, shall also report the occasional services he may have performed; and if he have performed no such services, the causes or reasons which have prevented the same."

The blanks sent to the several Parishes and Mission Stations of this Diocese by the Bishop, are closely conformable to the schedule issued by the General Convention for collecting the materials of the Triennial Tabular Digest. The Secretary of the House of Deputies says: "A careful attention to these forms, and an earnest effort to give in detail the information called for by the Canon, will greatly facilitate the business of the Convention, will secure a valuable contribution to the ecclesiastical statistics of the country, and will expedite the issue of the Journal."

A list of the Parishes, Mission Stations and Clergymen not reporting, will be found immediately after the Reports that make up Appendix No. I.

The parish having been without a resident rector for some time, has suffered losses in all parts of its church work. Since the present rector took charge, on the Third Sunday in Advent, the current expenses have been fully met, the bonded debt of eleven hundred dollars has been extinguished, and the number of regular communicants largely increased. A new church in a more central position would greatly increase the growth of the parish.

ST. JOHN'S CHAPEL, KEY EAST.

[REPORT BY THE REV. ROBERT F. INNES.]

We have a corner lot on Woodland avenue, one block back from the ocean, 100x150 feet, worth at least $2,000.00; our chapel cost $3,013.00; total value of property, $5,013.00. On it there is a mortgage of $2,100.00.

The first service last summer was held on the 24th of June, and the last on September 2d—eleven Sundays in all.

We had Daily Morning Prayer throughout July and August, and a Celebration of the Holy Communion each Sunday. The attendance upon all the services was remarkably good. Chapel crowded Sundays. The children of "The Home of the Merciful Saviour for Crippled Children," whose summer home is at Key East, constituted the choir, and added largely to the attractiveness of the services. Owing to illness, I was unable to conduct any of the services myself after the first Sunday in July, but I fortunately found a number of willing brothers, who gladly consented to take my place.

The offertories during the season amounted to $650.97: $469.97 for Chapel Fund, and $181.00 for Home of Merciful Saviour. In addition to this, the sum of $265.67 was given by the guests at the several hotels for Chapel Fund.

At the close of the season we had a balance on hand of $480.21: of which $126.00 pays the interest on mortgage for a year; $54.21 for storm shutters—extra grading, &c., and $300.00 in a sinking fund for payment of the mortgage.

Through the kindness of the Bishop, the Archdeaconry and some friends in other places, the church building is in course of being repaired, and the sidewalk in front of the property mended. If friends did not help us, the property would be lost through the inability of the parish to keep it in repair. This painful fact may be seen by looking at the amount raised for all purposes during the year.

During the year valuable additions have been made to the furnishing and ornaments of the church, the credit of which is largely due to the young people. The Rector's salary has been increased, and a movement made towards raising a fund to build a substantial church edifice. Services have been regularly maintained at the Maple Shade Mission, and it is hoped that a chapel may be built there in the course of the year. A monthly service on Sunday afternoons has been held by the Rector at St. Mary's Church, Colestown, except during the three winter months.

Various improvements have been made—painting the church, grading and terracing the grounds, resetting the grave-stones, and erecting a new ornamental fence.

The report of the Parish Treasurer is appended, as follows:

Easter Tuesday, April 23d, 1889.—Wm. H. Grant, in account with Christ Church, Middletown, Dr. Balance on hand Easter Tuesday, April, 3d, 1888, $154.45. Received of D. D. Withers for sale of farm, $12,671.77; rec'd for rents, $149.75. Quarterly collections, $44.58; Easter offering, $9.12; total, $53.70. Interest, $422.45. Total, $13,452.12.

Cr. paid: J. D. and Margaret Stephens, $18.25; Convention expenses, two years, $25.00; Bishop's salary, two years, $68.25; Minister's salary, Rev. J. F. Jowitt, $500.00; Rev. T. I. Holcombe, Easter services, $17.00; on loan, $12,650.00; Wm. H. Grant, expenses selling the farm and loaning the money, $19.35; recording, &c., $8.00; accrued interest to Ezra A. Osborn, $54.00. Total, $13,359.85. Balance this day, $92.27.

It gives me pleasure to say that the expenses of the church have all been met, although the balance is not so large, by $62.00, as last year, by a fraction over one half year's interest, and in one month there will be due the Church $265.

In no period of the church's history has so much been done by the ladies of the parish: new fences now enclose it from the road; the church painted; a new chimney through the tower; the graves re-sodded, and the monuments cleaned.

Respectfully submitted,

WM. H. GRANT, Treasurer.

The parish is constantly increasing in numbers and strength. From present indications it will not be long before we will be obliged to enlarge the church to accommodate the constantly increasing attendance. The vestry has generously increased the Rector's salary.

Our vested choir of thirty-six men and boys has been a source of great comfort and aid in rendering the services of the Sanctuary. The choir sang for the first time on the second Sunday of June last, being the nineteenth anniversary of the opening of the Church.

This was only a summer work until Nov. 11, 1888. The church building was in an inaccessible location and could not be warmed. At the above date Sunday services were held in the Arnold House, and were continued there regularly until Palm Sunday. In the meantime the church building had been removed to a more convenient location, a heater had been put in, and other improvements made, which render it possible to carry on a permanent work in the place. A Purification service was held April 11. Various ornaments for the Altar and Chancel have been presented. The floating debt is about $125.

CLERICAL REPORTS.

From Clergymen canonically resident, but having no cure in the Diocese, the following Reports have been received :

THE REV. FRANCIS D. CANFIELD:

No special work presenting itself in the Diocese, I have taken duties in the vicinity of Germantown, Pa., where I reside. With the exception of thirty-five services in other churches, I have regularly assisted on Sundays and other days in St. Paul's Church, Chestnut Hill.

THE REV. F. B. CHETWOOD:

During the past year I have continued to act as an assistant of the General Secretary of the Board of Managers of the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society.

THE REV. W. R. EARLE:

RT. REV. FATHER: — By the grace of God, and in obedience to the Canons of the Church, the undersigned desires to make the following report: This is my thirty-second year of service in the Diaconate of the Diocese of New Jersey, and my ministrations I find are thus recorded. Have assisted in the celebration of the blessed sacrament of Holy Eucharist 15 times; assisted in the Baptism of 6 infants, and preached 15 times. Whole number of services officially rendered, forty-three.

THE REV. J. F. GARRISON, M.D., D.D., PROFESSOR OF LITURGICS AND CANON LAW IN THE DIVINITY SCHOOL OF PHILADELPHIA:

My usual courses in the Seminary have been regularly attended to, with its services.

This year I also continued to discharge as fully as my time allowed me the duties of the Chair of Homiletics which is still vacant. In this department I have given most care and time to reading and hearing sermons, and criticising both their matter and their modes of delivery, and with gratifying results so far as the improvement of the students is concerned.

I have preached elsewhere than in the Seminary 10 times, with also some few acts of private ministrations, the Eucharist, Baptisms of the sick, and such like offices. I have also delivered a course of lectures on the "Prayer Book," some eight in number, before the Church-woman's Institute in Philadelphia.

In the early part of the year I delivered one of a course of lectures in Christ Church, New York, on "The Early History of the Church as a basis for the Re-union of Christendom." I also read one of the Papers before the Church Congress in Buffalo, in November, on the subject "The Present use of Patristic studies."

The extent and pressure of my duties in the Seminary allow me very little time for any considerable amount of outside services, but I endeavor to do as much in these lines as my time and opportunities permit.

THE REV. J. U. GRAF:

During the past year I officiated about four months at Christ Church, Harrison, N. J., (Diocese of Newark), and have acted as occasional supply in New York City. I have served the last two months in the Diocese of Central New York.

THE REV. WM. S. LANGFORD, D.D.:

My time during the past twelve months has been entirely devoted to the duties of my position as General Secretary of the Board of Managers of the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society.

THE REV. JOHN RUTHERFORD MATTHEWS, CHAPLAIN U. S. N.:

U. S. S. Pensacola, Navy Yard, Norfolk, Va. I have the honour to report that, for the Conventional year last past, I have been, and at present am on duty as above.

THE REV. WILLIAM MATTHIAS:

During the Conventional year I have altogether, in different places, held 19 services and preached 17 times. I have celebrated the Holy Communion twice in public and once in private. FUNDAMENTAL LAWS OF THE CORPORATION FOR THE RELIEF OF WIDOWS AND CHILDREN OF CLERGYMEN OF THE PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL CHURCH IN THE STATE OF NEW JERSEY.

ADOPTED JUNE 4TH, 1888.

SEC. 1.—OF CONTRIBUTORS—The contributors to the Fund shall be clergymen of the Protestant Episcopal Church who, at the time of their application, shall be canonically and actually resident within the State of New Jersey. A contributor removing from the State shall not lose any of his rights, provided he continue his annual payments. If he cease to be a clergyman of the Protestant Episcopal Church, he shall forfeit all his payments to the Fund, and shall have no claim on the Corporation.

SEC. 2.—OF MEMBERSHIP—A clergyman desiring to become a contributor to the Fund shall present, with his application for membership to the Executive Committee, a certificate of a physician, joined to his own statement, that he is not the subject of any disease likely to prove fatal. The Executive Committee shall present the application to the next meeting of the Corporation, and if the application be approved by the votes of a majority of those present, the clergyman shall be entitled to make his payment, and become a contributor to the Fund.

SEC. 3.—OF PAYMENTS—The annual contribution of the clergy shall be eight dollars, and annuities shall not be paid to any but widows and children of such as shall have been annual contributors, unless the Corporation shall have remitted to any contributor, after twenty-five annual payments, the whole or a part of his contribution for the remainder of his life. Payments are due at the annual meeting of the Corporation, and if not paid at or before such annual meeting, shall be subject to a penalty of fifty cents for every month's default. A default of two years forfeits all contributions previously paid to the Fund, and deprives of all rights in the Fund. Unpaid contributions and penalties, for less than two years, shall be deducted from the first annuity to which beneficiaries would be entitled had such contribution been actually paid.

SEC. 4.—OF FULL ANNUITIES—Upon the death of a contributor, who has made fifteen annual contributions to the Fund, there shall be paid to his widow an annuity of one hundred dollars, as hereinafter provided. Said annuity shall be paid to the widow for her natural life, or as long as she shall remain his widow. If there be no widow, and there be minor children, or if a widow die leaving minor children of the deceased contributor, then such annuity shall be paid in such manner as the Corporation or its Executive Committee shall direct for the support or education of such minor children, regarding their minorities respectively. Provided, that nothing herein contained shall affect the rights of families of contributors, deceased prior to the adoption of these laws, or of families of contributors who were admitted under former fundamental laws, unless they shall, within one year from the adoption of these laws, express a wish in writing to accept the present conditions, such wish to be made to the Secretary of the Corporation.

SEC. 5.—OF LIMITED ANNUITIES—(1) If any contributor has not made the full annual contributions, at the time of his death, his widow and minor children shall be entitled to only one-fourth of the annuity and dividends of the surplus income to which they would have been entitled.

(2) If any contributor has made five or more, and less than fifteen annual contributions, his widow and minor children shall receive only one-half the annuity specified in Sec. 4, until such time as the yearly deductions of half the annuity, added to the payments made by deceased, without computing interest, shall together make a sum in the Fund equal to fifteen annual payments.

SEC. 6.—OF RE-MARRIAGES OF CONTRIBUTORS—Every contributor to the Fund who shall marry after he has become a contributor, shall pay one year's contribution extraordinary on every such marriage.

SEC. 7.—OF THE SURPLUS OF THE FUND—After the annuities chargeable to the Corporation, and its expenses shall have been paid, two-fifths of the remainder shall be added to the principal of the Fund; one-fifth shall be added in the Fund to be known as the Special Fund, provided for in Sec. 8; and the remaining two-fifths shall be divided per capita among the widows and minor children of deceased contributors, as nearly as practicable.

SEC. 8.—OF THE SPECIAL FUND—The one-fifth of the surplus income, specified in Sec. 7, together with the income from gifts or bequests made to the Corporation for such purpose, shall constitute a Fund from which, at its annual meeting, the Corporation may make appropriations for the benefit of those widows, and children not minors, of deceased contributors who may be in special need of relief. If there are none such who make application, then the Special Fund may be divided between the Principal and the Surplus Fund, or held as a Special Fund and so invested.

SEC. 9.—OF MEMBERS—Any contributor whose wife has died, and whose children have passed their minority, may continue his contribution at half rates, and at his death his estate shall be entitled to the sum of one hundred dollars, provided he have made fifteen full annual contributions. Such contributor shall lose none of his rights as a member of the Corporation.

FIFTEENTH ANNUAL ADDRESS

OF THE

Rev. John Scarborough, D.D.

BISHOP OF THE DIOCESE.

MY BRETHREN OF THE CLERGY AND LAITY:

We meet at the beginning of a new century of organized life, both in the State and in the Church.

The Centenary of the Inauguration of the first President of the United States has just been marked, with great demonstrations of rejoicing, the country through. The new century opens most auspiciously. If there are political dangers lurking in it, or social problems hard to solve, the all-wise Providence, which has brought the country safely through the perils of the century just ended, will still guard and guide it safely—we trust and pray—for all generations.

New Jersey had her full share in the founding and early conduct of the government. The names of her sons are emblazoned on every page of the nation's history. They won fame, not only in the army and navy, but in civil affairs as well. We cannot resist a little pride, that so many of the men, who were prominent as patriots and statesmen, were also of the Church. Though the connection with the English establishment subjected the Church, as a body, to trials and suspicions, her ministers and laymen were, as a rule, faithful to the cause of liberty.

The General Convention which met in 1786 was for the most part tentative. It was not till 1789, the year of Washington's inauguration, that full and complete organization was effected. The Prayer Book was authorized and put forth just one hundred years ago, and the Church began her new life, fixed and settled, at the same time with the young Republic. The General Convention that meets in New York City next October, will fairly round out the century of the Church's organized life in the United States. Both Church and State therefore set out upon their new century together. And our prayers should go up unceasingly to God, that He may continue His favor and protection to both, preserving our civil and religious liberty, so that a hundred years hence, when all that are now living have passed away, our children's children may rise up and call us blessed, for our faithfulness in guarding and handing on to them, the inheritance that has come down to us from the fathers of a century ago. In addressing you to-day, I feel that my very first words ought to be words of profound thanks and gratitude for the generous action of the Convention a year ago, which made it possible for me to attend the Lambeth Conference. I had declined the invitation of the Archbishop of Canterbury, and had no thought of going to England. But after your very hearty urgency, I felt I had no right to hesitate: my time belongs to the Diocese, and I was not unwilling to revise my plans, and withdraw my declination. I sailed from New York on the 6th of June, in the Steamer Britannic, the Bishop of Newark and Mrs. Starkey being fellow-passengers. We were together most of the time, during our stay in London, and I owe them much for their companionship and unceasing kindness to me.

I will not enter upon lengthy details of the great meeting and its doings. Opinions differ widely as to the practical use of such a gathering of Bishops from all quarters, once in ten years. Some think it a waste of time and effort for such a body to come together at great expense, merely to discuss the various questions that come before it, without the power of formulating decrees, or making laws for the whole body of the Anglican Church, in all its branches. Others commend it, because it does not claim to exercise legislative powers at all, and its utterances have no binding force on any conscience. But whatever may be thought of it or its doings, it seems to be well established, and likely to endure. It is at least a demonstration of the unity of that part of Christendom which traces its Apostolic descent through England; and its influence, in shaping and moulding the thought of the Church and the age, may be all the greater, because it claims to be only a voluntary assembly of Bishops, and rests its appeal, not on authority, but wholly on its merits.

The present occupant of St. Augustine's See and chair is, in every respect, a most worthy successor in the long line of Canterbury's Archbishops. He won the hearts of all who came into intimate contact with him, whether officially or socially. His reception of the one hundred and forty-five Bishops, in his own grand Cathedral, was in every way worthy of the occasion. As he stood by the west door to greet us, and the long procession made its way towards the choir and sanctuary, it was a sight never to be forgotten. Though Archbishop Benson has not the rugged strength of his predecessor Tait, he has most gentle and winning manners. His words of welcome were most hearty and well chosen. Throughout the conference he presided with dignity and fairness. He dispensed his hospitality, as the Prince Bishops of England might have done, when they had whole armies of retainers and counted their income by hundreds of thousands. The power behind the throne, in all the arrangements and business details, was the Dean of Windsor, the Rev. Mr. Davidson, who, as the son-in-law of the late Archbishop Tait, had large experience in such matters. I am his debtor for a most pleasant visit at the Deanery, which is really a part of Windsor Castle. He is a great favorite with the Queen, and is her chaplain while in residence there. Undoubtedly there is a mitre in store for him at no distant day, and among all the young men I met, I don't know any one that would grace it more. Eton College, where, as the Duke of Wellington was wont to say, the battle of Waterloo was fought and won in his boyhood, almost adjoins the walls of Windsor, and it was a rare pleasure to be shown through its historic halls and grounds by such guides as the Dean and the Head-master.

Lambeth Chapel, where the Conference really began its session, is full of tenderest associations for an American churchman, and it seemed most fitting that an American Bishop's voice should be first heard in a spot so sacred, where White, Provoost and Madison had received their Apostolic commission a century before. It was a rare congregation. Every quarter of the globe was represented, and the words of our own Bishop Whipple were "like apples of gold in pictures of silver." Both here, and wherever else I was present at a celebration of the Holy Communion, I was struck with the dignity and reverence of the English Bishops, in the administration of that Holy Sacrament. There was no straining of the law and no attempt at scenic effects. Whether in Cathedral or Parish Church, at Lambeth or St. Paul's, the rendering of the office was singularly free from fussiness.

The Bishop of Lincoln, whose name is so prominently before the world just now, I met day by day, and learned greatly to admire. Without expressing any opinion as to the wisdom of the issue raised in his case, he sees, as many others see, the danger that threatens the Church, in a legislative and judicial power, which may be actually hostile to her best interests.

The separation of Church and State is likely to come sooner or later. And if disestablishment were possible, without disendowment, it would be hailed as a welcome deliverance in certain quarters. Undoubtedly the Church will be robbed and stripped of her endowments, when she severs her connection with the State. This may defer the event for a good while, but trials like that of the Bishop of Lincoln, for practices which our larger liberty allows, will certainly do much to hasten the day, and decide the issue.

I should weary you, if I were to attempt the briefest summary of the grave questions discussed in the Conference with entire freedom, and very great ability. They took a wide range, touching the growth and welfare of the Church, as well as the duties of daily life, and the evils of the times. The sanctity of marriage, the purity of the family, the evils of intemperance, the madness of socialism,—on these and other topics, I am sure the conclusions reached will commend themselves to sober, thinking men. But the mere bald statements formulated and published to the world, do not give much idea of the processes by which they were wrought out. It was a very great privilege, I assure you, to listen, day after day, to men of world-wide fame as scholars, contributing their share of light and knowledge, and counselling together in a spirit of love about things which touch life, both spiritual and social, at many points.

I would like to tell, and thus put on permanent record, my deep and abiding obligation to the Archbishop of York, the Bishops of Dover, Durham, Ripon, Ely and Chichester, and many others, for most generous hospitality, and rare brotherly kindness. The days spent with them are full of pleasant memories. The death of Bishop Harris in London, and of Bishop Welles on his return to this country, but before he had reached his Diocese, were most saddening events, over which the whole Church sorrowed.

On the adjourning of the Conference, I took occasion to visit parts of England that I had not seen before. I spent ten very happy days in the Lake Country, the home of Wordsworth, and a host of literary worthies, less known. The remainder of my time was given to friends in Leeds, Scarborough and Warwickshire. On the last day of August I set sail for home, and arrived there on the 7th of September, just three months from the time I left it, grateful for all God's mercies and goodness, and glad once more to take up my work, refreshed and strengthened by my long rest. The Church of England is alive with activities of various sorts. Many of her laymen, like Lord Nelson and the Earl of Meath, are working as earnestly as the clergy. She is vindicating her right to be what her name indicates, the Church of the nation, the Church of the people, the Church of England. Perhaps never before in all her history have the clergy and laity wrought as we see them to-day.

When I went away in June, I left two of the clergy very ill, and news of their death speedily followed me. At the close of the last Convention, prayers were said, and a message of brotherly sympathy sent to the Rev. Ezra Isaac, whose earthly ministry seemed fast drawing to its close. His tender response, which is printed in the last Journal, was the last word he ever wrote. On the day following the Feast of St. John the Baptist, June 25th, he quietly passed away to his rest, full of rejoicing and holy hope. His last field of labor had been the beautiful little church, St. John's-in-the-Wilderness, Gibbsborough, built by Mr. and Mrs. John Lucas and their friends. It was most fitting that he, a true son of Israel, who had found the Messias for himself, and who for many years had heralded His near approach, in the spirit and power of Elias, should end his ministry in a church named after the Forerunner, and close his life almost on the natal day of that elder saint! Mr. Isaac was a man of the deepest humility. He thought lowly of himself, but glorified Christ, both in his living and dying. "He was an Israelite indeed in whom there was no guile." And he literally gave up everything, when he embraced Christianity: father and mother and brothers and sisters, home and fortune, all were gladly relinquished for the hope of the Gospel. His name was stricken from the family tree, and he was counted as one dead. But none of these things moved him. He literally counted all things but loss, that he might win Christ. He was a profound scholar, especially in Rabbinical Literature, only his modesty kept him back from making his real worth known. Nearly his whole ministry of twenty years was spent in this Diocese, and his last resting-place is near Crosswicks, among the flock that he loved so well, and served so faithfully. When ill-health compelled him to resign his charge at Gibbsborough, the Rev. John H. Veazey was appointed to succeed him. Mr. Veazey came from Maine, seeking a milder climate. He was a young man in years and in the ministry, but death had evidently set his mark upon him. He went to Portsmouth, Virginia, where he died on the 27th of June, only two days after his predecessor at Gibbsborough. It is not a little singular that thus both the priests, who had served in this mission parish, were called away together! Mr. Veazey was little known n the Diocese, his residence here being very brief. He was essentially a student, and especially fond of scientific research. He leaves a widow and two little children, whose helplessness makes me long for a generous Widows and Orphans Fund in the Diocese.

When I stepped ashore from the steamer, in New York, he very first tidings that met me was the sad announcement of the death of the Rev. H. Hastings Weld, S.T.D., Rector of Christ Church, Riverton, on the 27th of August, at the good old age of seventy-eight years. It is needless to assure you that the death of three of the clergy in as many months, was a cause of great sorrow to me. And the more so, because I was denied the privilege of ministering to them in their last hours, or saying the prayers of the Church by the graveside. It would be superfluous to speak at length of one so long and so well known in the Diocese as Dr. Weld. While Rector of Trinity Church, Moorestown, he held the first Church service in Riverton, and so began the work to which he was afterwards called, and which he leaves behind him as a noble monument to his faithful ministry. The beautiful stone church and rectory at Riverton are among the most costly and well-appointed in the Diocese. Dr. Weld was a man most gentle and courteous in manners, and so won and retained the love and respect of all who knew him. He had almost reached the Psalmist's limit of human life, but was spared a lingering sickness, or long disability from work. He died in the harness, and went down to the grave greatly beloved and honored. The vestry have caused to be erected a memorial tablet, which tells his worth and their love and loss. In a marked degree he was pre-eminent as a pastor, though his pen did good service both for pulpit and press.

On the Feast of the Epiphany, the Rev. John Rowland, Rector-Emeritus of St. John's Church, Somerville, departed hence. He was a man full of eccentricities, but of singularly devout life, and greatly beloved by the people to whom he had ministered for more than a generation. He lived alone, and by his graveside there was but one distant blood relative, who had come because he chanced to see the announcement of the death in the newspapers. A few years ago Mr. Rowland gave his theological library, not a large one, but well-chosen and of considerable value, to Racine College. Everything which he died possessed of he gave to the Church, which he loved very dearly. It was not much, but like the two mites of the poor widow which our Lord commended, it was all he had. I cannot commend too highly the devotion and loyalty of his vestry and people. When their old Rector was no longer fit for duty, they did not cast him off in his helplessness, but made as ample provision for his maintenance as they could afford, and got a younger man to carry on the work of the parish. Their conduct in this respect was so marked and exceptional that I have great pleasure in emphasizing it here. I am sure they will be blest for their love and loyalty to him, who had for so many years broken for them the bread of life, and had gone in and out among them, always an ensample to the flock. So many gaps in our ranks, in a single year, should serve to remind us of the clergy that the time is short, and that we also should be listening for the Master's call.

Among the laity, too, we have had our losses during the year; good men and women, not a few, have gone over to the majority. The Hon. Frederic A. Potts, one of the noblest men I ever knew, was called from a life of usefulness in the prime of manhood to his eternal rest. In my last address I spoke in earnest commendation of him as the only man in all the Diocese who had given largely and regularly for years to our mission work. Mr. Potts was a most successful man in all his undertakings, much sought and courted by society, but he never forgot his calling as a Christian wherever he might be. He was kingly in look and manner, but a little child in guilelessness. I am not ashamed to say that I loved him very tenderly, and admired him for his Christian manliness. It was a cross, hard to bear, that I could not join the little group of mourners, nor read the service for the burial of the dead over his remains.

Both physically and mentally he was almost the ideal of a perfect manhood. His faults were few indeed.

Christ Church, Shrewsbury, has been most sadly bereft in the past year. The two wardens, Mr. Edmund T. Williams and Mr. Joseph T. Allen, both deputies to our last Convention; the treasurer, Mr. Henry E. Schroeder, sometime deputy also, and Mr. Charles H. White, a vestryman, have all been called hence from toil to rest. It seems like a trial of faith that this venerable mother of parishes "which has stretched out her branches unto the sea and her boughs unto the river," should be compelled to lose so many, when there are few to fill up the decimated ranks.

St. Paul's, Rahway, last year reported the death of both Senior Warden and Treasurer. And now, the remaining warden, Dr. Lewis Drake, is gone also.

Gen. John B. McIntosh, late Senior Warden of St. John the Evangelist's, New Brunswick, has often represented his parish in our Council. He was a brave soldier and a true man. But if I were to count up all our losses, or attempt to name only those most worthy of record, I should trespass on your time and tax your patience. Let us bless God for the good example of all those who, having finished their course in faith, do now rest from their labors. And let us pray and strive that we may finally enter in and inherit with them. The light of Easter makes manifest and should help us to emphasize the comforting truth, that all are God's children, whether on this side or that side of the veil.

In the work of the Diocese there is no very marked advance to report. The number of clergymen canonically resident is actually less than a year ago, owing to deaths and removals, though the working force is not diminished at all. There are only three or four vacant parishes and missions. We have added but two to the clergy list by ordinations in the year, and I despair of ever interesting the Diocese in the work of increasing the ministry. By a unanimous vote the last Convention resolved that offerings for this purpose should be sent to the Treasurer of the Christian Knowledge Society, but, with a single exception, they have not been sent. We have a new petition in the Litany, "that it may please God to send forth laborers into His harvest." It might be well to add another clause, "that it may please God to put it into the hearts of His people to furnish the means for making their prayer effective." If it were not for generous gifts made to my Trust Fund, I could not extend aid to the young men studying for the ministry as I now do. I know there is wide divergence of opinion as to the wisdom of so doing, but a theory often fails us in the presence of individual cases and individual needs. If no aid were extended under any circumstances to young men struggling with poverty, during their years of preparation, I am sure the church would be the loser in the long run. The abuse of a right principle is a poor argument against its proper use. There are at present in this Diocese eleven candidates for holy orders, and three postulants. Most of them promise well and it would pain me to turn any of them back for lack of help. I will not send them to any of the education societies; indeed I could not do so were I willing, because these receive little or nothing from us. I will struggle on as heretofore, with such individual aid as I may receive, and what I can spare myself.

The confirmations for the year have been eight hundred and ninety-two. The number would have fallen much below other years had it not been for extraordinary classes in two parishes. St. John's, Elizabeth, presented, on two occasions, one hundred and thirty-eight, and St. John's, Camden, including the Mission Chapels, one hundred and three. I am often asked by the clergy as to whether a confirmation every year is not too much for the majority of parishes? It is difficult to lay down a uniform and inflexible rule. Where there are few changes in the population, and the candidates are drawn mostly from the Sunday Schools or the homes of Church people, a confirmation once in two or three years may be quite sufficient to meet the wants of the parish. It would, at least, give time for more thorough preparation, and make the Bishop's visit more of an event. But in communities that are shifting constantly, as in our larger cities, more frequent confirmations are not only desirable, but necessary. I shall be glad to conform my practice to the wishes of the clergy. I have laid but one corner stone in the year. I formally opened St. Paul's, Bound Brook, though unfinished. And I set apart, with a special service of dedication, a Sunday School room for St. Peter's, Spotswood. Several churches have been built along the shore. Key-East, Bay Head and Mantoloking have plain chapels of wood for summer use. St. Mary's-by-the-Sea, Point Pleasant, has been removed to a more eligible site and fitted up for winter use. The Rev. Mr. Kidder is in charge as a missionary without stipend. St. Peter's, Perth Amboy, has built a mission chapel in one of the suburbs of that growing town. It has also three very beautiful windows of stained glass, memorials of ancestral worthies of that venerable parish. St. John's, Elizabeth, and All Saints Memorial, Navesink, have had their interiors decorated by Stent. Grace, Elizabeth, is entirely free from indebtedness. Grace, Linden, has been removed, and now stands in the midst of the population. Holy Cross, North Plainfield, has built an extension to its chapel and Sunday School room, which furnishes convenient accommodations for its vested choir of men and boys.

St. John's, Somerville, has a new Rectory. Calvary, Flemington, after long waiting, is beginning to repay the time and money spent on it. I recently paid off an indebtedness of $250, on land adjoining the church, and deeded it to the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund, who now hold the entire property. St. James' Memorial, Eatontown, after being closed for some time, is now opened, and in charge of the Rev. Mr. Howell. It has a good Rectory, and an endowment fund which nets about $600 yearly. But for this provision, I fear the doors of the church would remain permanently closed. The few people that worship there can give very little additional support. Ascension, Atlantic City, has built a commodious Guild room adjoining the church. St. Mark's, Hammonton, has a new Rectory. St. James', Paulsboro, is free from debt, and awaiting consecration. St. Andrew's, Bridgeton, and Trinity, Moorestown, have very beautiful and costly memorial gifts. Grace, Merchantville, has plans for a new church, and is making preparation for great enlargement of its work. It has a mission at Maple Shade. Christ Church, Palmyra, has a new Rectory. Trinity, Fairview, and Grace, Pemberton, are both newly furnished and greatly improved. So is St. Peter's, Rancocas. St. Andrew's, Camden, a mission of St. John's, in a growing part of the city, has been raised to the estate of parish-hood, and has its own Rector. Holy Trinity, Delair, the youngest mission in the Diocese, is one of the most promising. On Saturday last I laid the corner-stone of a modest church, which the Advent offerings of the Sunday Schools will help to build. I have received this year from the Sunday Schools nearly $500, the amount asked for. Nothing I have attempted has met with so much success. And I take this opportunity to thank those who have so loyally co-operated with me in this good work. If all did so, much more might be accomplished. The children of this generation are learning the luxury and blessing of free and generous giving. They will not give less than fifty thousand dollars this year to the general missions of the Church.

Both our Convocation Treasurers have closed their books at the end of the fiscal year with every stipend paid and a balance of cash on hand. Certain changes in our methods of working will be brought before you at this time, and I crave for them most thoughtful consideration. If it appears reasonably certain that a change of machinery will awaken new interest in the work, or bring more money into the treasury, there should be little hesitation in adopting that which will accomplish what we all so much desire. But there will be little use in unsettling present plans, and changing for the mere sake of change, unless it is manifest that some benefit is to grow out of it. Our machinery may be ever so perfect, and unless there is power to make it go, it will be useless. The population of the State is increasing every year. The Diocese is certainly stronger than it was ten or fifteen years ago, hence we ought not to be satisfied with simply holding our own and doing as well as we did then. The mission work ought to grow. The methods of doing it are of little account, and any theory, however venerable, that stands in the way of progress ought to be abolished without a regret. I am sure the discussion of the subject will quicken interest and do good.

I have more than once expressed the hope that the fund for the support of the Episcopate might be so enlarged that there would be no need of a tax on the parishes for this purpose. Hitherto little has come of my suggestion. I am glad to say that in the past year Trinity Church, Asbury Park, has voluntarily given a bond to the trustees of the Episcopal Fund for the sum of $1,200. This is hopeful and encouraging. If other parishes would follow so good an example, the $56,000 now in hand as an endowment, might easily and quickly be doubled.

It is often laid to the Church's charge that she makes but scant provision for her clergy, when sickness or old age comes on them. In this Diocese, at least, that will very soon not be true. With the addition soon to be made to our Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund from the estate of the late Esther B. Stevens, of Princeton, it will mount up to between forty and fifty thousand dollars, the interest on which, with the offerings from parishes, ought to be enough to meet every legitimate call of need. I beg leave here to remind the clergy again of the canonical provision, which requires two consecutive annual collections from every rector or missionary before he is eligible as a beneficiary of the fund. Some are neglecting the plain terms of this condition, and if they are one day the losers, they will have no one to blame but themselves.

Let me in this connection remind the clergy that all who are in good health may avail themselves of the benefits provided by the venerable corporation for the relief of widows and orphans, about whose existence few seem to have any knowledge. After the Revolutionary war the fund was divided equitably between New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey. Our share was originally small, but a hundred years of good management have greatly increased it. By the payment of $8 a year it is possible to make provision for widows and children far beyond what any scheme of Life Insurance will yield. I would suggest whether it might not be well to print the revised rules of the corporation in the Journal this year, where they will be accessible to all for permanent reference. I urge the clergy, especially the younger married men, not to fail in securing this provision for those dependent on them, who may one day stand in sad need of just such help as the corporation affords. Before I leave this subject I venture once again to call attention to the Clergymen's Retiring Fund Society, chartered in this State, and of whose Board of Trustees I have the honor to be the President. The permanent fund is now more than fifty thousand dollars, and is gaining about five thousand a year, from the payment of dues alone. Presently this sum will be greatly increased, and by the time some of the younger clergy are sixty, provided they join now, they will undoubtedly be able to draw out a handsome annuity. All payments into the treasury are treated as capital. All interest is divided annually among those who have attained the age of sixty and have paid their dues for five years. In order to make it fair for younger men, the payments are made according to the years of membership. Thus one who has been a member ten years will receive just as much again as one who has only five to his credit. By the payment of $20 and one collection a year, therefore, any clergyman in this Diocese can make tolerable provision against infirmity or age, as well as for his family in case of death. Canonical residence here will very soon be a thing to be desired and sought for. I have counselled with several of the clergy as to the possibility of so changing the rules for dispensing the income of our Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund, as to give every clergyman who has attained the age of sixty, and has been canonically resident for a certain number of years, an annuity proportioned to his time of residence. I do not know that such a change is either possible or desirable, though our sister Diocese of Newark has resolved to try the experiment, when her permanent fund shall have reached $30,000. It is at least worth considering.

There is a matter of very grave importance that I desire specially to call your attention to, namely: The danger of ill-advised legislation on the part of the State in things which touch the interests of the Church. Every incorporated parish receives from the State certain powers touching material interests, and becomes subject to the operation of civil laws as a corporation. Some years since the evils of special legislation became so great that an amendment to the Constitution was passed forbidding such legislation, and permitting only bills of a general character. But instead of curing the trouble it has, in fact, increased and magnified it very greatly. Now when any one wishes a special law passed, he simply introduces a general bill. Some obscure corporation in the State that wishes to effect a change, for purely local reasons, may thus commit all the religious bodies, of every name and creed, to something they do not want, and very often do not know anything about. It has come to my knowledge during the past year, that legislation of very great importance to us has been repealed, without our wish or asking, and with no opportunity to protest against it, while general laws have found a place on the statute book, which if they were enforced might do us mischief and great harm. It would be a most desirable thing, if some one learned in the law were willing to examine all proposed legislative acts, with reference to their bearing on our corporate rights. The Constitutional Amendment, which has so signally failed to accomplish what it was meant to do, ought to be repealed. Then, if any body of Christians desires relief, or positive enactment, let it apply for it, over its own name, and the interests of others will not be interfered with.

I have just one more suggestion to make in the same direction. It is within the knowledge of some of you, that the Easter Monday Election of Vestrymen is sometimes made the occasion for paying off old scores, or gratifying personal spites. The Rector's friends are to be turned out, or the Rector's enemies. Some obnoxious vestryman is doomed to defeat, or some ambitious friend is to be rewarded. And thus it has come to pass that all the Lenten-time has been given up to preparation for the fray, and the entire parish has been kept in a chronic state of excitement and unrest. It has been proposed to change the time of election, but that would only transfer the trouble from one part of the year to another. A better plan would be, to have our Vestries chosen as our Boards of Diocesan Trustees now are, only one-third of the number going out of office in any one year. This would make it impossible for any number of persons to combine, and change the policy of the parish by revolution. The marvel to me is, that under our present system, things have gone on so well.

I purposely omit all but the most meagre details of the year's work. After all, that portion of a Bishop's time devoted to visitations and reducible to figures, as an abstract of the record, covers but a fraction of the real work that goes with the office: just as the report made by the parish priest to the Convention every year fails to record the most laborious part of a pastor's duty. The ten or twenty confirmed in the parish represent an amount of labor and effort expended, which statistics cannot give. The real work does not appear in the record at all. The three or four burials may have involved months of frequent visiting to the sick-room, of pleading and praying, in order to prepare the dying for death, as well as visits to comfort the mourners and bind up the broken hearts, doing all that a faithful pastor should do, in the discharge of his sacred duties. None, but one who has been himself a pastor, knows how only here and there a little fragment of time and work can be reduced to figures. And very often the most meagre visible results are wrought out by the most laborious processes. We are far too apt to dwell on and emphasize the material side of the Church's life and growth, and despise or overlook everything that is not reducible to figures. But in fact we know that the growth of the spiritual temple is often without sound of axe or hammer, and the Kingdom of God cometh not with observation. I have sometimes found the most devoted and faithful clergyman losing heart because he had so little to show as the fruits of his labor. But if our eyes could read the record of his work on high, if we could see as God sees, we should find his judgment of himself very far astray. There is to-day many an obscure missionary toiling at his post of duty, battling with discouragements, who from change of population or loss of faithful workers is compelled to see the labor of years dissipated, and the fruit of hard toil scattered to the winds, but who in the great day of reckoning will receive a brighter crown than many another, whose name is on every tongue, and whose work, measured by human standards, is seemingly of far greater importance. "There are last that shall be first." Very often the work, which costs most of worry and anxiety, cannot be summed up in tables. To hold the ground already won, to strengthen the things that remain, may be just as real gain as seeking new fields or pushing out new ventures. It may be well to remember this for our comfort and encouragement, if we are ever tempted to lose heart, or think the possibilities of life far greater than its results would seem to indicate.

There are many things of present and pressing interest in the Church at large, that we might profitably discuss and consider, did time permit. But as we are here solely in the interests of our own work in this Diocese, it seems to me best that our time and thoughts should all be given to that, relegating the larger questions to the Council soon to assemble, which alone has the power and responsibility for their settlement.

I cannot close this my fifteenth annual address without making grateful recognition of that Providential care, which has kept me all these years, in my going out and my coming in, free from accident or harm. To that same gracious care and protection I commend you, with all the interests you represent, praying that His blessing may continue to rest upon us, and the work we are doing for His glory, and the up-building of His Church and Kingdom in the world.

JOHN SCARBOROUGH,
Bishop of New Jersey.

CANONICAL NOTIFICATION.

The Rev. E. M. Rodman, who has long and faithfully served the Diocese, first as Dean and then as Archdeacon of New Brunswick, declines a re-appointment.

I have nominated the Rev. Thomas H. Cullen, Rector of St. Peter's Church, Freehold, for the office of Archdeacon, to fill the vacancy. He will be found a willing worker for the cause of Missions, in that part of the Diocese committed to his oversight and care. And I bespeak for him the hearty co-operation of the Clergy and Laity in his arduous task.

JOHN SCARBOROUGH,

TRENTON, N. J.,
Feast of the Ascension, 1889.

Bishop of New Jersey.

AN ORDER OF SERVICE
FOR THE CENTENNIAL ANNIVERSARY OF THE INAUGURATION OF GEORGE WASHINGTON, FIRST PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES, APRIL 30, 1789. APPOINTED FOR USE IN THE DIOCESE OF NEW JERSEY ON THE MORNING
OF APRIL 30, 1889. BY THE BISHOP.

The last of the series of Centennial Commemorations, which began in 1876, will occur on Tuesday, the 30th day of April of the present year. On the morning of that day in 1789, in the city of New York, George Washington took the oath of office as the first President of the United States of America.

At the close of the inaugural ceremonies, the President and both Houses of Congress, with others, went on foot from Wall Street to St. Paul's Chapel, Broadway, where the prayers of the Church were said by Bishop Provoost, the first Bishop of New York, and one of the Chaplains of the Congress.

Washington was a devout communicant of our Church, and an office-holder, till the time of his death, in his Virginia parish. It seems most fitting that an event of so much importance should be recalled and emphasized at the end of the first century of Republican government. On the morning of that memorable day in 1789, the church bells throughout the country were rung, to call the people together, that they might invoke a special blessing on those in authority. That blessing has been granted abundantly. I ask the clergy and people of this Diocese, where it is possible to do so, to assemble in their several Houses of Worship on the morning of April 30th, and join in the same prayers and praises in which the Father of his Country besought the guidance and help of his Heavenly Father.

The following order of service is put forth for use on that day. Let us gladly do our share to mark the beginning of a new century, by praying that God may continue to bless our land in the future as He has in the past.

JOHN SCARBOROUGH,

Bishop of New Jersey.

Trenton, April 2, 1889.

The service shall begin by singing hymn 409.

Then the Minister shall say :

The Lord be with you.

Answer. And with thy spirit.

Minister. Let us pray.

Then all kneeling, the Minister and people shall say :

Our Father, &c.

The service shall proceed from this point as in the order for Daily Morning Prayer, save as hereinafter noted.

Special Psalm, 85, 118.

First Lesson. Ecclesiasticus 44, to verse 16, omitting verses 5 and 6.

Second Lesson. 1. Thess. : v., 12-24.

Before the General Thanksgiving, the following prayers shall be said :

For the Country.

Almighty God. Who in the former time didst lead our fathers forth into a wealthy place: Give Thy grace, we humbly beseech Thee, to us their children, that we may always approve ourselves a people mindful of Thy favor and glad to do Thy will. Bless our land with honorable industry, sound learning, and pure manners. Defend our liberties, preserve our unity. Save us from violence, discord and confusion, from pride and arrogance, and from every evil way. Fashion into one happy people the multitudes brought hither out of many kindreds and tongues. Endue with the spirit of wisdom those whom we entrust in thy Name with the authority of governance, to the end that there be peace at home, and that we keep a place among the nations of the earth. In the time of prosperity, fill our hearts with thankfulness; and in the day of trouble, suffer not our trust in Thee to fail; all which we ask for Jesus Christ's sake. Amen.

For a Blessing on the Families of the Land.

Almighty God, our Heavenly Father, who settest the solitary in families; we commend to Thy continual care the homes in which Thy people dwell. Put far from them, we beseech Thee, every root of bitterness, the desire of vain-glory and the pride of life. Fill them with faith, virtue, knowledge, temperance, patience, godliness. Knit together in constant affection those who, in holy wedlock, have been made one flesh; turn the heart of the fathers to the children, and the heart of the children to the fathers; and so kindle charity among us all, that we be evermore kindly affectioned with brotherly love; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

After the General Thanksgiving shall be said the following :

Special Thanksgivings.

O God, Whose Name is excellent in all the earth, and Whose glory is above the heavens, and Who didst, as on this day, inspire and direct the hearts of our forefathers in laying the strong foundations of peace, liberty, and safety for our nation; we bless and adore Thy glorious Majesty for this Thy loving kindness towards us. And we humbly pray that the devout sense of Thy signal mercies to our land may renew and increase in us a spirit of love and thankfulness to Thee, the Author of all good, and a spirit of true devotion to the welfare of our country. May we so improve Thine inestimable blessings, that peace and happiness, truth and justice, religion and piety may be established among us for all generations. This we beg through the merits of Jesus Christ our Saviour. Amen.

O God, Whose Name is excellent in all the earth, and Whose glory is above the heavens: We bless Thee for the great things Thou hast done and art doing for the children of men. We consider the days of old, the years of ancient times, and unto Thee do we give thanks. Moreover, we yield Thee most high praise for the wonderful grace and virtue declared in all those Thy children who have been the lights of the world in their several generations. For raising up Thy servant GEORGE WASHINGTON, and giving him to be a leader and commander to the people; for vouchsafing to him victory over kings, and for bestowing upon him many excellent gifts; for inclining the hearts of men in Congress assembled to wise choices, and for granting them vision of the days to come; for a settled constitution, and for equal laws; for freedom to do the thing that is right, and liberty to say the truth ; for the spread of knowledge everywhere among us, and for the preservation of the faith ; we bless and magnify Thy Holy Name, humbly beseeching Thee to accept this our sacrifice of thanks and praise, through Jesus Christ our only Saviour and Redeemer. Amen.

Where the Holy Communion is celebrated, the Collect for the day may be used, and Phil. iv., 4-9, shall be The Epistle ; S. John viii., 31-37, The Gospel.

Hymns that may be sung : 29, 302, 326, 405.

ARCHDEACONRY OF NEW BRUNSWICK.

REPORT FOR 1888-89.

From the statistics, presented in the Reports of the Curates of the Archdeaconry, the following summary has been made, as showing the result of the year's work :

Number of families,	412
as : infants, 69 ; adults, 13,	82
Number of communicants,	596
" " added,	31
" " deducted,	16
Number of School Teachers,	87
" " " Scholars,	669
Number of services,	1,380
Contributions,	$6,424 94

These figures compare favorably with those given a ago, and in some cases show a very hopeful increase. Missionary in charge of All Saints' Mission, Scotch a, reports that he is greatly encouraged in his work. s first service, on Jan. 3d, there was a congregation of en persons. On Easter-Day there were 140 persons at and 50 communicants. The congregations average 80 persons. The Missionary at S. River reports that interest in the Mission is well sustained and the future promising. A Sunday School has been established at umes' Church, Piscataway, and is doing good work. Rev. H. H. Sleeper has removed from South Amboy, e Memorial, having accepted a call to Grace Church, oeth. The work is languishing at the Mission for of a resident clergyman. This want has been now ied by the acceptance of the Rev. A. E. Lowndes. The Rector writes that the work is full of promise, in the midst of a rapidly growing section of the town. The Missionary at Hightstown records the removal of six communicants from that little Mission, but he has been cheered by the increase of a fund, which he has started to defray the expense of enlarging and re-modelling the church, to which a brother missionary contributed $25. The recipient says, that if all the churches in the Diocese would remember us in this generous proportion to their means, we would very soon get the work started, which would establish the church firmly in this town, which will eventually become an important point. The Rev. W. E. Daw has resigned the charge of Christ Church, Allentown, to give his entire services to Grace Church, Crosswicks. The Missionary at Bound Brook reports that the new church has cost thus far about $2,200, and requires about $800 to finish it. But services are held in it though it lacks a good floor to exclude the wind, casings for the windows and a front-door. Two hundred and fifty dollars would render the edifice quite comfortable.

Respectfully submitted,
E. M. RODMAN.

BENJ. SMITH, Treasurer, in account with the ARCHDEACONRY OF NEW BRUNSWICK.

The election of a Standing Committee on Constitution and Canons being in order, the Rev. A. B. Baker moved that the same committee be re-elected; and on motion of the Ven. T. H. Cullen the Assistant Secretary was instructed to cast the ballot, and the same Committee was declared unanimously re-elected.

On motion of the Rev. Mr. Huff the following proposed modifications of Title IV, Canon 1, were referred to the Committee on Constitution and Canons:

MODIFICATIONS OF TITLE IV, CANON 1, PROPOSED BY THE COMMITTEE APPOINTED AT THE LAST CONVENTION RELATING TO THE SUBJECT OF DIOCESAN MISSIONS.

First, Resolved, That Canon 1, of Title IV, of the Canons of the Diocese, be entitled:

DIOCESAN MISSIONS.

Second, Resolved, That Canon 1, of Title IV, be repealed and the following be substituted:

Section 1. For its missionary work, the Diocese shall be divided into two districts, to be called Convocations, viz: The Convocation of New Brunswick to include the counties of Union (except the township of Summit), Middlesex, Somerset, Hunterdon, Mercer, Monmouth and Ocean. (2.) The Convocation of Burlington to include the counties of Burlington, Camden, Atlantic, Gloucester, Salem, Cumberland and Cape May.

Sec. 2. Each Convocation shall consist of the clergy canonically resident within its limits, with the lay delegates from its several parishes for the time being to the Diocesan Convention; and one lay delegate from each parish and mission (not represented in Convention), and shall be organized under the direction of the Bishop, who is, ex-officio, the President. Each Convocation shall have a Rural Dean, a Secretary, Treasurer, and such other officers as its work may require; and shall make its own by-laws.

Sec. 3. Each Convocation shall have charge of all the Diocesan missions within its limits, and designate such new missionary work as may, with the approval of the Bishop, be undertaken by it. All appointments of missionaries shall be by the Bishop. The Convocation shall have full management of its own funds; shall hold regular meetings at least three times a year; and at the first regular meeting after the Diocesan Convention in each year shall elect by ballot a Secretary, a Treasurer, and a Lay Delegate to the Board of Diocesan Missions, who shall serve for one year or until their successors are elected.

Sec. 4. The Rural Dean of each Convocation shall be appointed by the Bishop from three clergymen nominated to him by ballot of the Convocation. His term of office shall be for one year, and he shall be eligible for re-election. The Duties of the Rural Dean shall be: to preside at meetings of the Convocation in the absence or at the request of the Bishop; to superintend all the missionary work within his district; to visit at least once a year all missions and parishes receiving missionary aid, and to visit all parishes, with the consent of their respective Rectors, in the interest of his work. He shall report annually, before the 15th of April, to the Diocesan Board, the condition, needs and progress of the missions in the Convocation, in detail; and the reports shall be forthwith printed, and a copy transmitted to the Rector of each parish, with request that the same be read to his congregation at service on the Sunday following its reception.

Sec. 5. The Diocesan Board of Missions shall consist of the Bishop, the Rural Deans, the Treasurers, and one Lay Delegate from each Convocation. The Board shall elect from among its own members a Secretary; shall devise plans for increasing the interest and effectiveness of the work of Diocesan Missions, and for the collection of missionary funds; shall make its own by-laws; shall meet within two weeks before the Annual Convention, and shall recommend to the Annual Convention, when it is in session for the transaction of missionary business, the sum of money to be asked for from each Convocation for the work of Missions within its limits for the ensuing year. It shall report annually to the Convention upon the missionary work done in the Diocese during the previous year; and state the names of the missionaries and mission-stations, the annual receipts and expenditures, and a list of contributing parishes, and those non-contributing, if any.

Sec. 6. Every minister having charge of a congregation within the Diocese shall be earnestly requested to see that there be made and reported at least one annual collection for its Missionary Fund, from the parish or station in his charge.

Sec. 7. All moneys collected within each Convocation for Diocesan Missions shall be distributed subject to its own by-laws. The income from the permanent missionary funds, when not specifically appropriated by the terms of the trust, shall be applied to the missions of the Diocese in such manner as the Bishop by written order to the Treasurers may direct.

Sec. 8. The Convention shall sit for missionary business whenever the Bishop shall call it to go into session for that purpose. During such session the recommendations of the Diocesan Board of Missions shall be considered and acted upon, and such portions of the Rural Dean's reports as the Bishop may select shall be read.

The Rev. Mr. Perkins offered the following amendment to Sec. 4 of Title IV, Canon I:

Amend section 4 by inserting instead of the word "two" in line four the word "one."

Referred.

The Rev. Mr. Perkins offered the following :

Proposed New Canon, Substitute for Canon II, Title IV,

OF THE

FUND FOR AGED AND INFIRM CLERGY.

Sec. 1. An annual collection is recommended to be made on Thanksgiving Day, or on some Sunday near thereto, in every Parish and Mission in this Diocese, for the relief of clergymen disabled by age or disease. Such collections shall be forwarded, as soon as possible, to the Trustees of the Fund, and shall be applied by them as hereinafter provided.

Sec. 2. Ten per cent. of the amount received from collections, with any unappropriated funds, at the end of the conventional year shall be added to the principal of the Fund, and invested as principal. The interest on the principal of the Fund for Aged and Infirm Clergy, all special donations to the Fund in the conventional year, and the balance of the collections received from Parishes and Missions shall form the fund available for appropriations.

Sec. 3. The Trustees of the Fund shall make regular appropriations on the written order of the Standing Committee, furnished by the Secretary of the Committee. The Standing Committee shall order regular appropriations only upon the written recommendation of the Ecclesiastical authority of the Diocese. Those who shall be entitled to regular appropriations shall be clergymen of the Diocese who have been such for at least three years preceding their application, and have spent not less than two years in the active discharge of the duties of the ministry within the limits of the Diocese, and have taken at least two consecutive annual collections for this Fund. A failure to take a collection will disable any clergyman from being entitled to regular appropriations, until he shall again make himself entitled by two consecutive annual collections. If a clergyman entitled to regular appropriations ceases to hold a cure, he shall not lose his right to regular appropriations which he had while holding cure.

Sec. 4. The Trustees of the Fund shall make special appropriations from the available fund, if that fund has not been already exhausted by regular appropriations under Sec. 3, of this Canon, and provided further that the amount of all special appropriations shall not exceed thirty per cent. of the available fund in any one conventional year. When special appropriations are made they shall be as follows.—(1) The Trustees shall pay upon the written order of the Ecclesiastical authority of the Diocese, a sum not exceeding seventy-five dollars toward defraying the funeral expenses of any clergyman belonging to the Diocese. (2) They shall make a special appropriation when such appropriation has been ordered by three-fourths of the members of the Standing Committee, at a regular meeting of said Committee. The Standing Committee shall order special appropriations only in cases of very urgent and special need upon the written recommendation of the Ecclesiastical authority of the Diocese in behalf of those who do not come within the previous conditions of this canon, and only clergymen who have been connected with the Diocese not less than two years and have been engaged in clerical work approved by the Ecclesiastical authority during that time, shall be considered eligible for special appropriations.

Sec. 5. All regular appropriations shall be payable semi-annually, unless otherwise ordered. The Trustees of the Fund shall report to each regular meeting of the Standing Committee the amount of the available fund in their possession, and at the meeting before the annual Convention, they shall exhibit to the Committee a complete statement of the Fund, with all additions and investments connected with the Fund, together with the individual receipts, and the expenditures during the year. And they shall present the complete statement to each annual Convention of the Diocese, for such disposition as the Convention may direct.

C. M. PERKINS.

Referred.

The Rev. Mr. Perkins moved to amend Title IV, Canon IV, by appending to the present Canon the words :

When any alteration of the Constitution and Canons is made by the Convention all such alterations shall be printed as amended in an appendix to the Journal of the Convention, and continued from year to year until such time as a new edition of the Constitution and Canons shall be ordered by the Convention. The appendix shall also show by a foot-note in what year the alterations were effected.

Referred.

The Rev. Mr. Perkins moved to amend Title II, Canon II, Sec. 2, by inserting after the words, "by a majority of the votes cast," the words, "from among the eligible male voters;" and to amend section 3 by striking out the word "male" from the second line of the section.

Referred.

Mr. John F. Cabot moved to amend Art. X, Sec. 1, of the Constitution [concerning the election of the Standing Committee] by striking out the words, "each order choosing its own members by ballot subject to the approval of the other order," and inserting, "by a concurrent ballot of the Clergy and Laity. The vote shall be by orders."

Referred.

Mr. John F. Cabot moved to amend Art. XIII by striking out section 1 and making it read :

Section 1. At every Annual Convention next before the regular meeting of the General Convention, four Clerical and four Lay Deputies shall be elected by ballot, by a concurrent vote of both orders, to represent this Diocese in the General Convention; who shall hold office for three years. The voting shall be by orders.

Referred.

Mr. Cabot also moved to amend Art. XIII, Sec. 2, [election of Supplementary Deputies] by striking out the word "nominate" and by inserting the words, "elect in same manner."

Referred.

The Convention took a recess till 3 p. m.

ST. MARY'S CHURCH, BURLINGTON,
Tuesday, May 6, 3 p. m.

The Convention re-assembled, the Rt. Rev. the Bishop in the chair.

The Committee on the Certificates of Lay Deputies reported that Deputies from the following parishes were entitled to seats in the Convention: St. Paul's, Camden; Trinity, Cranford; St. Luke's, Roselle; Trinity, Vineland; Church of Our Saviour, Camden.

The Rev. Dr. Garrison presented the following Report on the Formation of New Parishes, and a Canon providing for the same, which, on motion, were referred to the Committee on Constitution and Canons:

The Committee to inquire if any canonical legislation in reference to the formation of new parishes is needed, and, if so, what, respectfully report:

The Canons of this Diocese forbid the formation of a new parish without the consent of the Bishop, and provide a "mode of procedure" when a new parish is to be formed within the limits of an existing parish. But there is no mode by which we may determine "the limits of a parish" for either of the above cases. Our legislation has neither defined the boundaries of a parish on any general principle, nor marked them by geographical designations. Hence there is no law or canon which decides when any given location is within or without the limits of an existing parish. There is one of the General Canons (Title I, Canon XV, Sec. 6) which gives a mode of defining the limits of a parish for the sole purpose of protecting it from the unauthorized intrusion of ministerial acts. But this has no reference to the limits which may exclude the formation of new parishes, or the erection of new churches. That is, we have no fixed parish boundaries which settle the limits of the parishes, or to which we may refer when we wish to be sure whether the parish we desire to form or the church we hope to build is within or without the limits of an existing parish. This deficiency in our Canons is constantly and increasingly giving rise to controversies as to the right to form new parishes or build new churches in locations which one party claims to be within the limits of his parish and the other just as earnestly contends are beyond the boundaries of the parish whose jurisdiction might arrest his enterprise.

It is with regard to these issues, connected with the formation of new parishes and the related subject of erecting new churches, that your Committee are called upon to act, and we shall limit ourselves strictly within this range in the propositions we desire to offer.

It has been proposed by some to meet the difficulties of the whole parochial problem by a complete system of parish bounds made by one mode or another, and legalized by Canon. This, at its very outset, would be accompanied by almost insuperable obstacles, and when effected, if it ever could be, it would provoke more practical evils than the present system. The formation of parishes as geographical areas with fixed boundaries was not the work originally of laws or Canons. The customs of centuries gradually formed the practical limits by which each parish was bounded; and then law was called in to enforce immemorial custom, and to define the rights and responsibilities of these several districts.

The special subjects referred to your Committee—the building of new churches and the formation of new parishes—had been legally and practically provided for in the ages before the settlement of parish boundaries, and so continued ever since in the English Church, upon the universally accepted principle that the authority to allow as well as forbid the erection of churches and chapels vested wholly and always in the Bishop of each Diocese. His power to permit the building of a church and the consequent establishment of a parish, as also to deny it, was for centuries admitted, and exercised constantly, as being as really and factually one of the inherent functions of a Bishop, and part of his office, as that of Confirmation, Ordination, or any other of the specifically understood prerogatives of the Episcopacy.

Your Committee regard the acceptance of this ancient and historical principle, and the embodiment of it in the Canon relating to the formation of parishes and the building of new churches, as the most efficient, and, judging from the experience of centuries, the wisest method of solving this problem. The sole function acknowledged to the Bishop in our Canons on this matter is to make him the supreme obstructionist to church progress by prohibiting the formation of parishes; whereas the embodiment in our Canons of the old immemorial law and usage will make him potentially, at least, the chief missionary, and on this basis we have formulated the Canon on this subject, which we herewith present to the Convention.

THE CANON.

TITLE II, CANON IV.

Section 1. No new parish shall be organized or established, and no church or chapel be erected in this Diocese, without the written consent of the Bishop, acting with the advice and consent of the Standing Committee; and the consent to organize or establish a parish shall not be given until the congregation, desiring such organization, shall present to the Bishop a declaration in writing, passed at a regularly convened meeting of the congregation and signed by the President and Secretary, that

(1.) The said parish, its Rector and Vestry, shall at all times adhere to and observe the doctrines, discipline and worship of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America.

(2.) The said parish shall at all times be subject to the spiritual jurisdiction and authority of the Bishop of the Diocese of New Jersey ; and, in case of a division, to that of the Bishop within whose jurisdiction it may come.

(3.) The said parish, whether organized with Trustees or with a Vestry will apply so soon as possible after its incorporation for admission into union with the Convention of the Diocese, and will become subject to the Constitution and Canons thereof.

Sec. 2. No parish hereafter organized shall be entitled to Episcopal visitations and ministrations until it shall have complied with the above provisions of this Canon.

Sec. 3. (1.) The word parish, whenever it occurs in this Canon, shall be taken to mean any congregation of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese duly organized according to the Constitution and usages of said Church.

(2.) When it is desired to form a new parish, or to erect a church or chapel in any part of this Diocese (except on the site of a previously existing church or chapel), the mode of procedure shall be as follows, viz. :

(3.) The persons desiring the formation of a parish, or the erection of a church or chapel (except as above), shall make a written application signed by as many of them as may be convenient to the Bishop for his consent.

(4.) The Bishop shall then lay the matter before the Standing Committee, and, at the same time, shall give notice of the application to the Rectors or (in the absence of a Rector) the Wardens of the three parishes whose houses of worship are nearest to the location of the new church building proposed, or the new parish desired ; and, also, that any objections they may submit to the Bishop in writing will be duly considered by the Bishop and Standing Committee.

(5.) After 30 days from the giving of such notice the Standing Committee shall proceed to the consideration of the applications, and also of the objections, if there be any, and to give their Canonical advice on the matter to the Bishop. If their advice and consent be given to the application, the Bishop may then give his consent to the action proposed. Such action cannot be proceeded with without his consent.

Sec. 4. The consent of the Bishop and Standing Committee for the formation of a new parish, or the erection of a new church or chapel, shall be in the following form : "The (formation of a new parish or the erection of a new church or chapel) in the town of _____, County of _____, to be known as _____ Church, having been duly considered by the Standing Committee and approved by them, I do hereby give my Canonical consent to the (formation of said parish or the erection of said church or chapel).

Given under my hand this day of , in the year of our Lord
A. B. , Bishop of New Jersey.

Attest: C. D. , Secretary Standing Committee.

All which is respectfully submitted.

The time of my expected absence has been extended, so that I shall probably not be at home until the month of July. Whatever duties the Convention may be pleased to devolve upon me, after that date, I will be happy to perform.

As soon after the last meeting of Convention as could be done, the Journal of its proceedings was printed, and a thousand copies distributed, in the usual manner. The members of the various Committees were, at an early date, notified of their appointment.

The copies of Journal of the General Convention to which the Diocese is entitled, have been received and distributed by the Assistant Secretary.

ELVIN K. SMITH.

LAKE COMO, ITALY, APRIL 1, 1890.

On motion of the Rev. Mr. Rodman, it was Resolved, That the thanks of the Convention are due, and are hereby tendered to the Committee on the Reprint of Early Journals for the very faithful and zealous manner in which they have discharged the duty assigned to them.

On motion of the Rev. Mr. Rodman, it was Resolved, That a committee be appointed to consider and report on the subject of a wise disposal of Burlington College, as suggested in the Episcopal address.

The Bishop appointed as this Committee: The Rev. M. Rodman, the Rev. A. B. Baker, the Rev. Haslett Mc-

Kim, Jr., the Hon. J. H. Pugh, M. D., Mr. Wm. D'Olier, Mr. C. Ewan Merritt.

Mr. James Parker read the following

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE REPRINT OF EARLY JOURNALS:

The Committee on the Reprinting of the Early Journals of the Conventions in this State reports: That the Journals from 1785 to 1816 inclusive have been reprinted, and the copies been duly delivered to all who subscribed for them.

When this matter was referred to this committee, after years of previous fruitless efforts, it seemed almost a hopeless task. There were but 824 subscriptions from this Diocese, and none from the Diocese of Newark. Before the Committee felt authorized to proceed with the work the subscriptions were increased by the efforts of the Committee to 704 copies, of which 74 remain unpaid. Probably a third of these will not be collected.

It was deemed advisable to add to the Journals the indices (pp. 549-578 inclusive); the documents contained in the appendix, none of which had ever before been printed (pp. 579-590), and also to add to the whole the "Historical Sketches of the Parishes, and Biographical Notices of the Ministers and Lay Delegates who Composed those Conventions" (p. 117).

For these additions one member of your Committee, Mr. James Parker, is alone responsible. No such sketches had ever before been prepared and printed together, although the Convention of 1846 had

"Resolved, That the parochial clergy of this Diocese prepare an historical account of their respective parishes from their origin up to the present time."

And the Convention of 1850 further

"Resolved, That in compliance with, and in extension of, the above resolution, the clergy be requested to copy in full from their Parochial Records all items of historical interest; to note down all traditions which can be discovered bearing upon American Church History, etc.; to collect all manuscripts, publications and memorials, old and new, which throw light upon the work and words of the Church at any period of her history; that they deposit their parochial histories and collections with the Secretary, and that the laity be requested to lend their zealous and efficient aid in furthering the objects of the above resolutions."

These resolutions were complied with by the clergy in some instances, but a diligent inquiry has brought to light only two of these historical accounts.

It is believed that the value of the reprinted Journals has been increased by these sketches, and they will at least serve to call attention to the fact fading memories and traditions of those early Churchmen to whom we, in this day, are indebted under God for our present goodly heritage.

Of course all these additions increased the cost of reprinting ; but, on the other hand, the Committee were enabled to add to the price (which addition has been, with few exceptions, cheerfully paid by the subscribers) nearly sufficient to pay the additional expense thus incurred.

In conclusion your Committee report that the whole cost of reprinting has been $1,057. There has been received $758 ; still due and collectable say $50—$808 ; leaving a deficiency of about $249. About 1,000 copies were printed, of which there remain in the hands of the Committee about 300 copies.

If the above stated deficiency can be made up, these copies can be distributed to the Church at large, and to libraries in this and other States.

Respectfully submitted.

JAMES PARKER,
FRANCIS MANY.

BURLINGTON, N. J., May 6th, 1890.

The Convention took a recess till 8 p. m.

ST. MARY'S CHURCH, BURLINGTON,
TUESDAY, May 6, 8 p. m.

The Convention re-assembled for Missionary business. After a short service the Bishop announced the proposed order. The Archdeacon of New Brunswick and the Treasurer made their annual reports. In the absence of the Archdeacon of Burlington, his report was read by the Rev. Mr. Thompson.*

The Rev. Mr. Rodman read the following

REPORT OF THE NEW JERSEY BRANCH OF THE WOMAN'S AUXILIARY TO BOARD OF MISSIONS.

The New Jersey Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Board of Missions held its Annual Meeting at Trinity Church, Trenton, on Wednesday, April 30th, at 10 a. m. The meeting was opened with the Celebration of the Holy Communion. The address was made by the Bishop of the Diocese, and a most cordial welcome extended to the members of the Auxiliary by the Rev. Mr. Barbour, the Rector of the parish. There was a full attendance, thirty-four parishes being largely represented.

*These reports will be found in the Appendix to the Episcopal Address.

At the afternoon session, addresses were made by the Rev. Mr. Page, of Japan, who forcibly presented the needs and claims of the mission there, and by the Rev. Dr. Langford, General Secretary of the Board of Missions, who made an eloquent appeal for the various branches of Missionary Work.

The reports from the vice-presidents of money and boxes sent to the different parts of the Mission field were as follows:

For Indian Missions.....	$518 76
For Freedmen.....	985 00
For Diocesan Missions.....	513 17
For Foreign Missions.....	644 18
For Domestic Missions.....	4,328 32
For work under Rev. Mr. Gordon, in Mexico.....	204 69

During the year there have been many Diocesan Meetings, which have been well attended, and much interest has been shown in the work of the Auxiliary. The work, undertaken a year ago, of sending Church periodicals and papers to missionaries and Church women in remote places who are unable to obtain them, has been succeeding admirably under the wise management of the librarians of the Divisions. Thanks to their zeal, more than 150 periodicals and papers are now regularly sent. The letters that have been received acknowledging these favors are grateful and touching in the extreme.

The "Ten Cent Missionary Assessment Fund" amounted during the past year to $109.40, the largest sum ever collected from this source. From this sum the following appropriations were made:

For Scholarship at Osaka, Japan.....	$25 00
For General Missions.....	2 30
For Parish House at Tokio, Japan.....	50 00
For Dr. Langford.....	50 00

With the exception of the Indian and Foreign Departments, there has been a most gratifying increase in the different branches of work, the total receipts this year being $7,381.12, a gain of over $1,000 over last year.

In the coming year, may we be stimulated to increased energy and hearty zeal in discharging the duties laid upon us.

Respectfully submitted,

ISABEL TWEEDY,
Sec. and Treas. N. J. B. W. A.

The Assistant Secretary called the names of the Clergy and of the Lay Deputies not present yesterday. The minutes of the preceding day were read, corrected and proved.

The election of the Standing Committee being in order, the Bishop appointed the Rev. Messrs. Lamb and Lighthipe tellers for the Clerical vote; Mr. Shubrick and Dr. Greene for the Lay vote.

It being in order to elect one member for each of the four Trustee Boards, to serve for three years, Mr. McRee Swift was nominated as Trustee of the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund, and of the Widows and Orphans of Clergy Fund, for three years; and Mr. J. Mr. James Parker offered the following resolution, which, upon motion, was referred to the Committee on Rules of Order :

Resolved, That the Committee on Rules of Order be directed to formulate a rule for voting by ballot, whereby all the various officers to be elected the second day may be voted for on one ballot ; and that blank printed ballots, specifying these different offices, be prepared in advance by the Secretary for distribution.

The report of the Committee on Constitution and Canons was then made, which, with the action of the Convention upon the several recommendations of the Committee, is as follows :

Resolved, That the Report on the Formation of New Parishes and the accompanying Canon be printed, and a copy sent to each clergyman of the Diocese, to each Deputy to the Diocesan Convention, and to the Wardens of each parish and mission station.

This resolution was adopted, and so action upon the proposed amendment was postponed till the next Convention.

4th. With reference to the proposed amendment to Title II, Canon II, Secs. 2 and 3, offered by the Rev. Mr. Perkins (p. 30 of Journal), the Committee recommend its adoption.

A minority report opposed to the amendment was substituted for the majority report and adopted by the Convention, thus leaving the Canon unchanged.

The Convention then took a recess until 3.00 p. m.

The Rev. A. B. Baker read the following report on the subject of ANNUITIES TO THE CLERGY.

The Committee to whom was referred so much of the Bishop's Address of last year as relates to the granting of annuities to the aged clergy who have been canonically resident in the Diocese for a certain term of years, would report that they have considered the twofold question of the possibility and expediency of granting such annuities from the "Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund." With respect to the possibility of using the Fund for this purpose, the Committee would report that the Convention has from time to time exercised its undoubted right to designate the persons to whom, and the terms on which, the income of the Fund should be distributed.

This will appear from a brief review of the history of the Fund, the main facts of which are as follows: The Fund was established by resolution of the Convention in 1846, and it was to be appropriated at the discretion of the Trustees—then the Trustees of the Offerings of the Church. The specific terms were for the relief of any infirm or disabled clergymen who may be in the Diocese. In 1870 a Canon was passed which placed the distribution of the Fund in the hands of the Bishop and the Standing Committee. In 1874 a Canon was enacted imposing conditions upon the beneficiaries of the Fund and restricting its appropriations to those who complied with these conditions (Journal 1874, p. 58). The undivided Fund at this time amounted to $11,224.73, collected under the unrestricted terms of the resolution and Canons. In 1878 another Canon was adopted, which is substantially the same as that now in force.

The additions to the Fund have been made not only by collections, but by gifts and bequests. In 1880 Miss Esther B. Stevens gave Bishop Scarborough $8,090 for the Fund (see Treasurer's Report, Journal 1880). In 1881 the Fund was increased by a legacy from the estate of the late S. V. Hoffman, and in 1885 it was still further enlarged by the legacy of Mrs. Louisa S. Vought. All these bequests and the gift made to the Bishop have passed into the hands of the Trustees of the Fund.

The Convention has from time to time made changes in the Canons regulating the distribution of the Fund, and the Chancellor of the Diocese has decided that the Convention has power to modify the terms of the Canon now in force. Within this power rests undoubtedly the right to use the Fund for aged as well as disabled clergy of the Diocese. And your Committee is of the opinion that the Convention would have the right to direct that the income of the Fund should be distributed to aged clergy in the form of annuities as well as in the form of special appropriations to their relief. But your Committee think that this right should be exercised with caution. They are of opinion that the annuitants should have attained at least the age of sixty-five years; that they should have done service in the Diocese for at least ten years; that they should have taken the required collections for the Fund, and have complied with any other terms which the Convention, after mature deliberation, may impose in the Canon.

The Committee would further report that they consider it highly desirable that annuities should be granted to aged clergy whenever, in the opinion of the Convention, the Fund is large enough to stand the strain. It is our first duty, enforced alike by justice and charity, to make adequate provision for the veteran clergy, whose scant salaries, often shared with the poor and needy of Christ's Flock, have rendered it impossible for them to provide for their declining years.

And they may justly claim such help as we can give as their right, and not as a charitable dole obtained only enforced and humiliating solicitation. But your Committee are of the opinion that there should be a considerable enlargement of the Fund before annuities can be safely granted. And they commend it to the Laity of the Diocese, trusting that such enlargement may soon be made by collections and bequests. Prudence would dictate, perhaps, that we should wait before moving in the matter till the vested Funds shall amount to $75,000. But if the annual collections from parishes were sufficiently increased, there would be no necessity for delay.

ALFRED B. BAKER,
J. F. GARRISON,
C. M. PERKINS.

On motion of Dr. Glazebrook, it was Resolved, That the thanks of the Convention be extended to the Assistant Rector, Committee of Arrangements, the Congregation of St. Mary's Church, the Burlington Club, the Citizens of Burlington, and the Ladies particularly, for the generous hospitality extended at this meeting of Convention.

The Rev. E. M. Rodman made the following REPORT UPON THE MARRIAGE LICENSE LAW, and, upon his motion, the Committee was discharged :

The Committee on Marriage License Law respectfully reports that the Committee appointed by the Convention of the Diocese of Newark, having declined to take any further steps with us to secure the desired amendment of the statute of the State, and finding very little interest taken in the matter in our Diocese after having failed in our last effort to obtain favorable action from the Legislature, we have thought it best to suspend operations, and to ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the matter.

E. M. RODMAN,
OTIS A. GLAZEBROOK.

BURLINGTON, N. J., May 6, 1890.

The Assistant Secretary read a communication from the Secretary of the House of Deputies of the General Convention upon the subject of the Fund for Aged and Infirm Clergymen, which was ordered to be printed in the Journal.*

The minutes of this day's proceedings were read, corrected and approved.

The Bishop addressed the Convention, said the closing Prayers, and pronounced the Benediction.

The Convention then adjourned sine die.

NOTE.

The Canons provide that every clergyman in charge of a parish shall make yearly report in the terms of the schedule sent out by the Bishop for the purpose; that if the parish be without a minister, this shall be done by one of the wardens; and that "in case a proper report be not made according to the Canons of the General Convention on this subject, by the minister or other proper authority of any Parish, it shall be the duty of the Bishop to cause enquiry to be made into the condition of such Parish."

The General Canon further directs that "every clergyman not regularly settled in any Parish or Church shall also report the occasional services he may have performed; and if he have performed no such services, the causes or reasons which have prevented the same."

A list of the Parishes, Mission Stations and Clergymen not reporting will be found immediately after the reports that make up Appendix No. 1.

Appendix

The following portions of the Parochial, Missionary and Clerical Reports, made to the Bishop of the Diocese, are published by his direction, in accordance with Title I, Canon XVII, of the Digest of the General Convention, and Title II, Canon I, of this Diocese :

Floating debt, $510.00. Amount of indebtedness on rectory, $2,000.00.

As the present Rector has been in charge less than a month, the above report is necessarily not perfectly accurate. The time for the Bishop's annual visitation occurred while the Parish was without a Rector, so that there are no confirmations to record.

Last year the Sunday School gave the offering for Domestic Missions mentioned in the report of 1889; this year they appropriated this money to the Clergymen's Retiring Fund Society. The total amount of their offerings is given without specifying the individual gifts.

It should also be added that during the past winter boxes and work to the value of over $225, have been quietly prepared, and sent to Missionaries and those in need.

A set of white hangings has been embroidered and given by them. A very handsome stole has also been given. The year has been one of substantial growth, more pews are rented than last year, congregations and offerings are decidedly larger, and an Endowment Fund has been started now amounting to $142.38. It is to accumulate in the hands of a trust company until it becomes $30,000. when the interest will be available. The young ladies and the Sunday School have raised $611.00 towards a Parish building. Two barrels of vegetables were sent to the Mt. Holly Hospital, and the indebtedness to the previous Treasurer of the Parish for advances kindly made by him has been paid in full, and the new year begins with a fair balance in the treasury.

The present Rector took charge of this parish in January last. It had been vacant for a number of months. The removal of the church building last year, from its site within the plain limits of the old parish, and on leased ground, to its present position, seemed a necessary matter; but the effect was the loss of two or three families, who had been regular attendants, but found the distance of the present site too great; a loss which the parish could ill afford. But on the other hand the church building is on its own ground, and in a part of the city toward which the growth is tending; and there is little doubt that in time a flourishing parish will be built up. The parish having no rectory, and the rents in the town being high, with a scarcity of houses to let, the present Rector is unable to live in the parish,—a matter of deep regret to him and of detriment to the parish. But the present arrangement seems to be the best that can be made under the circumstances, as it is better for the parish to have a definite head than to be dependent upon the services of a different clergyman each Sunday.

The storm of the second week in September, 1889, was a West India cyclone, which touched this coast at points north of the usual line of safety. The violence of the wind, which was blowing at the rate of 85 miles an hour, broke in the chancel-window, breaking iron rods more than a-quarter of an inch in diameter. The centre-piece (a circle, fourteen inches in diameter) though the ground work around it was broken up, fell six feet, knocked the brass cross from the re-table, and took its place, lying where the cross had stood. Though little thicker than ordinary window-glass, it did not receive the slightest injury.

CLERICAL REPORTS.

From Clergymen canonically resident, but having no cure in the Diocese, the following Reports have been received :

THE REV. FRANCIS D. CANFIELD :

I would respectfully report, that, during the Conventional year last past, I have been constantly engaged in my duties, assisting at Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia. *

THE REV. F. B. CHETWOOD :

During the past year I have continued to assist the General Secretary of the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society.

THE REV. W. R. EARLE :

In accordance with Canonical regulation, the undersigned herewith respectfully presents his thirty-third annual report. I have assisted in the Blessed Sacrament of Holy Eucharist twenty-one times, baptized one infant, preached fifteen times, and attended one funeral. Whole number of services in which I have been engaged during the past Conventional year, sixty-five.

THE REV. R. C. EVANS :

During the past Conventional year, I have officiated twice every month at one or more of the four Missions in Burlington county—Shedakers, Fairview, Riverside and Rancocas. Rev. P. W. Stryker will incorporate my missionary duties in his reports. I have also officiated, administered the Holy Communion, and assisted Rev. Dr. Tidball in the administration of the same, at St. Paul's Church, Camden. Two marriages were solemnized by me during the year.

THE REV. J. F. GARRISON, M.D., D.D., PROFESSOR OF LITURGICS AND CANON LAW IN THE DIVINITY SCHOOL, PHILADELPHIA:

My work for the past year has been mainly confined to the regular duties of my Chair in the Seminary.

The duties of the Chair of Homiletics and Pastoral Theology which were in my charge for the last two years have been transferred to the care of Dr. James who has been elected to take the place of Dr. Meier Smith, its last occupant.

I attended the session of the General Convention last October, as one of the Clerical Deputies from this Diocese.

In connection with the regular duties of my chair, I have given a partial course to my Senior Class, and at their request, on the character and comparative relations of the Chief Ethnic Religions, e. g., the great Hindu Religions, the Chinese, Mohamedan, etc.

This seemed to me advisable, both from the intrinsic importance of the subject, and because several of this class were deeply interested in the missionary work, and deserve to have whatever information they might obtain upon the several missionary fields in which they might be called to labor or to contemplate.

I have done considerable work in preaching and such other ministerial duties as I have been able to perform and have been called to do. But very constant ill-health has prevented me from doing so much in these lines, as I would otherwise have been very glad to do.

THE REV. LOUIS K. LEWIS:

Respectfully reports to his Diocesan, that during the past Convention year he has been working at St. Thomas' Church, Whitemarsh, and at St. Luke's Church, Germantown, in the Diocese of Pennsylvania, and that his official acts are duly entered in the registers of those parishes.

THE REV. JOHN RUTHERFORD MATTHEWS, CHAPLAIN, U. S. N.:

U. S. S. "Pensacola," at anchor off the Island of Ascension, April 2d, 1890.

SIR:—I have the honor to report, that for the year last past, I have been, and at present am, on duty on board this ship.

THE REV. WILLIAM MATTHIAS:

It has only occasionally been my privilege the past year to fulfil all the functions of my priestly office. I have continued Assistant to the Rector of the Church of St. Matthias, Philadelphia; and for six months, when the Rector was travelling in Bible lands, I was in entire charge of the parish other Clergymen preaching, except in August when I filled the pulpit. I also preached a few times for clergymen when they officiated at St. Matthias. Besides I married ten couples in Camden, N. J.

THE REV. WM. H. NEILSON, D. D.:

My Rectorship of St. Michael's Church, Trenton, which I had held for nearly sixteen years, closed June 1, 1889. My official acts during May, 1889, are doubtless included in the report from that parish. Since leaving Trenton I have been engaged in occasional ministerial work, assisting Rectors or supplying the pulpits of vacant parishes.

On June 23, 1889, at the request of the Bishop of Central Pennsylvania, I officiated in the churches of the Good Shepherd, Milford, and St. John, Dingman's Ferry, Pa. During July and September, I was in charge of the services at Christ Church, Brooklyn, L. I. On August 4th and 18th, October 6th and 13th, and November 3d and 17th, I assisted the Rector of St. John's Church, Far Rockaway, L. I., preaching on four occasions. On October 20th, I supplied the pulpit of St. Stephen's Church, Wilkesbarre, Pa., in the absence of the Rector. On November 23, 1889, I sailed for Europe, remaining abroad during the rest of the Conventional year. During that time, I assisted in the services and preached in various English and American churches. I made two addresses at meetings of the McAll Mission, in Paris. I also assisted in the service on one occasion in the English Embassy Church, in that city. I preached at one of the services of the British Seamen's Institute, in Genoa, Italy. I assisted, on February 2d, in the administration of the Lord's Supper at the English Church, in Naples, Italy. I assisted at the service in St. Paul's Church, Rome, Italy, on Ash Wednesday and on the first Sunday in Lent, on the latter occasion preaching. On March 2d, I preached and assisted in the administration of the Lord's Supper in St. James' Church, Florence, Italy. On the Sundays from March 30th to April 27th, inclusive, and also during Holy Week, I assisted the Rector of the American Church of St. John, Dresden, Germany, preaching on two occasions. I have thus from June 1, 1889 to May 1, 1890, officiated forty-one times, having preached twenty-three times, made two addresses, and administered (or assisted in the administration of) the Holy Communion fourteen times.

CONCORD, MASS., MAY 3, 1890.

DEAR SIR:—

I beg to communicate through you to the Convention of the Diocese of New Jersey the following resolutions adopted by the House of Deputies of the General Convention, October 24, 1889:

Resolved, That the Clergymen's Retiring Fund Society is heartily approved in its principles and methods, and is commended to the support of the Clergy and Laity of the Church.

Resolved, That every Diocese of this Church be asked to pass a Canon similar to that of the Diocese of Newark, on the subject of a Clergy Pension Fund.

Resolved, That the Secretary of this House be instructed to transmit these resolutions, together with copies of the report of the Clergymen's Retiring Fund Society, and of the aforesaid Canon of the Diocese of Newark, to the Convention of each Diocese.

Appended hereto you will find the Canon referred to in the foregoing resolutions.

I am, dear Sir,

Your obedient servant,

CHAS. L. HUTCHINS,

Secretary.

CANON.

Of the Fund for Aged and Infirm Clergymen:

SECTION 1. It shall be the duty of every Minister having charge of a congregation of this Diocese, to make at least one annual collection for the relief of Clergymen disabled by age or disease.

SEC. 2. All contributions and donations for this object shall be transmitted to the Treasurer of "The Trustees of the Fund for Aged and Infirm Clergymen."

SEC. 3. All collections and all donations not limited by the donor, received during the Conventional year, shall be subject to the order of "The Trustees of the Fund for Aged and Infirm Clergymen," and may be appropriated by said Trustees for the relief of Clergymen disabled by age, accident, or disease, who have been canonically connected with the Diocese for the two years immediately preceding their application for relief, and have spent at least two successive years within the limits of the Diocese in the active discharge of the duties of the Ministry, or in the work of Christian education. Clergymen to whom appropriations are made under this Section shall be known as "Special Annuitants," and shall not receive more than three hundred dollars in any one year.

SEC. 4. The Trustees shall have power to appropriate, from the collections received during the year, a sum not exceeding seventy-five dollars towards defraying the funeral expenses of any Clergyman of the Church.

SEC. 5. All appropriations (unless otherwise ordered) shall be payable semi-annually, on the first day of May and November, and all moneys unappropriated at the end of each Conventional year shall be paid into a fund, which shall be known as the "Permanent Fund," and shall be kept safely invested. The interest accruing on the existing capital fund, now in the hands of the Treasurer of the Convention, shall be permitted to accumulate. All accumulations shall be safely invested by the Trustees of the Fund for Aged and Infirm Clergymen, and added to the Permanent Fund until the same shall, with the existing capital fund, reach the sum of thirty thousand dollars.

SEC. 6. All legacies and all donations limited by the donor, paid to the Trustees, shall be used and applied by them agreeably to the terms and provisions under which the money is received; and when not otherwise directed by the donor, the legacy or donation shall be added to the "Permanent Fund," and the income thereof alone used.

As soon as said Funds shall together reach the sum of thirty thousand dollars, the Trustees shall grant an annuity to every Clergyman who (1) has reached the age of sixty-five years, and (2) has been canonically connected with the Diocese for the five years immediately preceding his application for an annuity, and (3) has been for at least five years of his last term of canonical residence a settled Minister of the Diocese, or a Missionary duly appointed by the Ecclesiastical Authority.

The interest received from said Funds shall be divided equally among the Clergymen entitled to receive an annuity under the terms and provisions of the previous paragraph of this Section, and if this interest shall not be sufficient to give to each Clergyman the sum of three hundred dollars, then the balance of collections and donations remaining after the "Special Annuitants" are provided for, shall be used to increase the annuity to said sum.

Clergymen receiving an annuity under this Section, which shall in no case exceed one thousand dollars, shall be known as "Regular Annuitants."

Each Convocation shall have a Rural Dean, a Secretary, Treasurer, and such other officers as its work may require; and shall make its own by-laws.

Sec. 3. Each Convocation shall have charge of all the Diocesan missions within its limits, and designate such new missionary work as may, with the approval of the Bishop, be undertaken by it. The Convocation shall have full management of its own funds; shall hold regular meetings at least three times a year; and at the first regular meeting after the Diocesan Convention in each year shall elect by ballot a Secretary, a Treasurer, and a Lay Delegate to the Board of Diocesan Missions, who shall serve for one year or until their successors are elected.

Sec. 4. The Rural Dean of each Convocation shall be appointed by the Bishop from three clergymen nominated to him by ballot of the Convocation. His term of office shall be for one year, and he shall be eligible for re-election. The duties of the Rural Dean shall be: to preside at meetings of the Convocation in the absence or at the request of the Bishop; to superintend all the missionary work within his district; to visit at least once a year all missions and parishes receiving missionary aid, and to visit all parishes, with the consent of their respective Rectors, in the interest of his work. He shall report annually, before the 15th of April, to the Diocesan Board, the condition, needs and progress of the missions in the Convocation, in detail; and the reports shall be forthwith printed, and a copy transmitted to the Rector of each parish, with request that the same be read to his congregation at service on the Sunday following its reception.

Sec. 5. The Diocesan Board of Missions shall consist of the Bishop, the Rural Deans, the Treasurers, and one Lay Delegate from each Convocation. The Board shall elect from among its own members a Secretary ; shall devise plans for increasing the interest and effectiveness of the work of Diocesan Missions, and for the collection of missionary funds ; shall make its own by-laws ; shall meet within two weeks before the Annual Convention, and shall recommend to the Annual Convention, when it is in session for the transaction of missionary business, the sum of money to be asked for from each Convocation for the work of Missions within its limits for the ensuing year. During such session the recommendations of the Diocesan Board of Missions shall be considered and acted upon, and such portions of the Rural Deans' reports as the Bishop may select shall be read.

TITLE V.

OF TRUSTEES OF DIOCESAN FUNDS OR PROPERTY AND MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS.

CANON I.

Election and Duties.

SECTION 1. The Trustees of every Diocesan Fund, or property, shall be elected by ballot, and shall be for the term specified in the Act of Incorporation.

SEC. 2. The Trustees of every fund, or property, shall keep a book of minutes as a record of their proceedings, and all their acts shall be entered in such book as soon as passed by them. These books, together with the accounts of the Trustees, shall always be subject to the inspection of the Bishop, and of the Standing Committee, if required.

SEC. 3. Each Board of Trustees shall present to each Annual Convention a detailed statement of the Fund in its possession, with the additions or changes made, so that the Convention may know of its trust funds; and they shall also exhibit the securities for inspection, when required by a committee appointed by Convention, or by the Standing Committee, if there be no special committee.

SEC. 4. The disbursement of the income of Trust Funds shall be as directed by Canon. And the same order shall apply to property held in trust for the Convention. [Journal of 1886, p. 127.]

CANON II.

Of the Fund for Aged and Infirm Clergy.

Sec. 1. An annual collection is recommended to be made on Thanksgiving Day, or on some Sunday near thereto, in every Parish and Mission in this Diocese, for the relief of clergymen disabled by age or disease. Such collections shall be forwarded, as soon as possible, to the Trustees of the Fund, and shall be applied by them as hereinafter provided.

Sec. 2. Ten per cent. of the amount received from collections, with any unappropriated funds, at the end of the conventional year shall be added to the principal of the Fund, and invested as principal. The interest on the principal of the Fund for Aged and Infirm Clergy, all special donations to the Fund in the conventional year, and the balance of the collections received from Parishes and Missions shall form the fund available for appropriations.

Sec. 3. The Trustees of the Fund shall make regular appropriations on the written order of the Standing Committee, furnished by the Secretary of the Committee. The Standing Committee shall order regular appropriations only upon the written recommendation of the Ecclesiastical authority of the Diocese. Those who shall be entitled to regular appropriations shall be clergymen of the Diocese who have been such for at least three years preceding their application, and have spent not less than two years in the active discharge of the duties of the ministry within the limits of the Diocese, and have taken at least two consecutive annual collections for this Fund. A failure to take a collection will disable any clergyman from being entitled to regular appropriations, until he shall again make himself entitled by two consecutive annual collections. If a clergyman entitled to regular appropriations ceases to hold a cure, he shall not lose his right to regular appropriations which he had while holding cure.

Sec. 4. The Trustees of the Fund shall make special appropriations from the available fund, if that fund has not been already exhausted by regular appropriations under Sec. 3, of this Canon, and provided further that the amount of all special appropriations shall not exceed thirty per cent. of the available fund in any one conventional year. When special appropriations are made they shall be as follows.—(1) The Trustees shall pay upon the written order of the Ecclesiastical authority of the Diocese, a sum not exceeding seventy-five dollars toward defraying the funeral expenses of any clergyman belonging to the Diocese. (2) They shall make a special appropriation when such appropriation has been ordered by three-fourths of the members of the Standing Committee, at a regular meeting of said Committee. The Standing Committee shall order special appropriations only in cases of very urgent and special need upon the written recommendation of the Ecclesiastical authority of the Diocese in behalf of those who do not come within the previous conditions of this canon; and only clergymen who have been connected with the Diocese not less than two years and have been engaged in clerical work approved by the Ecclesiastical authority during that time, shall be considered eligible for special appropriations.

Sec. 5. All regular appropriations shall be payable semi-annually, unless otherwise ordered. The Trustees of the Fund shall report to each regular meeting of the Standing Committee the amount of the available fund in their possession, and at the meeting before the annual Convention, they shall exhibit to the Committee a complete statement of the Fund, with all additions and investments connected with the Fund, together with the individual receipts, and the expenditures during the year. And they shall present the complete statement to each annual Convention of the Diocese, for such disposition as the Convention may direct.

TO THE

ONE HUNDRED AND SIXTH

ANNUAL CONVENTION

IN ST. MARY'S CHURCH, BURLINGTON,

BY

BISHOP OF THE DIOCESE.

TOGETHER WITH OFFICIAL ACTS AND NOTIFICATIONS,

And the Reports of the Archdeacons.

SIXTEENTH ANNUAL ADDRESS

OF THE

Rt. Rev. John Scarborough, D.D.,

BISHOP OF THE DIOCESE.

BRETHREN OF THE CLERGY AND LAITY:

Once again we are privileged to meet, under the protecting care of a good Providence, to consult together for the best interests of the Diocese. We miss the presence and kindly greeting of the Rector of this venerable parish, who is still detained away by prolonged and serious illness. Many prayers go up for him, not merely in his own parish, and from his own people, but in the larger constituency and wider field of his office as Archdeacon of Burlington.

Before entering upon the consideration of topics that specially concern our own work, it may not be amiss to call your attention, at the very outset, to some of the results attained by the Chief Council of the Church, which met in St. George's, New York City, last October. That was the most noticeable event of the year, and attracted the widest attention.

The place of meeting was itself an object-lesson, and a witness to the Church's renewed life, and changed methods of working. A few years ago St. George's Church was thought to have outlived its usefulness, and removal seemed inevitable—following the tide of wealthy and well-to-do people up town—and following too, alas! the sad example of other city parishes. Only a little handful of worshippers attended its ministrations. But now all that is changed. Instead of the two services on The Lord's Day, and a monthly communion, there are frequent services and communions. The Church is free, and its work is mainly among the dense mass of people that live in the very neighborhood. The noble parish house adjoining the Church affords a home for the guilds and societies, as well as a place for healthful recreation for the young and the old of both sexes. And now the great Church is thronged three or four times on Sunday. The free-will offerings of the people have grown to large proportions. The Rector and his assistants are busy almost night and day, and the parish is one of the grandest missions in the great city. Last Easter, it is said, nine hundred communicated at an early hour, and during the day well nigh three thousand partook of the Blessed Sacrament! I do not know a more striking illustration of the changed life and methods of the Church in doing her work; and I do not know a better argument than this great city parish, contrasted with its former self, for a wise adaptation of the Church's methods to the needs of the times, and to the new conditions that surround her. Many a deputy carried home with him, an inspiration from the environments of the Convention, that will be helpful in his distant field of labor. The Church that can so adapt herself to the needs of all sorts and conditions of men, without compromising her doctrine or violating her law, surely deserves to be called "Catholic," in the broadest meaning of the word! The General Convention is fast becoming such an unwieldy body that legislation is more and more difficult. But this is not an unmixed evil. Over-legislation, both in Church Councils and State Legislatures, is a danger, and often works more harm than good. Some form of a Provincial system will be adopted in the future, though as yet no plan suggested has commended itself to the Church. Indeed many think we should lose much by giving up our great triennial gathering and meeting in sections here and there. Hitherto it has been a great thing for the unity and peace of the church that her representatives from every Diocese and Missionary Jurisdiction thus met in Council once in three years. It has been a great cementing power in the past, and a change, if it come at all, will come after most careful deliberation. Among the best results of the late meeting, I place the closing up of Prayer Book revision, a work which has occupied the thought of the Church now for some years. The fears of those who predicted evil results, and cried out against the danger of any change in the Liturgy have not been realized, and the hopes of those who longed for radical changes have been disappointed. The Church has proved how thoroughly conservative and wisely liberal she can be. Every attempt to change or modify her system of doctrine, was sternly frowned upon, but she was not foolishly wedded to the past in things not essential. There is flexibility for those who desire it, and there is the old familiar service, practically unchanged, for those who prefer it.

The whole matter has been so long before the Church, and done with such deliberation, a piece at a time, that it is hardly to be wondered at, if here and there among the Clergy even, there should be some uncertainty as to just what may and what may not be done lawfully. But a standard Prayer Book will be issued, soon after the General Convention of 1892, which will be a fixed and settled authority, and will set all doubts at rest. The few changes yet before the Church to be acted on, will require little time. And when they are either ratified or defeated, my hope is, that, in our day at least, the Prayer Book will not be touched again. It has been so long now in a state of flux, that the patience of the Church has been sorely tried, and liberties have been taken sometimes which had no shadow of authority. A settled standard will be a boon. Some things have been done, and some left undone, which will cause regret; but, on the whole I think the result will be most satisfactory to the great body of the Clergy and Laity. The movement has been a wonderful educator, and the subject of Liturgics is better understood, and more widely studied than ever before in our history as a Church. In all the changes and abbreviations made, there has been no diminishing of the Holy Scriptures in any office. This is cause for devout thankfulness. The two Lessons and the Psalter are a part of Morning and Evening Prayer, whenever they are said.

Where so much liberty is granted, there will be no excuse for lawlessness in rendering the service of the Church. Next to the closing of Prayer Book revision, the most marked feature of the Convention was the prominence given to the missionary interests of the Church at home and abroad. Two of the Missionary Jurisdictions—Colorado and Oregon—were admitted as Dioceses, fully endowed; and Nebraska was permitted to set off a large portion of its territory as the Jurisdiction of the Platte. Missouri was divided into two Dioceses, while the petition of Southern California for independence was deferred by the House of Bishops only for a brief season. There was deep regret that a Bishop was not chosen and sent to Alaska. That is the only Territory that is without Episcopal supervision. It is filling up with a steady flow of in-coming population; and the Indians, who came to us with the land, are peaceful and tractable. The Greek Church retains her hold there still; and other Christian bodies are entering in to possess the land. It might indeed be lonely for a Bishop, with few helpers and long journeyings; but he should be sent first to lay foundations and carefully map out the work. I am glad to know that the Board of Managers has lately passed a unanimous vote requesting the House of Bishops, at the Missionary Council next Autumn, to choose and consecrate a Bishop for Alaska. The names of new Bishops added to the list every year crowd their predecessors with rapid pace toward the top, while the vacancies made by death hasten the process. My fifteen years of service find me in the ranks of the elders, and past the middle of the line. Some of the Bishops recently consecrated I count among my friends of many years; and one who is now waiting for the confirmation of his election to the Diocese of California grew up as a lad under my pastoral care. I cannot help feeling a little fatherly pride in his career, while I admire, beyond the power of words to express it, his manly courage and self-forgetting in leaving one of the choicest places to go at the bidding of the Church to a distant and difficult field of labor. I am sure a blessing will go with him. That great Diocese will spring into newness of life under his wise guidance, and the declining years of its venerable Bishop will be brightened and smoothed by the helpful labors of one so gentle and loving as his assistant will be. Only one Bishop has been called hence since our last meeting. On his way to the General Convention, Bishop Vail, of Kansas, was stricken down, and died at the house of a friend in Germantown. He was a man of gentle, loving spirit, and so won the love of others. I never heard him speak a disparaging word of any one, either in the heat of debate or in private conversation. He has left a noble monument behind him in the schools and hospitals which he founded in his Diocese. Once he came to my house, when I was the rector of a large parish, weary and disheartened. He had been East to raise money to complete the building of the College at Topeka and had failed. Through the noble generosity of a layman I was able to supply the lack. "Holmes Hall," and many a gift beside, was the outcome of that visit. He was most grateful for this help; and we rarely met that he did not refer to it, and renew his thanks over and over again with sincere heartiness. He was a wise master-builder, and made few mistakes.

Scholars the world over, of every creed and name, have joined with Churchmen in paying tribute to Bishop Lightfoot, of Durham. He was as modest as he was great. He had few if any peers as a scholar. He was pre-eminently a good man, and full of the Holy Ghost and of faith. I am glad it was my great privilege to meet and know him in his social life, for there the beauty and sweetness of his character were most clearly seen.

Bishop Parry, of Dover, too, though not so widely known, will be missed from the ranks of the English Episcopate. Practically, he ministered the great Diocese of Canterbury as suffragan of the Archbishop. His home was the centre of the most courteous hospitality to many other Bishops besides myself at both the Lambeth Conferences which I attended. Such men are the best types of our race; and, as they are our kin, we have a right to rejoice in their greatness and goodness. They belong to the whole Church, though they are the product of English training and culture.

In our narrower sphere, we, too, have had our losses. On the 21st of October last the Rev. Charles L. Sykes died at his home in Scotch Plains. He had been the missionary there a good while, but on account of continued ill-health had given up all active work. I would most gladly have aided him from "the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund" as one who, from long and faithful service in the Diocese, was entitled to generous help; but, unfortunately, he had neglected to take the collections required by the Canon, and was therefore ineligible. The Standing Committee simply did their duty as the stewards of a sacred trust; and are to be commended, not blamed. I should be sorry to see this feature of the Canon changed, though possibly some modification might be made to meet exceptional cases of hardship. I was able to help Mr. Sykes in some small degree from the Trust Fund in my hands, and if this were increased by individual gifts or parochial offerings, I would be able to meet all just calls of a special nature, and thus leave the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund to those who are lawfully entitled to it. The Clergy are sometimes charged with being careless in managing their personal affairs. Whether this be so or not, it is certainly not a little extraordinary that of those canonically resident in this Diocese not more than one-half are entitled to a penny from this large and growing fund, if disabled by sickness or old age. The disability is allowed to continue year after year when a dime or a dollar, in two consecutive annual payments, would remove it. In my last Convention address I took special pains to point out and emphasize certain benefits that are within reach of the Clergy—for themselves or their families; but, so far as I know, not one has availed himself of these benefits during the year. It is hardly worth while to go over the ground again!

The Rev. Harry McDowell had accepted the rectorship of Trinity Church, Asbury Park, and was on the ground to begin his duties when he was suddenly stricken down with the prevailing influenza, and died after a few days of illness. Though not canonically resident in the Diocese, he had been laboring in it for months. He was called away from his earthly work very young, and it is hard to understand the Providence which cut short a ministry so full of promise at its very outset. But God knows best.

In the death of Abraham Browning, a prominent figure has disappeared from public life in New Jersey. For well nigh two generations he has been closely identified with the growth and progress of the Church in this State. For many years he was honored with a place on the Standing Committee, and he was several times chosen a Deputy to the General Convention, though his infirmity of deafness prevented him from attending its sessions. He stood at the very head of his profession, as a learned counsellor, and a skilful pleader in the civil courts, while at the same time he was a well-read and intelligent Churchman. He was always cautious, sure of his ground, and hence made very few mistakes. He was the personal friend of all the Bishops of New Jersey, and I gladly own my share of gratitude for a love and a loyalty that never changed or wavered through all the years I knew him. In the absence of his Rector, I said the prayers of the Church over his mortal part, and laid him to rest under the shadow of old St. Mary's Church, Colestown, where as a youth he had worshipped before his own parish, St. Paul's, Camden, was founded. He was not without his faults, but the greatness of the man seemed to dwarf and hide them out of sight!

His fellow-warden, Marmaduke B. Taylor, did not long survive him. He was for many years a member of this body, and though modest and unobtrusive, he was a man of sterling worth and highly esteemed in the community where he was best known. Rarely is a parish so afflicted in the loss of two such men, in so brief a period. Surely the Church that can nurture such sons is not without divine gifts and graces.

We have little to boast of in the way of church extension during the year. Two modest chapels of wood, one at Delair and the other at Maple-shade, a mission of Grace Church, Merchantville, and the enlargement of St. Paul's Chapel, Elizabeth, comprise the church-building of the year. Several Guild houses have been added, and improvements of various sorts, both inside and outside, have been made in existing churches, which I need not here enumerate. But the building of churches and chapels is not the only or the surest sign of growth. Indeed, too often experience has proved that the multiplication of weak churches is a mistaken policy. Sometimes a little hamlet, in the incipency of its development, is anxious for services, which it cannot support, or ambitious to build a place of worship far beyond its needs or means, not for the sake of the spiritual good it may bring to the community, but for the enhancing of real estate values, or a sign of material prosperity! And sometimes a new venture is the outcome of a parish quarrel—of contention and disagreement. A rivalry is thus instituted which divides rather than strengthens the Church, and is most unhealthful and deplorable in its results. Such a growth is but seeming and fallacious. Of course I know there is another side to this picture; that the strong parish may grow selfish, and frown upon any new venture, retarding the natural flow of church life into new channels, and holding in firm grasp more than it needs or ought to have. The spirit of congregationalism so pervades our parish system that often grand opportunities are lost to the Church. When the hive is uncomfortably full the bees swarm and set up for themselves! This is nature's law, and if we would literally copy it, we should find that "there is that scattereth and yet increaseth, and there is that withholdeth more than is meet, but it tendeth to poverty." But while our growth in wood and stone has not been large, I believe there has been solid and abiding growth in more important and better things. The communicant list grows every year, and is larger by nearly five thousand than it was fifteen years ago. The candidates for confirmation are more carefully prepared than ever before, and more numerous. Our charitable gifts to the various objects before the Church have largely increased, though I am sure our giving has not yet reached anything like our ability or our duty.

With this state of things to encourage us, I am at a loss to know why the contributions to our own mission work have not increased at all. The population of the Diocese advances steadily, and our roll of members is larger every year, and yet there has been no advance in gifts to our own special work. This may be accounted for in part by the pressure of parochial claims, or the carelessness of the clergy in not asking their people to contribute regularly to this object. There must be other reasons, though I am not able so much as to guess what they are, or suggest a remedy for a state of things that is not to our credit. Some of our large parishes are expending a good deal of money on missions in their own immediate neighborhoods, especially in cities, and it may be that the work is thus being done more efficiently than any board or convocation can do it. It is a very serious question, what to do with old places, where life has been stagnant for years, and there is little hope of revival. To close the door, and dissipate the labors of those who have gone before us, as well as break up many very precious associations, and seek more promising fields, may be a ready answer, and may be worldly wisdom; but I very much doubt whether it would bring us a blessing. An itinerant missionary, who could visit such places at stated times, and minister to the few faithful souls who would not be driven from their church, might spare the treasury; but I very much question whether a speedy death might not be more desirable than such a lingering dissolution!

The most marked signs of growth are to be found in the more earnest ministrations of the clergy, and the deeper reverence of the people, as well as in the multiplication of guilds and orders for the young, and in the building of parish houses, where the activities, and even the pastimes of the people may be gathered round the church. I can recall the time when two services on the Lord's Day met satisfactorily all the demands of a parish; and the clergy thought of nothing beyond this as a part of their bounden duty. But times have changed, and a well-ordered, working parish needs other instrumentalities besides the four walls of the church. The danger is that the social side of life may be unduly magnified, at the expense of better things. The temptation is always to run to extremes. The gymnasium, or the evening entertainment, may become more attractive than the quiet hour of worship, and so hinder rather than help the work of the soul. Watchfulness and good sense will correct any faults and retain only such features as may be helpful in developing and strengthening the Christian life. There is a genuine and large-hearted liberty in the Church of to-day which is willing to adopt and use any agency that may be lawfully employed for the moulding and shaping of individual character after a godly pattern. Why should it be left to the saloon to offer the young man a bright room, a warm fire and a welcome, on the coldest night that blows? Surely the Church is wise in her efforts to counteract the evil, and do as much, to show and prove her interest!

In noting events of the year that seem worthy of special mention, I can not pass by the re-publication of a volume of Early Journals covering the ground between the years 1785 and 1816. This will be a boon to many who had no means of reaching the early history of the Church in New Jersey. Mr. James Parker, of St. Peter's Church, Perth Amboy, has earned the gratitude of his fellow-churchmen everywhere for having carried the effort, at his own risk, to a successful issue. The work is well done. An appendix of original matter is added, which is worth more than the price of the whole volume. It gives full and satisfactory information on many points that can not be found in convenient form elsewhere. I have been greatly edified in its study, and cheered in the discouragements of mission work, because I find history repeating itself. Some of our very strongest parishes were in that day struggling for existence—often vacant for months, and then revived again, only to pass once more under the cloud! Verily “the thing that hath been is that which shall be, and there is no new thing under the sun.” Coming generations may be privileged to read the struggles of some feeble mission that now claims the fostering care of the Church, just as we turn to the history of St. John’s, Elizabeth, or St. Mary’s, Burlington, with feelings of gratitude to Him “who hath made of the little one a thousand, and of the small one a strong nation.” I hope there are Churchmen in the Diocese who will see to it that the generous layman who made this venture does not lose by it. It is a most valuable contribution to the history of the American Church, and though it is mostly a record of struggle and trials, it is a most honorable record. Those spiritual forefathers of ours often sowed in tears, that we might know the joy of the harvest. They laid the foundations of a wise conservatism, which has continued to this day the prevailing type of churchmanship in New Jersey. Every parish ought to have a copy of this book in its archives, and every family might very well have one among its treasures.

Hitherto there has been little effort made on the part of our Church in this Diocese to reach the colored population, resident in and near its large cities. Formerly there was a feeble mission at Macedonia, near Eatontown, but it gradually died out, and the chapel is now used as a school-house. For some time past the Rev. Mr. Townsend, of St. John’s, Camden, has had a most prosperous mission in that city, where the colored people are very numerous. It is named after the great Bishop of Hippo, St. Augustine, and its rapid growth has been both a revelation and a surprise to me. During the past year I confirmed forty-two in that modest chapel, and I venture to say the service was as reverent and hearty as any in the Diocese. If the work continues to grow and prosper, as it bids fair to do, I can see new responsibilities in it for the city and the Diocese. Why should we leave the colored people to the care of other Christian bodies? Liturgic worship and a well-ordered ritual are just suited to their temperament. And why should we send our money to the South to build churches and chapels when we have the same work at our own doors, and are leaving it undone? Clearly this work will soon outgrow the ability of a struggling parish to carry it on, and the question will force itself upon us: What are we going to do with that long list of communicants who have cast in their lot with us? We dare not leave them unshepherded, and we will not drive them into schism by cold neglect! We can solve the race problem very glibly for South Carolina and Georgia. Can we solve it for New Jersey? It may be said that in the Church of Christ there should be no distinction of race or color; that all should meet together and be one in the assembly of God's people, as well as one in hope and doctrine. But those most competent to judge are agreed that a separate place of worship is best for all interests. The colored folk will not attend where they are, perhaps, not made welcome, or feel themselves to be intruders. They prefer to worship by themselves, separate and apart from their white brethren. It may be that God is opening up for us here a new field for our missionary energy, to quicken and excite our enthusiasm. I dare say other cities might follow the example of Camden and organize missions for this neglected class—neglected certainly in our ministrations. They will be quick to respond to any effort, and will gladly take the hand outstretched.

Those who hoped for a speedy and favorable response to the manifesto of the House of Bishops touching Christian unity have been disappointed. While organized bodies are slow to act, there are not wanting signs and proofs that in individual cases the leaven has been working secretly. There is on the part of many devout and earnest persons evident dissatisfaction with existing theological systems, and metaphysical definitions which belong to an age that is past and gone, are felt to be unsuited to the present time. There is a great upheaval and shaking of foundations in certain quarters which betoken unrest, so that men's minds are more and more turned to the few simple but sufficient truths of the Apostles' Creed. It will take long years to uproot prejudices and make the disciples all of one heart and one mind, either in doctrine or polity.

Having stated the Church's ground fairly and fully, our strength now perhaps is to sit still. Any attempt at superficial unity—any sporadic or irregular efforts to make that seem, which all men know does not exist, can result only in harm, and must hurt rather than help the cause. It will be, if accomplished at all, rather a work of education than of sentiment, a calm setting forth of historic facts, and an appeal to the sober judgment of men who see and know and feel in their hearts that separation is a waste and a sin, and desire to find some remedy for it. An old sore heals with difficulty, and requires time and patience, as well as great skill, in its treatment.

When I hear of the newer Dioceses having their homes and hospitals, I wonder more and more that this old Diocese is wholly without institutions of mercy and charity; and yet I am convinced that the more closely our parishes unite in a common effort, the more our congregationalism will vanish away and our strength develope. I should be glad to see St. Mary's Hall a Diocesan School in something more than a name. I am glad that it is growing in the affections of our own people every year. The class that graduated last year were all New Jersey girls, and so is the class of this, with one exception. This is a hopeful sign. Thank God, the heavy load of debt that has weighed upon the school all through my Episcopate, is at last removed, and it is now for the first time in all these years able to pursue its work free and untrammelled. The Trustees have recently granted to every clergyman of the Diocese the right to nominate one pupil at half rates. Some have already availed themselves of this offer, and all may. It is hoped thus to give the clergy personal knowledge of the Hall and its methods, and so to bring them into closer sympathy with it. For more than half a century—a long time as things go in this world of changes and chances—this school has been doing its blessed work, faithfully though noiselessly, and it is just now, I am quite sure, entering upon a new era of prosperity. I appeal to the clergy and laity of our own Diocese to make it more and more their own, by generous patronage. I have in my mind a scheme for uniting the interest and efforts of all our parishes and missions in a common work. It may be premature to broach it here and now, for I don't know whether it will commend itself or not. I once thought a Bishop's Church might be a cementing bond for the Diocese, but either I failed properly to present it, or the Diocese cares nothing about it. The proposal has drawn out but a feeble response, and excited no enthusiasm. If the plan I have in mind shall meet a like fate, so be it.

The close proximity of a boys' school and a girls' school has always been a worry to the authorities of both. The trustees have therefore determined not to renew the lease of Burlington College, which expires in a few months. They have offered the property for sale, but if purchased for a boys' school, I am sure the annoyances of the past will be multiplied, and we shall have no remedy. My plan is not to let that property pass out of the Church's control, but to purchase it for a Diocesan Home for orphan children. The trustees would name easy terms, if the property could be so utilized. Every parish in the Diocese would have a safe place to send their destitute orphans, where they would be sure of good care and training, under the influence of the Church. I should be glad to make even a modest beginning of such a work, for if once begun I am sure it would lack for nothing in the way of support and endowment.

The Woman's Auxiliary, which represents most of our parishes, would be glad to unite in such an effort, and that would ensure its success at once. I am every year more and more impressed with the possibilities of that organization for good. At its last annual meeting an amount of work and gifts was reported, which a few years ago would have been thought impossible. I am sure they would greatly increase their giving and doing, if they had some practical home-interest to increase their zeal. There are women not a few, who would give their lives as well as their means to such a charity, whether in community as deaconesses or sisters, or as individual workers, consecrated to the care of Christ's poor. I have no desire to add a new applicant for your charity, nor do I seek any formal endorsement. My sole aim is to test the practicability of the scheme, by craving criticism as well as favor for it, from those whose opinion would have great weight with me.

I have received a communication from the Bishop of Newark, accompanied by a letter from a layman who is widely known in both the dioceses of the State, asking the appointment of a committee to co-operate with a like committee in the Diocese of Newark, both to secure and prevent legislation that may affect the interests of the Church. The matter is one of very great importance. I called your attention to it last year, and I am strongly in favor of some such scheme as proposed. A request from such a quarter will receive the courteous attention it deserves. I herewith submit the letter for your consideration.

I also submit a communication from the Rev. Dr. Farrington, transferring to the custody of this Diocese a complete set of Journals. As I already have one set belonging to the Diocese in my custody, I wish to be instructed as to the proper disposition of Dr. Farrington's gift.

I will not trespass further on your time, as I do not deem it either necessary or important to lay before you the full details of the year's work. In all the years that I have gone in and out before you, I could not ask more than I have received of love and kindness from both clergy and laity. But once in all my journeyings have I realized the nearness of peril. I should be most ungrateful not to count up all these mercies which have been renewed to me day by day, and thank Him unfeignedly from whom cometh every good and perfect gift, and without whom nothing is strong, nothing is holy.

Commending you and your work to Him who alone maketh men to be of one mind in an house, let us in all we say and do strive to follow after the things which make for peace, and things wherewith one may edify another.

JOHN SCARBOROUGH, D.D.,

Bishop of New Jersey.

Reports of the Archdeacons.

—o—

ARCHDEACONRY OF NEW BRUNSWICK.

REPORT FOR 1889-90.

From the Reports of the Missionaries of the Archdeaconry, the following summary is made in reference to the work in the Mission field :

Number of families,	330
Number of Baptisms: adults, 25; infants, 65,	90
Number confirmed,	57
Number of communicants,	549
“ “ “ added during year,	64
“ “ services held during year,	1,280
Contributions for year,	$5,214 88
Sunday School Teachers,	78
“ “ Scholars,	664

Generally the Brethren speak encouragingly of the work to which they faithfully address themselves. I give a few extracts from their reports.

At St. Paul's, Bound Brook: “Mr. H. G. Sharpley of the General Seminary has officiated as Lay Reader since December, most acceptably. This arrangement has enabled the Mission to have the Morning Service, and increased the attendance. Considerable work has been done on the Church, and a few hundred dollars would now complete it. Miss C. J. Allyn, a member of the Congregation, has kindly finished the Sunday School room at her own expense.”

At St. James', Piscataway: "In addition to the contributions, St. James' has received the interest on a bond to the amount of $120.00. The Sunday School is in flourishing condition, and the work done in it is the best indication of the life still remaining in the parish."

Of the Mission at South River the report says: "So far as numbers are concerned, the Sunday School is the most flourishing part of our work." Herein is promise for the future of the Mission.

At Rocky Hill the Missionary states, that "by a Garden Fair held last year, $120.00 were raised by the faithful ladies of this little Church; soon a porch will be erected in the front over the entrance, which will greatly improve the appearance of the church."

The report from Scotch Plains and Murray Hill brings the pleasing word that "the work at both Missions is most encouraging."

The Rev. Harris C. Rush has resigned the Mission at Toms River, and is now at Salem, N. Y. Fortunately for the immediate interests of the work there, a clergyman, the Rev. R. Lester Morgan, has been secured, and is now in charge.

During the year, I have ventured to address my Brethren of the Clergy, in two letters bearing upon subjects of importance in relation to the Mission work, one in advocacy of the Pledge System, in the matter of securing the money necessary to aid those who are bravely doing their work, which, while to them a work of pleasure, is, confessedly, one of difficulty.

They have of course, our personal sympathy. They should have the substantial pecuniary help for which we appeal to our congregations.

That help can be largely increased by the adoption in every parish of this system, every member, in every Church, laying by in store, weekly or monthly, a fixed sum, which, gathered at stated times by the Rectors, would be of great avail in the stronger support of the Missionaries already engaged, and in the procuring of others for new fields.

The other letter was sent with the desire to be of service to the Bishop in his effort to build churches in mission localities, towards which desirable purpose he has asked the co-operation of the Sunday Schools.

During the Lenten season, the children of the Church at large, have, for the last few years, manifested a noble spirit of generosity in the matter of contributing to the funds for Missionary purposes in the Missionary jurisdictions, thus greatly aiding the efforts of the General Board of Managers to extend the ministrations of the Church we love, to those who are in spiritual need. All honor to these young lives, consecrated in Holy Baptism, to serve the Lord Christ.

May we not ask with confidence, that they be given the opportunity to show the like spirit, and do the like deed, in the smaller field of our own Diocese, to aid our Right Reverend Father in God to erect the needed churches in places which promise success?

The four Sundays in Advent are suggested by him as a suitable time for such offerings from the Sunday Schools. I commend the subject to my Brethren. Will they not see to it that all the Sunday Schools of the Archdeaconry be enrolled in the prosecution of this good work?

THOMAS H. CULLEN, Archdeacon.
